Early Mailing Urged By Local Postmaster

Stressing the need for everyone to cooperate on his 1961 "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign, Postmaster R. J. Dryden said today, "Early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts is the biggest single factor in getting everything delivered before Christmas."

Naturally, the postoffice department plans to expand its facilities and to provide extra help during the Christmas rush, but in the final analysis, if you'll follow these three simple rules, you can be certain not to disappoint friends and loved ones on Christmas Day: Wrap your Christmas gifts securely; be sure they are addressed clearly and correctly; and mail all your gifts and cards early.

Dryden said further, "I hate to see folks take chances on mailing poorly wrapped packages. Despite careful handling every year, too many packages break open in transit and too often we have to puzzle over names and addresses which are incomplete or simply cannot be read at all."

"If you have any articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the Post Office before attempting to mail them," the Postmaster warns. The limits on size and weight of packages varies, depending on where you mail your package from. As an extra precaution against loss, Dryden advised placing both your return address and the recipients address inside the carton or package before it is wrapped.

Annual Meeting of Elevator Co-op Is Attended by 200

Otto Rupprecht Elected to Board of Directors to Succeed L. Philipp

Approximately 200 shareholders in the Farmers Cooperative Grain and Seed association of Thief River Falls were given information on the operation of their cooperative at the annual meeting held Saturday in the basement meeting room of the municipal auditorium in this city.

Otto Rupprecht of rural Thief River Falls was elected to a three-year term as director to succeed Lawrence Philip, who declined reelection to a second term. Bernard Myers was reelected to his second three-year term.

All officers were reelected at a reorganization meeting of the board following the stockholders meeting. They include Odin Hanson, president; Lloyd R. Johnson, vice president; and Roy Wiseth, secretary-treasurer.

Total assets of the cooperative at the end of the fiscal year ending June 1 were $568,827 with capital equitites totaling $359,044. The association handled a volume of 1,219,079 bushels of grain during the 12-month period and at the end of the year had inventories of $269,027. A total of $12,000 in stock was retired during the period in addition to $7,500 in annual retirements.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Ray Anderson, field supervisor for the Farmers Union Grain Terminal association in North Dakota. Larry Martin, GTA fieldman for this area, reviewed the operating statement. Also present as GTA representatives were Fred Gronlinger and John Harris of Crookston. Door prizes were awarded, and lunch was served by the Silver Creek Farmers Union local at the close of the meeting.

Local Woman Elected to Three-year Term on the Board of State Group

Mrs. Inga Geving of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Norman Flagstad of Roseau were elected directors for three-year terms on the board of the Minnesota Horticultural Society when results of mail balloting were announced recently. The largest number of ballots cast in the 96-year history of the organization was noted this year and it was the first time northern Minnesota has been represented on the board.

Also elected to the executive board for a one-year term was John Barclay of Parkville. The new directors will officially take office on Jan. 1, 1962.

President of the Sow and Hoe Garden club in Thief River Falls, Mrs. Geving is also advisor for the 13th District Horticultural Society and a member of the state arboretum committee. Having served as vice-president and president of the Ninth District Horticultural Society she was instrumental in having the district divided into the 11th and 13th districts. For one year following the division she headed the 13th district group.

In 1961 Mrs. Geving was presented with the distinguished service award for outstanding work done in the two districts. She has helped organize garden clubs in the area, been active in community affairs and is an active member of Trinity Lutheran church.

Mrs. Flagstad is a past president of the Roseau Garden club and Ninth District Horticultural Society, an experienced exhibitor and certified flower arrangement judge and a recipient of the award of merit.

Oldsters Show Variety of Articles Made by Them Suitable for Yule Gifts

Trinity Lutheran church senior members, now known as the "Golden Years" group, held their regular monthly meeting at the church Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. Hymn singing, a short meditation on Psalm 104, a Norwegian solo by Mrs. Ole Hedalen, a Norwegian hymn by a group, greetings by Rev. R. A. Wangberg, and the showing of a film, "The Things That Count" made up the program.

Displayed were many articles made and brought by members. Special interest was given to two tables of articles suitable for Christmas gifts, displayed by Mrs. Inga Geving, Mrs. S. S. Nelson, and Mrs. J. Arthur Johnson. An added attraction was the presentation of two gifts, made and donated by Mrs. O. B. Gunderson, which were given to the oldest lady and the oldest man present. Recipients were Mrs. Clara Thompson, 89, who received an apron, and Cornelius Olen, 87, who received a pair of home-knit wool mittens.

Hostesses for the afternoon lunch were members of the Rebecca circle. Rides to and from the church were provided for those who needed them.

"It is a real thrill and joy to see the interest and enthusiasm which the senior members have in their organization. Their eagerness to come and share with one another their talents, fellowship, love and thankfulness, is a real inspiration," stated Rev. Harold R. Peterson, visitation pastor in charge of the group.

Launderette Adds More Equipment

Installs Twin Unit Dry Cleaning Apparatus

Recently installed and put into use at the King Koin Launderette in Thief River Falls is a twin unit dry cleaning machine, according to O. E. Taxeraas and John Keck, manager. The unit was first used Tuesday.

Resembling a large washer unit to a considerable extent, the machine uses a dry cleaning fluid, perchlorethylene, in the cleaning operations. Maximum load for each of the twin units in the machine is rated at 10 pounds, but that amount of bulky clothing cannot be cleaned since a tumbling process is necessary for proper cleaning, Keck said.

The new unit is housed in a 20 x 25 foot addition of the west side of the laundry at the rear of the Production Credit association office on West Second st. It will be available for use during regular laundry hours, 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily and 8:30 a. m. to 10 p. m. Sunday.

Pupils of the Thief River Falls Seventh-day Adventist church school did their part in helping make several families happy this Thanksgiving by contributing the canned foods to the Thanksgiving food baskets that were given to needy families.

Eddie Nelson has added a new department to his general store by annexing the building vacated by Wm. Warde. With the able assistants, Peter and Sylvester Kasprowicz the building was moved last week. A concrete floor was laid and the plumbing was done by Alf Gustafson. The addition will be used as a cream station. Due to an increasing demand for whole milk, many of the local dairy men now sell their milk. There are, however a large number of farmers who prefer to sell cream and make good use of the skim milk for feeding hogs and calves. By the opening of a local cream station these farmers will have the privilege of marketing their cream in their own home town.

The American Legion boys have been busy as bees the past week, remodeling their building. They are building a new recessed front and otherwise enlarging and redecorating the back rooms.

Now that the deer hunters are back at their regular routine we hear a lot of stories of how they missed and how far away they hit. The weather was perfect and the percentage of fill was the best of many a season. Talking to members of hunting parties, both large and small, there is an estimate of 80 per cent fill at least.

Prowler Quint to Face Ada Friday

A team that has been given pre-season rating as one of the top contenders for Region Eight basketball honors, coach Bill Brady's all-veteran Ada Vikings, will invade the Lincoln high school gymnasium on Friday night to open the Prowlers' 1961-62 cage schedule.

A 'B' game, starting at 6:45 P.M., will precede the varsity tilt, which is slated for 8:00 p.m.

In last season's game between the two clubs, which was played on the Ada court, coach Jack Junker's Prowlers rolled up a convincing 70-47 win, but all the Prowler starters in that game have been graduated, while all of the Ada players who saw action in the tilt are returning for this season's campaign.

Last season, coach Junker, in his first year here as cage coach, had a ready-made starting lineup available, with Eddie Lietzow and Gary Anderson at the guards, lanky Ron Hanson at center, and Don Ulferts and Harvey Ebbighausen at the forwards. This season the popular Prowler coach has been forced to revise the style of the Prowler attack and defense. Lacking the height advantage that last season's team possessed, this year's club will have to rely on speed and aggressiveness.

It is probable that coach Junker will select his starting lineup from the following players: forwards Paul Klungness, Gary Kelly or George Hankerson; centers, Elton Hornseth or Tommy Lindberg; and guards, Wayne Bjerken, John Aune, or Mike Aune.

Coach Brady of the Ada club will have available last season's starters — forwards Jim Hennen and Herb Hasz, center Bob Drevlow, and guards Don and Dean Bowyer, a sturdy all-round athlete, this past week was named to the all-state football squad selected by Ted Peterson of the Minneapolis Tribune sports staff. Given all-state honorable mention on that squad were Prowlers Gary Klungness and Elton Hornseth, Klungness as a halfback, and Hornseth as a lineman.

Damage to the Leiran car was estimated at $35, while damage to the Nystrom car was negligible. Nystrom was tagged for following another vehicle too closely.

At 1:40 a. m. today a car driven west on Sixth st. by Marvin D. Olson, city, struck a tree between Duluth and Knight avenues, causing an estimated $340 damages to the Olson car. Charges are pending in the case.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

The Basketball Opener

The Ada Vikings will be continuing their yearly competition with the Prowlers on Friday night when they meet coach Jack Junker's inexperienced squad on the Lincoln high school court. Since the 1951-52 season, the Vikings and the Prowlers have been playing annually, with the blue-and-gold holding an eight wins and two losses advantage during this span of years.

Ada and Thief River Falls began their basketball rivalry back in 1918-19 when the Prowlers, coached by George McConnell, defeated Ada, 40 to 17. That squad was captained by the late Dennis McGinn, who took over the captaincy when Jordan Penney entered the army. Other squad members were Rube Hadrath, Roy Flattum, Gordon (Tubby) LaBree, Fat Johnson, Leland Schuster, and Clyde Nason.

Twice, in 1937 and 1939, the Prowlers and the Vikings have met in regional tournament play. In 1937 the Prowlers — Bud Nelson, Lenny Hellquist, Milt Nesse, Roy Lee, Don Lorentson, Gordy Caldis, Bones Stadum, and Clark Mickelson — defeated Ada in a tourney first-round game, 29-27. Those Prowlers went on to win the Region Eight title, and earn third place in the state tournament.

In 1939 the Prowlers, also in a 1st round regional game, defeated Ada, 38-24. These Prowlers—Bones Stadum, Captain Earl Nicholson, Wayne Bredeson, Rube Mickelson, Red Eide, Bob Kielty, Cliff Lunke, Austin Shanahan, and coached by John Lindenmeyer, defeated Middle River, 28-19, to make a successful defense of their Region Eight championship. In state tournament play, the 1939 Prowlers dropped a 1st-round decision, 33-26, to South St. Paul; defeated Austin, 26-20, in a consolation first-round game and lost in the consolation finals to Gilbert, 49-35.

In the over-all series with Ada, which has reached sixteen games the locals hold a twelve wins and four losses margin.

Friday night's opener here should be interesting and exciting, and basing judgment on the practice sessions, the fans should enjoy the play of the Prowlers. It will be an action-filled game, and the officials, Jack Shull and Derby Emerson of Grand Forks, will have a busy night.

A Good Week

The bowlers of the Tuesday night Business league turned in some consistent scores last week, with four of the trundlers chalking up scores of 600-plus.

Am Wysoski, who is more noted for the fact that he is an accredited Master Angler of Manitoba, had games of 211-227-180 for a 618 series. And Gary Vettelson of Plummer, a member of the league-leading Elaine's, posted games of 207-201-210 to share top honors with Am, having a 618-pin total.

Joey Poole rolled games of 213-195-204 for a 612 total, and Stan Cockrell, also of the Elaine's, marked up games of 209-204-193 for a 606 total.

Miscellany

The Alton C. Hanson family has left town to establish residence in Minneapolis. Prowler athletic fans are well-acquainted with the Hanson, for Alton and Lydia are the parents of Phil and Ron, former Prowler all-star athletes who are now attending Augsburg college. It is understandable that the Hansons, who are avid basketball fans, would move to Minneapolis where they will have more opportunities to watch the college progress of Phil and Ron. Phil is a junior letterman on the Auggie squad, and Ron, a freshman, will be eligible to play this season. And there are a couple of younger Hanson boys — Dennis an eighth grader and Darrell a sixth grader— who have shown potential as basketball players. We hope that these youngsters get capable coaching and go into a school with a strong basketball tradition. Dennis, in particular, may become a great one . . Keith Brandt, an all-state hockey tournament choice with the Roseau Rams a couple of seasons ago, and now attending the University of Minnesota, will be lost to coach John Mariucci's hockey Gophers for perhaps the season. Brandt suffered a fractured jaw and the loss of several teeth during a scrimmage session the other week . . Jim and Larry Stordahl, also all-state tournament selections in hockey at Roseau, are linemates on the Gopher squad this season. Jim, a center, is a junior, and Larry, a sophomore up from the freshman team last year, is a wing.

Addenda

Since writing the lead article on the Prowlers vs. Ada basketball here tomorrow night I have learned that the Vikings will be without the services of their veteran forward, Jim Hennen. Hennen, according to the reports, ran afoul of one of the rules of the State High School League and has been declared ineligible.

While Hennen's loss will be a hardship for the Vikings and a blow to their hopes of winning the district and regional cage honors, Ada does have a capable replacement at forward in Dave Gerjets. Gerjets, a senior, was a letterman last season.

'U' M. Publishes Soil Test Booklet

Fred Heck, Marshall county soil conservation agent, reports that the University of Minnesota soils specialists have published a new soil test interpretation booklet. It is the plan of the extension office to contact each person who tested individually to go over their test [illegible] them how to use this new soil test interpretation and guide booklet.

Also, the extension office suggests that there is still time and opportunity to take a soil sample. Supplies can be obtained from any of the county banks, fertilizer dealer, some of the bulk oil truck drivers, and elevator managers.

State Is Capital of Yule Tree Industry

Minnesota is the Christmas tree capital of the Nation according to the Conservation Department's forest nurseries supervisor, Ray Clement.

Last year over 6½ million Christmas trees and decorative products such as wreaths and roping were harvested and fabricated in Minnesota, he said.

"Only a little over one million trees were sold in Minnesota with the balance being shipped out to every state in the union and numerous foreign countries. Bulk of the harvest is taken by states in the east and south.

The forest product industry placed a value of over 7½ million dollars on the 1960 Christmas tree harvest in Minnesota, Clement said.

"An increasing percentage of Christmas trees on the market in the last few years have come from planted tree plantations although most of the trees still come from natural growth stands of forest trees.

Each year the state sells many thousands of black spruce trees growing on so-called "stagnant swamp lands" to Christmas tree harvesters. These are trees which seldom if ever would grow to timber size because of the nature of the ground on which they grow. Trees only 7 feet tall are in many cases over 40 years old. Despite their slow growth, however, reproduction is very good.

Most of the tree seedlings being planted for future sale as Christmas trees are purchased from state tree nurseries administered by the Conservation Department's forestry division.

Clement said the most popular species for Christmas tree plantings are black and white spruce, Norway pine, Scotch pine and balsam fir. This preference is reflected in the sale of trees from state nurseries which have already sold all the available spring planting stock of black spruce, balsam fir and Scotch pine seedling.

Still available are white spruce and Norway pine. Clement urged all those who intend to plant trees this next spring to get their order in early to avoid disappointment.

In addition to those species planted chiefly for Christmas trees, the state tree nurseries also grow and sell numerous other types which are planted to produce pulpwood, timber, for windbreaks and shelterbelts and for many other uses.

Order blanks may be obtained from state forestry stations, county agents, SCS and ACP offices or by writing the Conservation Department forestry division.

Warns Rural Roads May Be Confusing

Highway Department Advises City Drivers

The smartest thing the city driver can do is to admit to himself that he isn't a "country boy" when he takes that shortcut to a family reunion during the holiday seasons, according to the Minnesota highway department.

When the average city driver turns off the modern paved highway and onto the country lane, he finds such a new set of driving conditions that he may believe the car isn't operating correctly. Sharp turns aren't always marked and sideroads can be hidden from view by brush and trees. Cows may be grazing along the road, and slow-moving farm tractors may be overtaken at any moment. The sudden change may totally confuse the stranger.

This, according to the Department, accounts for many of the fatal mishaps that occur on the rural roads annually—making the "short cut across country often a shortcut to the grave for the inexperienced motorist."

In Minnesota last year, 71 per cent of the fatal accidents, and 73 per cent of the traffic deaths occurred in rural areas. Excessive speed was a leading factor in the fatal mishaps—proving that the drivers wouldn't ease up on the gas pedal and take it easy in the unfamiliar terrain.

The Minnesota Highway Department advises drivers to "drive as if blazing a new trail" when traveling in unfamiliar rural areas. Keep speeds way down and watch for the unexpected. Gravel and dirt roads, or blacktopped roads, are not meant for top highway speeds.

Squirrel, Rabbit Hunting Seasons Are Open in State

Although hunting seasons on the most popular Minnesota game species end in November or earlier, there is still some good sport to be had afield after that date according to Conservation Department game officials.

The season on gray and fox squirrels remains open until Dec. 31 and rabbits are legal game until March 1.

Limits on gray and fox squirrel are 7 daily and 14 in possession in the aggregate of both species. Daily and possession limits on rabbits are 10 and 20. Shooting hours on squirrels and rabbits are from sunrise to sunset.

Holdings of $4.6 billion in Series E and H Savings Bonds at the beginning of 1961, the 20th anniversary of the U. S. Savings Bonds program, formed the largest portion of liquid financial assets of farmers and ranchers, around 35 per cent of the total.

Patrol to Crack Down on Traffic Offenses

Minnesota highway patrolmen Saturday were ordered to stop giving warning and arrest every traffic violator until Jan. 1 in a "desperate fight" against accidents.

The state highway department is "declaring open warfare against those drivers who persist in making our streets and highways a bloody battleground," said James C. Marshall, state highway commissioner.

The commissioner said he was asking all law enforcement agencies to mount "the strongest possible attack" against drivers who violate traffic laws.

In the past five years, Marshall said, an average of 129 persons were killed in traffic accidents during November and December. "We are now in the two worst months of the year," he said, calling for an "all-out battle" between now and Jan. 1.

"Practically all patrol officers will be on duty every day for the rest of the year," he said. "Normal leaves or days-off will be curtailed" so that more men can be used.

Marshall said he has ordered the highway patrol and has urged all other enforcement agencies to:

Stop issuing oral or written warnings for traffic violations. This means, Marshal said, that for every violation witnessed by his officers, a tag will be issued and the alleged violator will be required to appear in court. "The grace period is over," he said.

Use partially-marked patrol cars.

Use electric timing devices.

Use radar.

Use spotter planes.

Mobilize officers other than traffic police for additional surveillance.

"This may sound like a program directed against the people," Marshall said. "But let us consider that last year in Minnesota over 120,000 drivers were involved in more than 68,000 accidents, nearly all of which resulted from violation of traffic law.

"In our 1½ million licensed drivers, this may be a small number. But it is the number against whom we are waging our desperate fight"

"I am not afraid for people to think. I am not even afraid for them to talk. I have had to come in contact with stubborn men all my life whom I could not convert. So I am not afraid that men with silly ideas will convert the people of this country to depart from the good, solid faith of a great demonocratic nation."—

Justice Hugo L. Black

Redistricting Progress

Some progress may be noted in the effort to work out a satisfactory solution for the problem of congressional redistricting. A subcommittee, representative of the metropolitan area, is trying to agree on a recommendation for the redistricting of that large center of population, the main stumbling block to agreement on a statewide plan.

One St. Paul legislator has suggested that with half of the state's population living in seven metropolitan area counties, those seven counties should have four of the state's eight congressmen. From a strictly numerical standpoint this idea of course has some merit, but it obviously would not be fair to the outstate area. Far better, from the standpoint of the state as a whole, that most of the congressmen have within their districts a constituency that is both rural and urban. That would give to agriculture at least a partial voice in most of the districts, and that should be fair.

Those who speak for the large cities should keep in mind that our two United States Senators are from Minneapolis and St. Paul. The Twin Cities are well represented in Washington and are getting their full share of the government dollars that are being wasted.

All of which points up the need for a Constitutional amendment that will give to outstate Minnesota permanent control of one house of the state legislature. If that is not done then outstate Minnesota will really be at the mercy of the big-city-politicians.

Goldwater Is Growing

In his syndicated column, George Sokolsky warns Republicans that their party has lost its sense of direction. The party presently is divided into groups that are far apart in their approach to the problems of government. "As it stands today," he says, "only Barry Goldwater stands for a decisive principle, domestic and foreign. Nixon represents opportunism and Rockefeller an unformed position."

Sokolski no doubt is right, but, actually, both Democrat and Republican have lost meaning as names representing certain party principles. Both parties are a conglomeration of radicals, reactionaries, conservatives and liberals. We generally assume that the Democrat party is liberal and the Republican conservative.

It probably would be in the interests of good government if the old names, Republican and Democrat, were dropped and Conservative and Liberal adopted in their place. Both conservative and liberal are good words and have some meaning.

Certainly there is no future for the Republican party as a party that professes to be more liberal than the Democrats. There is only one way for the Republican party to go and that is as the conservative party.

And Barry Goldwater, as a professing conservative, deserves serious consideration as a prospective Republican party leader. He is not a reactionary. He is not a threat as a potential "man on horseback." From what we have read of his analyses of our national problems, foreign and domestic, he has a more common-sense understanding of the situation we are in and what should be done about it than any of the other front men in either party.

Barry Goldwater would not be a popular leader at the present time, and it is of course doubtful whether any Republican could beat Kennedy in 1964. But apparently more and more people are coming to the conclusion that Barry Goldwater is the kind of statesman we will have to turn to eventually to put our government back together again.

Vocational Training

St. Paul is expanding its technical-vocational school facilities, having authorized a $6 million program that will be completed by 1965. Minnesota has been one of the leading states in recognizing the need for this kind of training by encouraging vocational education as a part of the public school system.

Here in Thief River Falls the Area Vocational School is serving an area need and its growth is one of the contributing factors to our classroom shortage. It is one of the important reasons why another school building is needed in the district, several of the courses offered now being provided in rented quarters.

Providing adequately for the needs of the vocational school being one of the problems with which we are confronted, the following observations on the justification for this type of public school training by the St. Paul Pioneer Press is interesting:

"Better technical training facilities for high school students and graduates are one of the pressing educational needs of the day, both here and throughout the nation. One of the major sectors of serious unemployment is in the ranks of boys and girls who have no special vocational training, yet are not going to continue their education. This is the group that Dr. James B. Conant has referred to as "social dynamite" in American cities. While nearly a million largely untrained persons from 16 to 21 are currently unable to find jobs, there are employment opportunities open for skilled workers and technicians. This same general situation prevails in St. Paul as well as in the country as a whole.

"Vocational training has been neglected in St. Paul. Vocational high school has done well considering its small size and lack of modern facilities, but it does not begin to meet the needs of the community for the present or the future. The new institution will be able to accept 1,800 students instead of the present 650 for regular day classes. There will be equipment for instruction of boys and girls in the new technologies which offer the best job opportunities in today's world.

"To have such a source of highly skilled workers in St. Paul will be of great advantage to the community in keeping and attracting industry and payrolls. A modern technical training center can adjust its program to meet changing needs. I can also be of service in retraining adults in new skills. The new technical-vocational school will be a major asset for this city, and the sooner it can be put in operation the better."

Turkey Growers Disagree

Turkey growers, meeting at Des Moines, Iowa, Saturday, to consider a proposed marketing order for the industry, were not agreed that the proposed plan, presented by an advisory committee, is what they want. The objections seemed to be based largely on the broad powers of regulation that would be vested in the Department of Agriculture.

We have been favorably inclined to the idea of production and marketing controls for farm commodties—by the producers. The fruit growers seem to be managing their affairs fairly well. John Brandt advocated a control program for the dairy industry—controlled by the industry itself. The potato growers have made some progress in marketing control.

But to turn all of these production and marketing control operations over to the hungry bureaucracy in Washington would be bad. Our courthouses wouldn't be large enough to house the army of regulators and inspectors and controllers and record keepers if the responsibility were turned over to the politicians. Let not that happen.

If the industry itself, with reasonable self-regulating authority, could not improve its own operations, it at least would be able to get along as well as it has in the past, with occassional very good years and occassional very bad years. Over a period of time the law of supply and demand would maintain a fair average. Far better that than government controls.

But industry control, by the industry and at the industry's expense, should be encouraged.

What's a Billion?

(Financial Post, Toronto, Canada)

One billion dollars is what it takes to build 300 fair-sized hospitals — or build a Columbia project, plus a St. Lawrence Seaway, plus a South Saskatchewan dam plus an Atlantic Provinces causeway.

Yet that is precisely the value of Canadian property that has been destroyed by fire in the past decade.

The human loss is even more appalling. There were 5,477 men, women and children burned to death i nthe last 10 years.

This is why Canada still has a "first" that is a national disgrace — ine of the highest losses of life and property, per capita, in the world.

Our shameful fire toll rose last year. Property loss was $130 million, up $11 million from the year before. There were 566 deaths caused by fire, six more than in 1959, and over one-third of these were children.

What makes this tragic is the fact almost all fires are caused by human carelessness. Death by fire is horible and unnecessary.

Next week is Canada's official Fire Prevention Week. It is the time to start an all-out, year-round drive to get rid of fire hazards at home and at work—and remove this gruesome "first" from Canada's list of achievements.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

A woman in Texas who couldn't afford new curtains decided to dye her old ones. She got out her old vat, mixed some brilliant blue dye and set to work.

While the woman was hanging her curtains on the line, a litle white lamb, gamboling in the yard, fell into the vat. He was fished out, unhurt and went scurrying off to dry in the sun. A passing motorist observed the bright blue lamb, thought he'd discovered a new species and came up offering twice the market price.

The woman decided she had a pretty good thing. Next day she dyed a second lamb. It too, sold almost immediately at a fancy price. From this start she developed quite a business, buying, dyeing and selling lambs.

She turned out to be the biggest lamb dyer in Texas.—Jack Mills in Montevideo News.

$868,000 in Wages on Make-work Program

Minnesota Commissioner of Conservation Clarence Prout today released a summary of major projects completed under the conservation work program for distressed areas in northern Minnesota.

The program, authorized by the last session of the Legislature, was appropriated 1½ million dollars for salaries, supplies, equipment and other expenses.

Purpose of the program was to give employment on important conservation projects to the many persons in northern counties who were out of work and had exhausted their unemployment compensation.

As planned, most of these projects were completed and the program brought to a close early this month.

Among the noteworthy accomplishments of this program, Prout listed the following: Planting of over 8½ million trees, construction or improving of 12,865 miles of road, salvaging of 80,000 board-feet of lumber, development of 31 public access sites, clearing and plotting 538 campsites and home sites, construction of 1433 fireplaces, 1770 picnic tables and 175 latrines.

There were 2,189 men employed on all projects during the program. Wages totaling just under $868,500 were paid out as of Nov. 1. Average earnings per man were $396.

Prout said that some projects would be reactivated in the spring and would continue until the money allocated for the program was exhausted.

"The Department takes pride in the fact," he said, "that over 82 per cent of the funds available were expended for wages while supplies and equipment expenses were held to a minimum."

U.S. Population Hits 185 Million

The nation's population reaches 185 million today — an increase of five million since last year's census.

The exact moment won't be known but the event will be celebrated at a ceremony in the Commerce Department lobby in Washington at about 3 p. m. EST today.

Rules Revised for Joining Nat. Guard

Six-months Program to Be Reopened January 3

A policy change affecting young men enlisting in the National Guard six-month active duty training program was announced today by Brigadier General Chester J. Moeglein, Minnesota adjutant general.

Last August General Moeglein announced that the enlistment of young men without prior service was limited to those under 20 years old and that entry into the six-month training program was temporarily frozen.

The new policy, beginning January 3, 1962, reopens entry into the six-month program and increases the maximum age for enlistment to men under twenty-two.

The law requires that a young man without prior federal military service must, as a condition of enlisting in the National Guard, agree to enter six months of active duty training at a regular Army base within 120 days of his enlistment.

Upon his return from active duty the young man will fulfill his military obligation by attending Guard meetings at his local armory.

The temporary enlistment restrictions were placed on the National Guard and Army Reserve to provide more available men for the active Army build-up as required by the Berlin Crisis.

Enlistment in the Guard six-month program is on a quota basis and interested young men should inquire at their National Guard armory for local information.

Karlstad Rejects School Bond Issue

Votes Against $115,000 Issue by 3 to 1 Margin

The proposed $115,000 school bond election was defeated in the Karlstad district Monday evening by an overwhelming margin of more than three to one. The total vote in the election was an even 500 with one ballot having been soiled. 378 voted against the proposal and 121 voted in favor of the project.

The vote by precints is as follows:

Karlstad, 107 yes, 215 no; Halma, 4 yes, 110 no; and Springbrook, 10 yes, 53 no.

An election was held in March of 1960 at which time the voters of the district approved an $85,000 bond issue for the purpose of constructing a Home Economics room, a Science room and a Remedial room. After the election was held the architects found that they had made about a $26,000 error in their estimates on the proposed building so the amount voted wasn't enough for the construction.

A new vote was called last Monday evening at which time three high school class rooms plus a front entrance to the gymnasium and a boys' locker room were added to the proposal. The election last Monday evening was for $115,000 to be added to the $85,000 previously approved. This proposal was overwhelmingly disapproved.

Linsell Township in Marshall SCD

Entire County Is Now Part of Soil District

Linsell township, the northeasternmost township of Marshall county voted November 21 to become part of the Marshall-Beltrami soil conservation district.

The district was organized in 1951 starting with seven eastern townships in Marshall county. Later, five more townships were added but leaving out Linsell township in the extreme northeastern corner of the county.

The referendum held on November 21 showed a vote of 20 in favor of joining the district and no votes against.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Now that one holiday has come and passed it is time to think of another holiday which will be upon us. It is time to make the Christmas fruit cake.

In grandmother's day it took a great deal of time and effort to make fruit cake, with chopping and peeling, paring and preparing for hours on end. Then came stoking and poking the coal range for long, hot hours of watchful baking. No wonder fruit cake seldom appeared except for the most festive holidays, such as Thanksgiving and Christmas!

Magic Fruit Cake

1 (9-oz.) pkg. Mince Meat
½ cup water
1 cup walnut meats or pecans, coarsely chopped
1 cup (8 oz.) mixed candied fruit, coarsely chopped
1 can Sweetned Condensed Milk
1 egg, beaten
¾ cup flour
½ teaspoon baking soda

Break mince meat into small pieces and put in 2-quart saucepan. Add water. Place over medium heat and stir until lumps are thoroughly broken. Boil briskly 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and cool.

Add nuts candied fruit, milk and egg; blend well. Stir in flour and baking soda, until just blended.

Pour mixture into 9" x 4" x 3" loaf pan which has been greased, waxed paper lined and greased again. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour and 30 minutes or until center springs back when lightly touched with finger and top is golden brown.

If a glass-type baking dish is used, reduce oven heat to 325 degrees F.

Watching a child play can help you in planning what toys to buy for them at Christmas or any other time of the year. Most youngsters give definite clues to their varied play interests at each age level. If you don't have the opportunity to observe the youngster for whom the toy is intended, observe children of the same age. You can count on their play interests being similar enough to give a good idea of the toys that will be welcome.

Relief Clients in Marshall County Must Work If Able

Relief clients in Marshall County, able to work, must register for employment and if jobs are available they must go to work before they are eligible for public welfare assistance, Earl K. Kallher, executive director of the Marshall County Welfare department, told members of the Warren Chamber of Commerce at a meeting last week.

In elaborating on the program, Kallher stated that this program has been approved and is being well received. The clients must register with state employment agencies and if jobs are available and the client does not accept the work he is denied public aid. In Marshall County, there are but few persons able to work on the public assistance rolls, Kallher pointed out.

BUDDING ENGINEER

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Can't tell yet whether my son will follow in his Dad's footsteps. Blocks don't make an engineer.

But he's learning some of the basic principles of physics with which many professions deal.

On the way home from Church, when he talks about his lesson, I recognize familiar signs . . . character is still in the mold. Deep conviction, bold dedication come later. But he's grasping those basic truths on which great living rises.

For a busy engineer who used to be hit-or-miss in his church attendance, fostering the growth of a soul is a fascinating experience . . . especially as I find my own faith deepening with every reverent day!

Can't tell about his following my footsteps. But I've discovered new dimensions in life following his.

Pennington Co. Wins Soil Test Award 2d Year

County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk Given Award This Morning

For the second consecutive year, Pennington county was honored this morning for doing the best job of soil building by soil testing of any county in Minnesota in 1961.

Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county extension agent, accepted the award in behalf of the county at the 11th annual soils and fertilizer short course on the St. Paul Campus of the University of Minnesota.

Pennington County was presented with a plaque by Robert Rupp, managing editor of The Farmer magazine, St. Paul. He pointed out that the award goes not only to the county extension staff but also to the many cooperators in the soil testing program. These include farmers, fertilizer dealers and other merchants and other private and governmental groups.

Other counties placing high in the contest were Dakota, second, and Kittson, third.

Working with the county extension service in this year's Minnesota Soil Sample Roundup, Pennington County farmers this year had 503 samples tested by the University of Minnesota soil testing laboratory, reports John Grava, head of the laboratory, and Lowell Hanson, extension soils specialist. This amounts to 83 samples per 100 commercial farms in the county.

Three other counties gathered larger numbers of samples this year—Dakota, 897; Rice, 762; and Yellow Medicine, 605. But these counties had larger numbers of farms, and Pennington County ended up with the best record of samples per 100 commercial farms.

In the five months ending November 30, the soil testing laboratory on the St. Paul Campus received 18,000 samples gathered in the annual Minnesota Soil Sample Roundup.

Mrs. O. F. Mellby Rites Held Today

Widow of Late Physician Died at Bagley Friday

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon from Trinity Lutheran church for Mrs. O. F. Mellby, 78, widow of the late pioneer Thief River Falls physician, who succumbed Friday in the Bagley hospital.

Mrs. Mellby, a resident of his city for more than 50 years, had gone to Clearbrook for a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Anderson, and had been taken to the hospital for a checkup.

The daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. Andrew Grindeland of Warren, she was married to Dr. Mellby in that city in 1906, and the next year they moved to this city.

Mrs. Mellby was born in Warren July 31, 1883. After coming to this city with her husband in 1907, she became a member of what is now the Trinity Lutheran church and ladies aid, and was also a long-time member of the local Woman's club, in addition to being active in musical circles.

Surviving her death are a son, Paul Mellby of Angola, Indiana; three daughters: Ruth, Mrs. Edward B. White of New York City; Katherine, Mrs. Wallace E. Ander-

Area Milk Producers to Vote on Marketing Order at Early Date

DIRECTOR from Area 1 of the Minnesota Association of Soil Conservation Districts is Oscar Houske, rural T. R. Falls, board member of the Pennington County Soil Conservation District. He was elected at the annual area meeting held Friday in Thief River Falls and succeeds Orville Elseth, Newfolden, who declined renomination after serving two one-year terms.

O. Houske Elected to State Board of SCD Association

Oscar Houske, rural Thief River Falls, was elected Area 1 director on the board of the Minnesota Association of Soil Conservation Districts at the annual area meeting held Friday at the court house in Thief River Falls. Houske succeeds Orville Elseth of Newfolden who had been a state director for two years and declines renomination.

Approximately 50 persons, including district supervisors, board members, office personnel and 7 ASC committeemen, were in attendance at the all-day session. Elseth presided at the meeting, with a greeting extended by Mayor Orin Green. Discussion was held on forestry, watersheds and the rural areas development program.

Speakers included Alf Larson, Hayfield, president of the Minnesota Association of Soil Conservation Districts, who discussed activities of the state and national associations; Matt Thorfinnson, executive secretary of the association, who reviewed business problems and handling of funds within the districts; Harlan Backhaus, assistant state conservationist, and Erling Welberg, state watershed conservationist, who talked on 74 watersheds; Robert Bergland, state ASC chairman; and H. G. Halverson, Thief River Falls, area conservationist, who spoke on farm planning and soil surveys.

Soil conservation districts within the area include Koochiching, Lake of the Woods, Roseau, Kittson, Marshall, Marshall-Beltrami, Beltrami, Clearwater, East Polk, West Polk, Pennington, Red Lake, Norman and Mahnomen.

SNORRE LODGE TO ELECT OFFICERS WEDNESDAY

Snorre lodge of the Sons of Norway will conduct its annual election of officers Wednesday, December 6, at 8 p. m., in the Eagles Hall. Lunch will be served, and a full attendance of the membership is urged.

Milk producers supplying the western North Dakota and Minnesota-North Dakota marketing areas will be asked to vote on proposed marketing orders to regulate milk handling in the two areas in the near future, according to an announcement made today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The Thief River Falls Milk Producer's association has worked for the marketing order and recently gave its passage approval in an informal balloting.

Time and place for each of the referendums will be announced soon by A. T. Radigan, referendum agent of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Approval by two-thirds of those voting on each order is reuired before it can be made effective.

Major provisions on which producers will vote are substantially the same as contained in the USDA recommended decision submitted to producers and handlers for exceptions on August 22 this year. Forty-three counties are included in the two areas with Minnesota counties including Becker, Clay, Douglas, Grant, Kittson, Marshall, Mahnomen, Norman, Ottertail, Pennington, Polk (except east of highway 59), Pope, Red Lake, Stevens, Todd, Traverse, Wadena and Wilkin.

Milk marketed in the two areas would be classified and priced to handlers according to its use. Class I would be all milk sold for fluid use and Class II would be milk used in ice cream, butter, cheese, powdered milk and other manufactured dairy products; the USDA release stated.

Class I prices under both of the proposed orders would be related directly to the Class I price under the Minneapolis-St. Paul order. The Class II price would be derived from a butter-powder formula.

Milk would be accounted for on a 3.5 per cent butterfat basis. The Class I prices would be announced for Bismarck and the Fargo-Moorhead area and would average $1.20 and $1 over the basic formula prices for the Western North Dakota and Minnesota-North Dakota orders respectively.

Elsewhere in the two areas prices would be increased or decreased 1.2 cents for every 10 miles that a plant is located, respectively, father from or nearer to Minneapolis-St. Paul. Special Term of Legislature Is Due Shortly

Governor Anderson May Call Session Before Christmas

Minnesota may have eight new 8 congressional districts before Christmas. Two legislative committees Saturday night in St. Paul took the first big step toward getting the job done in time for the 1962 elections.

Now it is up to Gov. Andersen to call the legislature back into special session.

The final step would be legislative approval of a solution to the redistricting problem.

A starting point, should the governor call a special session, would be the plan approved at 11:15 p. m. Saturday by redistricting committees of the state senate and house of representatives.

Optimism—with some qualifications—was the general mood Sunday among leaders of the legislature and of both major political parties.

Andersen flew to Toronto, Canada, Sunday for the inauguration of Rabbi W. Gunther Plaut, formerly of St. Paul, as senior rabbi of a Toronto congregation.

Before he left, the governor issued this brief statement:

"After months of effort, it is naturally gratifying to see redistricting come closer, and on the basis of a short special session and prior agreement, redistricting before Christmas is now a definite possibility."

Andersen, however, is not expected to make a definite decision before the proposal of the two 10-member redistricting committees has been submitted to the senate elections and reapportionment committee.

The senate redistricting committee, seven Conservatives and three Liverals, actually was a subcommittee of the elections and reapportionment committee.

Sen. Chris Erickson, Fairmont Conservative, is chairman of both

Sheriff C. Richards Cautions Motorists

It's wise to include a "safety clause" in your December driving policy, according to Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff and chairman of the county safety council. He urges area residents to redouble their efforts to keep streets and highways safe during the holidays.

"Last December, 62 person were killed in traffic accidents in this state," Sheriff Richards said. "Within the last 10 years, a total of 550 persons have died in December traffic crashes.

"There are many reasons why this time of the year is exceptionally dangerous for the drivers and pedestrians. Adverse weather conditions combine with the distraction of rush and excitement of preparing for the Christmas holiday to provide more hazardous moments. Drinking, often a part of the festivity, is among the main dangers, and can be blamed for many traffic errors.

"Each citizen must assume responsibility for tempering these hazards. Strict enforcement by the law enforcement officer can not be the only answer to the problem. Instead, let us practice the true Christmas spirit and be our brother's keeper . . watching out for the other guy as well as ourselves."

Sheriff Richards also advised the shopper to recognize his part in promoting traffic safety. He explained that the "walkers" should remember that early winter nightfall, rain and snow limit the motorists' visibility as well as their own.

"Shoppers can help by crossing only at crosswalks and not by cheating at the traffic lights. Don't expect the driver to look out for you. He can't stop that two-ton vehicle very quickly on ice or on a wet street. And he may be more careless than you," the sheriff explained.

He added that if "everyone practiced courtesy, compliance and cooperation, the three C's of traffic safety, tragedy might be completely averted during the season."

3,000 to Sing in St. Paul Pageant

Christmas Choral Event Set for Sunday, Dec. 10

One of the largest sacred observances of Christmas in the nation, the St. Paul Municipal Christmas Choral Pageant, will be held Sunday afternoon, December 10, in the arena of the St. Paul auditorium.

Approximately 3,000 person of many faiths from throughout the community will take part, including church and school choir members, student actors, soloists, civic orchestra musicians, singers in special choruses, and others.

The Pageant tells the story of the birth of Christ in a series of stage scenes enacted by students from St. Paul colleges. Three St. Paul clergymen—Baptist, Methodist and Lutheran—will take the part of The Three Kings in the final Nativity tableau. The scenes form on the stage as a narrator reads passages from the Biblical story.

The musical program will include a massed choir of 2,500 voices, special choruses from St. Paul public senior and junior high schools, St. Luke's Catholic church choir, and the girls' glee club of St. Joseph's academy. Soloists will be Carl Fox and Ethel Wagnor De Long, frequent performers in St. Paul civic opera and other musical events.

Number of Mental Cases in Hospitals in State Declines

9,204 Now Being Treated in Institutions, Lowest Total in Past 25 Years

The number of patients in state mental hospitals in Minnesota is at its lowest point in 25 years, Morris Hursh, commissioner of welfare, reported Friday.

He said the current total is 9,467 including 9,204 mentally ill and 263 inebriates. The overall total is down 41 from a month earlier and 560 under Oct. 31, 1960.

"Since the high point of 11,348 was reached in September, 1954, the number of mentally ill patients hospitalized has dropped almost 19 per cent," he added.

"So far this year, there have been more voluntary admissions and more returns from provisional discharge but fewer admissions of committed patients than during the same period a year ago.

"Among releases there has been an increase in discharges direct from the hospitals, but little change in the number of provisional discharges so far this year compared with last year."

The number of persons in institutions for the mentally deficient and epileptic showed a net increase of 41 during October to a total of 6,362.

Grain Terminal Assn. Meets Dec. 11

Humphrey and Freeman to Speak in St. Paul

Thousands of farmer-delegates, representing almost 700 cooperative grain, feed and seed elevators in the two Dakotas, Montana and Minnesota will move in on St. Paul next Saturday and Sunday to attend the 24th annual meeting of Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, Minnesota Senator Hubert Humphrey and North Dakota Senator Milton Young will be the main guests at the co-op's big annual dinner Tuesday evening, December 12, in the St. Paul Auditorium. The main portions of their talks will be broadcast over major Midwest radio stations between 9:30 and 10:00 p. m. that evening.

The three-day business session of the regional co-op begins Monday, December 11. It is the nation's largest farm meeting. Farmers who have attended in past years describe it as one of the most interesting and educational meetings in their experience.

Session on Co-ops Conducted in City by State Leaders

Total of 64 Cooperative Officials Met at Legion Club Rooms Thursday

Sixty-four co-op leaders met at Thief River Falls Thursday, November 30, for an all day institute at the Legion club, which involved Pennington and Red Lake county leaders, together with several members from other counties, according to County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk. The institute was the first of the winter series sponsored by the county extension service.

Presiding was Dr. Wm. Dankers, extension marketing specialist at the University of Minnesota. Dankers described the work of various forms of co-operatives, also listing other forms of businesses which are used, such as private ownership, partnership and corporations. He pointed out that many small grocery firms, hardware stores stores and other businesses buy co-operatively and use their co-ops extensively.

Ed Sletten, secretary of the Minnesota Association of Co-ops, talked about existing and proposed legislation. He covered both national and state laws pertaining to co-operatives.

Ralph Godin, chief of the division for co-ops, state department of agriculture, reviewed the value of good records and budgets in various co-ops. He showed how these can be used effectively to improve the business.

Stanley Dryer from the Bank of Co-ops, pointed out the need for sound financing, and said that co-op patrons should not expect to finance their business through charge accounts at co-ops. This financing should be done with loan institutions who can do it cheaper and more efficiently than a co-op, where the money is needed for business operation.

Present at the meeting were directors, managers, fieldmen, and district representatives of co-ops.

Dairy Farmers Vote Soon on Market Order

Referendums in which dairy farmers, shipping milk to the Western North Dakota and Minnesota-North Dakota milk marketing areas, will have an opportunity to express their approval or disapproval of proposed federal milk marketing order will be held within the next few weeks, according to A. T. Radigan, referendum agent of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. An order cannot be made effective unless its issuance is approved by at least two-thirds of the producers who will vote in each referendum.

One of the first steps in the referendum will be to determine those producers who will be eligible to vote. As defined in the proposed order, these are dairy farmers who delivered milk to the regulated handlers in the proposed marketing areas during September 1961. Their names will be supplied to the referendum agent by milk dealers.

A notice of the referendum will be mailed to each known qualified voter giving the date the referendum will be held. Nor voting by proxy will be permitted. Each producer will be entitled to only one vote regardless of the number of farms he operates. Partnerships, corporations and other such business organizations which operate dairy farms will be entitled to only one vote regardless of the number of partners, shareholders, or others interested which make up the organization.

The Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, under which the proposed marketing orders would be issued, authorizes a cooperative association of producers to cast a single ballot on behalf of all of its members who qualify as producers. The referendum agent will announce the names of cooperatives that qualify. Producers in these associations will not receive a referendum notice, and will not be expected to cast individual ballots.

The proposed federal milk marketing orders on which producers will vote are based on evidence received at a public hearing held in Fargo and Minot, North Dakota, on July 1220, 1960.

Milk Marketing Order to Be Voted on at Early Date

uniform "blend" price. All producers for each market would then receive the same price per hundredweight, regardless of how the milk is used.

To have their milk priced under one of the orders, plants would have to distribute 30 per cent in March through June and 35 per cent in other months (25 per cent for months until September 1962) of their Grade A receipts on routes or as Class I to other plants, and 15 per cent of such receipts on routes in a regulated area. Plants supplying 35 per cent of their Grade A receipts from farmers to distributing plants would also have pool status.

The proposed order is based on evidence presented at a public hearing in Fargo and Minot during July 1960, called at the request of area producers, and exceptions filed with USDA following its recommended decision of Aug. 22, 1961.

Copies of the final decision and the proposed orders for the two areas may be obtained from the Milk Marketing Orders Division, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Postoffice at Goodridge Was Dedicated Dec. 2

investment of $270 million to "give the nation the best postal service in history."

Postal development is aimed at three major areas, the official said. They include adequate plant, sensible automation for practical purposes and better service to eliminate delays and bottlenecks service. "These will help us to provide the best service economically, efficiently and sensibly," he concluded.

In reviewing Goodridge post office history, Postmaster Swanson noted that the first post office was established at Goodridge in March, 1915. Prior to that time the mail was brought in a grain sack from Thief River Falls three times per week, going to Holt by way of Germantown. Mrs. Jennie Payne served as the first postmistress.

During the first few months that a post office was in operation, mail was brought by the conductor on the Soo Line railroad. In May a messenger boy was appointed to deliver the mail but when the railroad balked at having to carry mail without a contract, Mr. Payne made 40 daily trips to Thief River Falls to pick up the mail. Then the snow got too deep and the Soo Electric Line finally was given a contract to deliver the mail daily except Sunday.

Star route served was established to Grygla with A. B. Josephson as carrier in 1916 and rural delivery was started August 1 of that year with M. O. Seavy as the first carrier. In 1917 V. C. McLeod began carrying mail on route 1 and continued for 41 years with the exception of military service in World War I.

Gross postal receipts in 1915 were about $900, compared to $1,500 when the office was raised to a third class office in 1921, and more than $4,000 last year. In January of 1932 the first postoffice was destroyed by fire which also razed the Oen Mercantile store and M. J. Stephenson's restaurant. It was then moved into the building just vacated which had formerly housed the Goodridge State bank.

Steven Singer was appointed postmaster shortly after the fire and he served until October of 1954 when he retired and Clarence Peterson was appointed. In June of 1958 Peterson moved to rural carrier, and Irene Ellingson assumed the position of acting postmistress until Swanson's appointment in March of 1961.

Letters of congratulations had been received and were acknowledged from Rep. Odin Langen, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota postmaster's league, James Dryden and Lowell Sovde, respective post masters at Thief River Falls and Oklee, and Odin Hanson of the Pennington county board of comissioners.

Recognition was also given by Swanson to the rural carriers and their wives, Clarence Peterson, Irvin Wilson, John Tanem and Luke Knight, and to Mrs. Leo (Irene) Ellingson, office clerk. He thanked individuals and organizations which assisted with the event, particularly the newly-organized Lions club which had helped with arrangements.

OFFICIALLY opened at 1 p.m. Friday was the annual Salvation Army Christmas appeal to help needy families throughout the area. Mayor Orin Green made the first contribution at the Salvation Army kettle house where bell-ringer Daniel Austad was on duty. Envoy Carl Paulson of the local Salvation Army unit is shown at the right. Arrangements are currently being made by Paulson for assistances from service clubs in the city to help with bell ringing and collections during the pre-Christmas season. Barrels have also been placed in the elementary schools where youngsters may deposit canned goods in unbreakable containers for use in Christmas gift baskets distributed by the local unit this year.

PRESENTATION of a new 50-star flag which has flown over the nation's capitol and the U. S. post office department in Washington, D.C., was made at dedication ceremonies in the Goodridge school Saturday. Leonard C. Fransen, left, delivery services specialist for the postal department, makes the presentation above to Ernest Swanson, Goodridge postmaster.

ALL MODERN equipment is used in the new post office building dedicated Saturday at Goodridge. In the above Times photo, a new postal scale is demonstrated by Ernest Swanson, postmaster, and Mrs. Leo (Irene) Ellingson, postal clerk. The scale registers weight of the package and the proper rate for each of eight postal zones through the use of separate zone windows on the scale. Mrs. Ellingson served as acting postmistress until Swanson's appointment early this year.

Jaycees to Sell Christmas Tree Bulbs on Tuesday

extended to others who assisted in the program. The only disappointment, he said, was the small crowd which was on hand for the official lighting of the scene.

George Hildre reported on the "deserving farm boy to Chicago award", stating that Leslie Nelson of rural Thief River Falls had made the trip to the International Livestock show and had said it was extremely interesting and educational. Nelson will give a report on his trip at a meeting to be held in January.

Also reviewed briefly was the used skate collection which has been undertaken by the chapter in an attempt to provide ice skates for needy youngsters in the community. Jaycees working on the bulb sale Tuesday will also serve as collectors for used skates and city residents are urged to cooperate in the program.

All chapter members who can take part in the bulb selling campaign have been asked by chairman Smith to meet at 6:30 p.m. at the Jaycee office. If enough manpower makes an appearance, the drive can be completed from 7 to 9 p. m. Routes will be designated and material distributed to chapter members beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Driver Is Fined After Car Crash

Edward Folden Admits Making Improper Turn

A collision at 9:45 a. m. Friday resulted in total damages estimated at $500 to the two cars involved and one of the drivers was fined $25 for making an improper turn, according to the sheriff's office.

The mishap occurred just west of the junction of CAR 55 and SAR 17 east of St. Hilaire. Leonard Pietron, St. Hilaire, was going east on CAR 55 when he saw a northbound car driven by Edward V. Folden, Park River, N. D., a field representative of Steer, Inc. Pietron was almost stopped to yield the right of way when Folden, following the wide swing in the Y intersection in making a left turn, struck him head-on.

Damage to the Pietron car was relatively slight and was estimated at $50. The Steer, Inc. Volkswagon was badly damaged, however, with damages estimated at $450. Neither driver was injured seriously, although Folden was treated for a bruised knee and a bump on the head at the hospital here. He was released after treatment.

Folden was taken before municipal court the same morning an improper turn and was fined $25.

Local Mans' Car Damaged by Fire in Red Lake Falls

Red Lake Falls firemen were roused out of their sleep around 5:30 Tuesday morning to quell a fire in a car parked on main street in front of Dupont's Cafe, reports the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

A cigaret in the seat was apparently responsible for the smoldering blaze which was almost impossible to put out. Firemen finally removed all the seats but not without difficulty. It took them almost 50 minutes to take out the retaining bolts of the 4-door 1960 Chevrolet owned by Earl Gjerness of Thief River Falls.

Legion Officers at St. Paul Parley

Three officers of the American Legion Post in Thief River Falls attended the fall conference of the American Legion held Friday and Saturday in St. Paul. They included Loren Borsheim, commander; M. R. Leverson, service officer; and David Clough, adjutant. They returned home Sunday.

Correction—

Due to the misplacement of several lines of type in the Thursday Times report of the Pennington County Agricultural Society open meeting, the name of Ray Oen on the reorganization committee was inadvertently omitted. Oen was selected as chairman of the group which also includes Charles Rodekuhr, Adam Lendobeja, Art Stenberg, Everett Amundgaard and Maynard Mehrkens. The fact that Albert Koop, president of the agricultural society, presided at the meeting was also omitted in the story.

LT. EDWARD STOKKE WINS OKINAWA COMPETITION

Army 1st Lt. Edward T. Stokke, 28, whose wife, Patricia, live in Minneapolis, is a member of the 137th Ordnance Company's Security Platoon which recently won the team competition at the first annual inter-service sentry dog field trials on Okinawa.

The platoon, which is regularly stationed on Okinawa, scored 1,081 out of a possible 1,200 points at the trials. Teams from eight other Army and Air Force units also participated.

Lieutenant Stokke, a platoon leader in the company, entered the Army in 1953 and was stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., before arriving on Okinawa in July of this year.

He is a graduate of Lincoln high school. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Stokke, live in Thief River Falls.

TRF Aviation Fans Met Thursday to Talk Organizing

Defer Plans to Organize Chapter of Experimental Aircraft Association

An encouraging group of local aviation enthusiasts was on hand at a meeting held at the airport Thursday evening for the purpose of organizing an area chapter of the Experimental Aircraft Assn.

Inclement weather and hazardous driving condiditons prevented attendance of out-of-town aviation people so no formal action was taken toward forming an EAA chapter. Movies and slides of the 1959 and 1960 EAA national fly-ins at Rockford, Ill. were shown.

Members of EAA present at the meeting explained the aims and functions of that world-wide organization, after which a general discussion was centered around ways and means of organizing a lively area group, not only as EAA members but as an organization aimed at promoting aviation activities in general.

Ways and means of making such an organization appeal to the general public were also discussed. Following the discussion it was generally agreed that such a group, on an area-wide basis would be formed and a similar meeting was set for Dec. 14 at the airport to view progress of those at Thursday's meeting in "selling" the idea to a greater number of people.

Ada Trips Prowlers by 1-point Margin 51-50

The all-veteran Ada Vikings, taking advantage of their greater experience and stronger rebounding, defeated the Prowlers, 51-50, in an excitement-filled basketball game played here Friday night. The game, which was the season-opener for both teams, was not decided until several minutes after the game-ending buzzer had sounded. With the score at 51-49 for Ada, the Prowlers' Paul Klungness was fouled while in the act of shooting by Ada's Dave Gerjets just as the game ended. Paul flipped his first gift shot into the east basket, paring the Vikings' lead to one point, but his second try was off the rim to the right and Ada had a one-point win.

The Prowlers will enter district conference competition on Friday when they host coach Irv St. John's Warren Ponies on the Lincoln court. The Ponies trounced the Mahnomen Indians, 64-35, at Mahnomen on Friday.

In Friday night's hectic game, Ada scored what proved to be their winning goal when, with 15 seconds to play and after Ada had called a time out to set up the play, Herb Hasz drove in from the right to score a field goal on a lay-up. The Prowlers hustled the ball down the floor, and the resulting personal foul gave Paul Klungness an opportunity to force the game into overtime.

The Prowlers held a 15 to 8 first period lead, with junior Tom Lindberg dropping in a pair of field goals and two free throws to spark the attack.

Ada, out-pointing the locals, 18 to 10, in the second period, held a one-point lead, 26-25, at the intermission.

Opening the second half, Elton Hornseth scored from close in; Wayne Bjerken, who played a spectacular all-round game, drove in for a lay-up; and John Aune hit on an outside shot to give the Prowlers a 31 to 26 lead. But the Vikings, with Don Bowyer leading the attack, rallied to overcome that deficit and moved into a 40 to 37 advantage entering the fourth period.

The two teams rocketed through the fourth period on near-even terms, and with 3:50 to play, Bjerken, on a pair of free throws, deadlocked the game at 47-all. Dean Bowyer scored a two-pointer for Ada, but Hornseth rolled in a field goal to knot the game at 49 to 49 with 1:33 to play. Ada, playing ball-control basketball, kept possession until the final seconds when they called a time out. Hasz, from the right forward post, gained a break and drove in for a lay-up shot.

Dean Bowyer gained the game's high-point honors with 12 points. The Vikings exhibited a well-balanced scoring attack, with Hasz and center Bob Drevlow also Kelly paced the Prowlers with 11 points, followed by Bjerken who tallied 10 points. Lindberg and Paul Klungness each contributed 9 points to the Prowler effort.

The locals, after being outpointed 11 to 9 in the third stanza, rolled up a 16 to 7 margin in the fourth period to win, 48-31.

Prowler Wrestling

While the excitement of the competition perhaps did not reach the peak that was generated in Friday's Ada vs. Prowlers basketball game, the sports fans who attend the Greenbush vs. Prowlers wrestling meet here on Tuesday night will get their quota of wholesome entertainment.

The Prowler squad, coached this season by Al Shaff, surprised the Crookston Aggies last Wednesday afternoon by scoring a 26-23 win. It marked the first time since wrestling was organized on a level here that the blue-and-gold has scored a win over the Aggies. The Aggies will be here on Wednesday, January 10, for a return match, and you can wager that the Aggies' coach, Rod Mosher, will have his maroon-and-gold wrestler primed for revenge.

There are a number of capable wrestlers on the Prowler squad this season, and two particularly fine freshman wrestlers. The fans attending Tuesday evening's competition should note the work of Donovan Berggren, a sturdy 98-pounder, and Joe Taylor, a husky 155-pounder. Last season, as an eighth grader, Don compiled a record of ten wins and one loss, and Joe, also as an eighth grader, had a mark of ten wins and five losses.

By the time these two boys reach their senior year they should be making Prowler wrestling history.

Now if the coaches can only persuade Ellsworth Senum, the 210-pound sophomore, to come out for wrestling, and football, the Prowler athletic prospects in these sports would get quite a lift. This youngster has the potential to be another Gordon (Boomer) Dablow, and old-time Prowler football fans recall what a great one the Boomer became.

Winnipeg Wins Grey Cup

The Winnipeg Blue Bombers, coached by Harry (Bud) Grant, won the professional football championship of Canada on Saturday afternoon by defeating the Hamilton Tiger-Cats, 21-14, in an historic encounter. For the first time in the 52-year old history of the Grey Cup, the trophy that signifies the football championship of Canada, an overtime period was required to determine the winner.

The two teams were deadlocked at 14-all at the end of regulation time. An overtime period, consisting of two ten-minute halves, was played, and in the second half of the overtime session, Kenny Ploen, the quarterback of the Bombers and a former all-American while at Iowa, made a 19-yard run for a touchdown. It was a well-earned victory for the Bombers, and we join our Winnipeg friends in cheering the team and their coach.

Bud Grant has had remarkable success in the Canadian pro coaching ranks, and if and when the University of Minnesota needs a new head coach the Gopher authorities should study Grant's qualifications. Bud, being an 'M' man, would get the cooperation of state's high school coaches.

Canadian football experts have dubbed Grant the "thinking man's football coach", and Bud's record merits that moniker.

Crookston Enters League Hockey

Coach Bud Salem's Crookston Pirates hockey club, the senior hockey team, has joined the Arrowhead league. That means that the Pirates will be playing such teams as Eveleth, Duluth, Grand Rapids, Hibbing, Hoyt Lakes, and Taconite.

It is probable that the Pirates, in meeting such competition, will have to bolster their squad with players from Grand Forks and the surrounding area. Such local stars as Eddie Derosier, Dave Bang, Dave Hendrickson, Tony Schmitz, Ron Cournea, and Jerry Brekken are available. And Salem hopes to have Bob Chouette, Stan Paschke, and Jerry Wentz, former North Dakota Sioux players, on the squad. And Bud hopes, too, to persuade Joey Poole of the Thieves to play some games with the Pirates.

The league has adopted the NHL pro hockey rules, so the play should be rugged enough for all the fans.

Prowler Wrestlers Edge out N.W. School

Coach Al Shaff's Prowler varsity wrestling squad edged out coach Rod Mosher's Northwest School of Agriculture squad in a meet that was held at Crookston on Wednesday afternoon, with the Prowlers winning by a 26-23 score.

The Prowlers will meet the Greenbush wrestlers in a meet here on Tuesday, Dec. 5, at 7:30 p. m.

In Wednesday afternoon's schedule-opener at Crookston, the two squads were deadlocked at 23 points apiece entering the final match on the program, the heavy weight match between Dwight Myhrer of the Prowlers and Wes Pake of the Aggies. Tiny Myhrer, by a 6 to 0 margin, won the decision in the match, and those three points gave coach Shaff's squad the win.

INCREASED demand for her finished lefse product has caused an expanded scale of operation for Mrs. Dagney Schuster in her lefse bakery. She currently turns out 1,287 lefses per day on a six-day week and employs six women but still can't keep pace with the demand during the holiday peak season. She has considered a night shift to help alleviate the situation. In the above photo, Mrs. Henry Hoard, left, folds cooled lefse prior to wrapping while Mrs. Harland Knutson seals the wrapped packages on the hot grill. A portion of the day's work is shown on the cooling table in the center of the photo.

Mrs. H. Schuster Has Lefse 'Touch'

by Marvin Lundin
Times Reporter

"You have to have the 'lefse touch' to make a good product," states Mrs. Dagney Schuster, Thief River Falls native, who operates the Schuster Lefse Bakery in a 13x24 addition to her home at 422 Horace av. N. in this city. And judging by the increased annual volume of the Scandinavian's holiday delight turned out by the bakery, Mrs. Schuster has the touch.

The recipe used by Mrs. Schuster, who mixes all the dough used in the operation, is of Norwegian origin. Her grandparents, the parents of her father, Ole Johnson, were lefse bakers in Norway and used the same recipe.

"Sure there's a secret to making good lefse," Mrs. Schuster said. "There are a lot of factors to consider. I favor Kennebec or white Cobbler potatoes. Ingredients in each batch are weighed and measured. The dough must have exactly the right consistency. The more water in the dough, the dough, the tougher the resulting product. Good lefse must be tender as well as flavorful."

At the Schuster bakery, 100 pounds of potatoes are cooked for each batch of dough. These are boiled with the skins on and left to cool and drain until the next day. They are then peeled and the dough is prepared with a heavy duty electric mixer. Flour and shortening are added to the mashed potatoes in just the right amounts to make a dough of proper consistency.

"We cook 500 pounds of potatoes a day," Mrs. Schuster said, deftly sifting flour on her rolling table and spreading out a lump of dough to feather-thin form. "Our production gives us 1,287 lefses a day—429 packages. We used to have our own route with 22 calls but now a bakery distributor handles our selling for us."

As far back as 1942, Mrs. Schuster began selling her product to neighbors. As the demand grew, she began making lefse commercially in 1945. Each year an increase in demand has been noted, making the recent addition to the bakery a necessity. Six women are now employed in the operation which is at its peak during the Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's holiday seasons.

"We operate from September through May," the housewife-turned-baker stated. "This entire season isn't all full scale production, but just as soon as potato trucks begin to roll in the fall we start to get orders for lefse. Right now we have ar 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. day, six days a week. The demand is so far ahead of the supply that I'm considering running a night shift too."

There isn't much room for expansion in the present addition. It is quite well filled with the electric mixer, gas-heated grills, rolling tables, sink and cooling racks. "I wish we had built clear on back to the alley. Then maybe we could keep up with the customers."

Employed at the bakery are Mrs. Ray Knutson, who assists with rolling out the lefse dough which is previously cut to size by Mrs. Schuster; Mrs. Randall Erickson and Mrs. Harland Knutson, who turn the lefse on the grills;

AAA Asks Greater Use of Seat Belts

Points out Results of Recent Indiana Survey

Seat belts can greatly reduce chances of serious injury or death in a traffic accident, according to the Minnesota AAA which is urging motorists in Minnesota to have seat belts installed in their cars—and to use them.

The motoring organization quoted an Indiana study of 495 fatal accidents which showed that 47 per cent of the persons killed were ejected through the door of the cars. It emphasized that seat belts prevent this hazard as well as the possibility of being thrown against the windshield, dashboard or other unyielding objects in an automobile.

"Seat belts are especially effective in crashes at moderate speeds," said E. Ray Cory, president of the Minnesota AAA. "It's important to note that 45 percent of all fatal traffic accidents occur at speeds under 40 mph."

Accident records in 22 states, he pointed out, reveal that seat belts were responsible for one-third to two-thirds fewer injuries and up to fourfifths fewer deaths.

"In addition to the safety factor," the AAA official explained, "seat belts add to the comfort and driving efficiency of the motorist. A seat belt helps to hold the driver in place on turns, in overtaking and passing and on rough roads. It also helps to reduce driver fatigue."

Editorials . . .

"Times of imperial collapse are always times of trouble. And we are living through the greatest of such disintegrations today. In 15 short years, the dominion which Western Europe exercised over most of Asia and Africa until the morrow of the Second World War has all but vanished. All Asia has emerged from colonial and semi-colonial control. Africa is in the violent throes of the same process. I doubt if empire on such a scale has ever ended at such breakneck speed. If history is our guide, so rapid and so vast a disintegration must bring the risk of confusion thrice confounded."

—Adlai E. Stevenson

That Interview

We know that Khrushchev authorized the publication of his son-in-law's interview with President Kennedy, but we don't know why. Neither do we known why he recognized Pope John with a friendly birthday greeting.

We are sure that Khrushchev has not had a change of heart. If it is true that he is the most dangerous when he smiles then he is at his most dangerous worst at the present time.

It is possible of course that his recent friendliness is prompted by fear. There have been several developments that might give him cause for concern. Red China is no longer a friendly neighbor apparently. Russia is no longer the undisputed head of the Communist world.

Khrushchev points to us as the world power he fears, but a strong and united Western Europe is emerging. The nations of Western Europe have indicated that they do not fear either Russia or Communism. They are doing well under a system that basically is capitalistic.

And there may have been developments within his own country that threaten his security. We have not been informed on what was done in the recent sessions of the party Congress, but we do know enough about what has happened to justify the conclusion that there is not complete harmony among Russia's Communist leaders.

Whatever may be the cause for Khrushchev's present effort to be friendly the interview with President Kennedy should be recognized as a friendly gesture and accepted as such. It was the first time any spokesman for the free world had an opportunity to reach the people of Russia with the free world point of view, through a media controlled by the Russian government. And President Kennedy's performance was excellent.

The interview was unusual in that it was not conducted in the usual manner of a reporter asking questions. This was a debate, which added to the effectiveness of the report. Khrushchev's son-in-law not only asked questions but he also discussed them, pointing out wherein the Russian point of view differs from ours.

This discussion was informative and friendly. It was, and is being read, not only by the people of Russia but by the people of all nations in their own languages. A few more discussions of that kind, with complete publicity, would do much to ease world tensions.

The Strong and the Weak

The administration's crazy home-building plan is running into difficulties. The small down payment, and the up-to-forty-years-to-pay, appeal to some buyers, but the mortgages have little appeal for investors, which is understandable.

If President Kennedy is seriously concerned about the solvency of the government, and we suspect that he is starting to be, then we suggest that he take a second look at all of the schemes that have been adopted to help individuals, organizations, and local and state units of government do the things they should do for themselves. Our country became great as a nation of free individuals, who became strong in the struggle for survival.

The question of solvency justifies a second look at all government spending. But another reason for a second look, of perhaps greater importance, is the effect a paternalistic government has on its citizens who, more and more, turn to the government for assistance. There already is evidence to justify the fear that our strong government is spawning a nation of weak individuals.

Fund Trouble in Canada

Canada has an Unemployment Insurance Fund, similar, we presume, to ours. A Committee of Inquiry is now investigating the operation wondering what has happened to the fund which faded from $926,700,000 in 1956 to $100,000,000 this year. The Ottawa Journal calls attention to the fact that this drop "came, it may be noted, not in a period of catastrophic depression such as afflicted us in the 1930s but in what is gently called a "recession" from which we are supposed to be climbing." The Journal continues:

"The common suggestion is that the fund has been abused. But by whom? By the people who have taken from it benefits they did not need or to which they were not entitled? By the Government which made the fund assume more responsibilities than it was designed to carry? By those who think they have been cheated if they do not collect benefits as well as make payments?

"The Unemployment Insurance Act has been valuable. It has allowed many Canadians to survive periods of reduced employment without loss of dignity as they collected benefits they themselves had made possible with their contributions added to those of employers and the Government. It would be pitiful if abuse should destroy or undermine this good scheme. The committee can ensure its survival but only if it produces an array of facts and follows them with specific recommendations on which the Government can act."

Our unemployment compensation laws and regulations need a thorough overhauling to eliminate abuses that have crept in. The abuses would not be tolerated if the people were aware of the fact that these costs are paid by them. The employers do not pay these costs but pass them along to the customers with other items of expense that must be handled as a part of the cost of doing business. The road contractor, because of the seasonal nature of his operations, pays large sums into the unemployment fund, but this item is included in the cost of building the road and is paid for by the taxpayers.

Reliefer Keeps Pool

(Milwaukee Journal)

Because she accepted the $1,000 swimming pool she had won on a television program last summer, Mrs. Elna Sawicki, a St. Paul mother of 10, has been denied $129 a month under the aid to dependent children program.

A luxury item like a swimming pool ought to be converted into cash and the money used to support the family.

But it was not on such sensible grounds that aid was denied. In best bureaucratic fashion, the county welfare board held that installation of the pool raised the equity of Mrs. Sawicki's property above the $7,500 permitted by state law.

Oh, yes, and Mrs. Sawicki is still eligible for $250 a month in direct relief!

Salty Potato

(Winnipeg Tribune)

Mr. Bonny castel said this week that Metro intends to toss back any hot potatoes that come its way. We hope this extends to the proposal to use 100 percent salt on Winnipeg streets this winter. This could be the hottest and saltiest potato on Metro's plate.

There's a warning for Metro in the signs that have begun to blossom around town. These signs invite motorists to spend their money on undercoating and other anti-salt devices. The fact that a heavy salt solution will corrode cars is taken for granted.

If Metro goes ahead with this ill-advised scheme, it can count on the anger of motorists, storekeepers, and women with salt tideline on expensive footwear.

Bingo and Charities

(St. Paul Pioneer Press)

The attorney general's order that bingo operators must file under the Minnesota charities law is a logical extention of that statute.

As Attorney General Mondale points out, bingo, is only legal in this state if conducted by religious, charitable, fraternal and other non-profit associations. Many of these same groups also come under the charities registration act. The public, under that law, has a right to know how much it costs to operate these bingo games and how much of the revenue goes toward charitable purposes.

Bingo operators who are adhering to state and local laws have nothing to fear from reporting their revenues and expenditures. But illegal or shady operators should be smoked out and this is an excellent way to do it.

THE ANDERSEN LETTER

from

Elmer L. Andersen

A Minnesotan in New York

In the several days I spent in New York we had some most encouraging meetings.

The first was for the food editors of leading magazines and newspapers. We served a turkey dinner, featuring the new pre-stuffed, boneless Minnesota turkey which was a big hit, and including in addition an all Minnesota menu of soup, potatoes, canned corn and peas, rolls, butter, milk and topped off with pumpkin pie.

As a background for the luncheon we had a display of Minnesota food products that I wish you could have seen! It was most impressive and the food editors made many notes. I am sure you'll be seeing mention of Minnesota produced foods in the weeks and months ahead. This is good publicity—to identify Minnesota with fine food—and to use the prestige of the Governor's office to call attention to the fine foods produced and processed in our state. The Department of Business Development under Commissioner Tom Swain did an excellent job of arranging this and other meetings and Minnesota industry extended every cooperation.

As another part of this food promotion, and again with the cooperation of industry, I sent a complete Thanksgiving dinner of Minnesota foods to all other Governors. Word is coming back of much favorable comment—and once again, a boost for what we produce and seek to sell.

The top officials of U. S. Steel came to another luncheon, including Mr. Roger Blough, Chairman of the Board, and Mr. Les Worthington, President. We discussed our mutual interest in Minnesota and how management, labor, government, and the public can work together to produce jobs. One thing became more firmly fixed in my mind—the impact of imports of ore and steel and foreign competition on our domestic industry. The steel industry of our country used to supply 59 percent of all the steel used in the world—we are now supplying less than 30 percent.

Also, there is no question but stabilization of Minnesota tax policy would be a great factor in encouraging investments in our state. This does not mean fixing of tax rates or granting special privilege—simply, by means of the taconite amendment, giving assurance that processors of taconite and semi-taconite would be taxed no higher than other industry. It is absolutely imperative that our people insist on their right to vote on this issue that can be so vital to our future. If you have not done so, write or call your state Senator or Representative.

I was host at another most interesting luncheon of the executives of New York based firms with substantial investments in Minnesota—IBM, Remington Rand, American Can, Bethlehem Steel and a host of others. The were already aware of some of the changes taking place in Minnesota on our state finances, interest in job development, stability of law enforcement—but appreciated the courtesy of this "thank you" luncheon and a first-hand report from the Minnesota Governor.

Still another meeting was with the security analysts—men skilled in checking companies, industries and areas of the country for growth possibilities. I emphasized the productivity of our people, their interest in education as key factors in our growth potential.

I also had my first appearance on a nationwide television show, interviewed by John Chancellor on the Today news program. I appreciate the many approving letters you have written. As many of you observed, I tried to mention Minnesota many times and to truly tell of the excellent characteristics of our fine people and the attractiveness of our recreational and industrial opportunities.

In addition there were many interviews with individual companies. Visits to Minnesota for investigation will result—and, I believe—new plants and and new jobs.

It would be only fair to report that because of past governmental attitudes and some provisions of our tax laws, particularly the personal property tax, some firms have not rated Minnesota very high on their scale of preference. By working together Minnesota can be put in the favorable light in deserves.

I felt privileged to be representing you as the Governor of Minnesota before a great many important people; I felt proud of the presentations that could be made; and returned feeling that we should do much more of this constructive promotion of Minnesota and the advantages it offers.

MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY! What is the value of a bounty in controlling predator animals? How much does it cost? Who pays the bill? Are the resulting facts as conclusive as the theory? Ask anyone who has had anything to do with bounty payments or collections and you will get a wide variety of answers.

To date Pennington county has paid $1,133 in fox bounties for 1961, of which 50 per cent of the cost is reimbursed from state game and fish funds. The county also has paid $325 in wolf bounties and $30 for bobcat bounties, all of which is 100 per cent reimbursed from the state. Much of the state funds comes from license sales. County funds come from our tax dollars.

Of main concern at this time is the value of fox bounty payments. Complaint of predator losses, primarily by poultry raisers, caused the Pennington county board to reinstate bounty payments last spring after several years when bounties were non-existent. The question is: "Do bounties pay their way in predator control?" An article in the Wisconsin Conservation Bulletin for May and June, 1961, gives an emphatic "NO".

Stressing the facts of "bounty economics", the article says a bounty of $2 for pups and $5 for adult fox was paid in Vernon county where a full-scale study was made. Pennington county respectively pays $1.50 and $3. The Wisconsin county sold about 2,000 small game licenses but only had 105 persons make an attempt to hunt fox—about two per cent in spite of the bounty incentive. A total of $1,200 of public money was paid to 193 non-hunters and non-trappers for fox that were killed by cars or other accidental means—fox which were dead anyway, bounty or no-bounty.

Eleven per cent of the trappers took more than half of the total fox taken by trapping—and they did it during four months of the year. Main efforts were in January, February, March and September. Why the lapses among good trappers when less qualified trappers had relatively uniform success year around? Trappers trap to make money—when pelts are good and the supply of raw materials can be protected.

A fox pup caught during the summer is worth only the pup bounty. By September he is still foolish and careless but sports a higher bounty price. A female fox, if caught while carrying six unborn pups in March or April, was worth $5 in the Wisconsin county. If left alone she would produce pups potentially worth $30 by September. And the trapping pattern showed the economic theory was practiced.

In summer months while the number of fox taken at its lowest ebb, predation was at its peak. That was when female fox were feeding pups, preying on poultry and young forms of wildlife. Hunters and trappers have a tendency to do their hunting and trapping in the easiest manner—in areas which are close to home, easily accessible by car and require the least physical exertion. Thinning of fox population in these areas permits an influx from adjacent areas for a balanced fox population with plenty of food for all. The fox population did not suffer—the tax-paying population did.

In the Wisconsin survey, only 16 per cent of the fox taken were killed near farm buildings and only one per cent where they were in a position to damage farm poultry when they were killed.

In 1946, after 14 years without bounties, Wisconsin bountied 23,428 fox. In 1957, after 12 continuous years of bounty "control", a total of 43,354 fox were taken. The state and counties spent about one and one-half million dollars on a system to "control" fox to almost double the number originally present.

How about Pennington county? Should things be different here? Check the payments on a monthly basis against the Wisconsin seasonal fox harvest: March, $159; April, $140; May, $85; June, $77; July, $69; August, $126; Sept., $81; Oct., $147; and Nov., $252. Perhaps there is just cause for mutiny on the bounty.

Does this remodeling tale strike home to any readers who have seen fit to make changes in their homes?

A TALE OF WHOA

I had a basement bleak and bare—
A likely spot, I reasoned, where
With little time and less expense
I'd build a den of common sense.

And so, with such a thought in mind,
I sought to seek what I could find
In line with what I had to spend.
I found, you guessed it, in the end—
Nothing!

But, being built of sterner stuff,
I figured I'd soon have enough.
An so my project slowly grew
While as I watched my plans spread, too.

I added things that would be nice
To give the place a bit more spice—
Not reckoning on my good wife
Who also likes fine things in life.

My little room is now complete,
As well as friend wife's room discrete.
They both contain the best of frills,
But what have I to pay the bills?—
Nothing!

Mrs. H. Schuster Has Lefse Touch

Mrs. Henry Hoard, wrapper; and Mrs. Clara Reierson, potato peeler.

"We can say we have shipped lefse to all 50 states and several countries in Europe," Mrs. Schuster said. "We don't do this in quantity, but frequently receive orders for small amounts from persons who have purchased our product previously."

How about extending the production season through the summer and freezing the lefse to help level off the holiday peak? "Many people think freezing lefse spoils the flavor. They would rather buy a fresh product. There's nothing wrong with frozen lefse, though, because I had some frozen for six months and it took a blue ribbon at the fair last summer. I've got the ribbon to prove it."

You don't have to prove it, Mrs. Schuster. I know the product is good. Pass the butter, please. We Scandinavians are satisfied.

TURNING lefse on the gas-heated grills is a job for experts. In the above photo is Mrs. Randall Erickson who flips the flat sheets of dough while Mrs. Ray Knutson rolls out the pre-cut wads of dough into the thin sheets. Mrs. Dagney Schuster, owner of the bakery, mixes all the dough and also rolls lefse for another grill where Mrs. Harland Knutson does the turning. The shop is located in an addition to the Schuster residence at 422 Horace av. N.

Collections for United Fund Now over $15,000 Mark

Outlook Is That Drive Will See $16,000 Turned In; Quota Is $18,725

Collections have now hit the $15,000 mark in the Pennington county United Fund campaign and reports remaining to be received could swell total to near the $16,000 figure, according to Robert Flynn, co-chairman of the business district solicitation and acting coordinator of the campaign completion.

While the amount collected is below the quota of $18,725, fund officials note that the percentage of quota attainment should be equal to or greater than the initial United Fund drive last year. Current collections amount to approximately 82 per cent of the quota.

Persons who have not yet turned in their fund receipts are urged to do so as soon as possible to Flynn at the Union State Bank or call MU 1-1930 to have one of the fund members pick them up. Persons who have not been contacted and would like to contribute may also call at the bank and make their contribution.

Recognition of outstanding contributors and fund personnel is planned as soon as the campaign is completed.

County Board Planning New Kratka Bridge

Votes to Increase Forthcoming Issue of Bonds to $170,000

The Pennington county board, at its regular December session Tuesday, was advised by Joseph Seidel, county engineer, that the Kratka bridge over the Red Lake river is in a badly deteriorated condition and needs to be replaced by a new structure.

After considering the matter, the board voted to rescind its resolution adopted earlier this year calling for the sale of $150,000 bonds to finance construction of the St. Hilaire bridge, and instead to increase the amount of the bond issue to $170,000, which would also provide funds for the Kratka span.

At the opening of bids on the St. Hilaire bridge November 14, the Sornsin Construction Co. of Fargo had submitted the low bid of $120,253, approximately $25,000 below the engineers' estimates. It is now planned to build both spans in 1962.

Other business transacted by the board Tuesday included acceptance of the completed project involving improvement of the Gully road two miles west of the east Pennington county line.

Also approved was the 1962 budget of $7,500 for the county agent's office, submitted by the extension committee. The figure for this year was $7,300.

Local Home Sustains $4,000 Damage in Fire Wednesday Morning

Fire caused by an over-heated wood and coal furnace gutted the Iver Austad home at 119 State av. S. Wednesday morning, causing an estimated $3,000 damage to the frame house and $1,000 to contents of the home. Two other fire calls in the past several days also resulted in approximately $350 damage and could have been considerably worse without prompt action by the local fire department.

Iver Austad told firemen that he was eating breakfast Wednesday morning when the fire broke thru the living room floor. Flames spread so fast that he was unable to use his own telephone and forced to run to a neighbor to put in the alarm at 9:15 a. m.

Fire Chief Roy Langevin reports that the blaze was believed caused by either a spark or overheating of the furnace located in a cellar beneath the house. The living room floor was burned through and collapsed and considerable damage was also done to other portions of the home.

Living room and dining room furniture were lost in the fire as well as a new sewing machine and other personal items. Much of the kitchen utensils and several appliances were saved and some clothing was removed from the home but most had heavy smoke damage and may not be usable.

Firemen spent about three hours in attempts to squelch the blaze and were served coffee and sandwiches by the local Salvation Army unit. An appeal has also been issued by the Salvation Army for used living room and dining room furniture and clothing for

Juel Chervestad Barn Razed in Fire

Nine Registered Cattle Perish in $10,000 Blaze

Fire of undetermined origin razed a 34x80 barn on the Juel Chervestad farm located 11 miles north and four miles east of Oklee late last night, causing a loss of building, livestock and equipment in the neighborhood of $10,000. Nine head of registered Aberdeen Angus cattle perished in the flames as well as some chickens and turkeys.

Seventeen-year-old Karen Chervestad, returning to her farm home after attending a Sunday School meeting at the Clearwater church, noted flames coming from the loft of the barn and the Oklee fire department was called. The fire had gained such headway that the department and neighbors who arrived at the farm were forced to confine their efforts to keeping the flames from spreading to other buildings.

Also lost in the fire was a large quantity of baled hay and some poultry equipment housed in the barn. The fire was first noted about 10:30 p. m. and firemen worked far into the night to bring the flames under control.

Specialist on Aging Talks to Rotary, Lions

Official Says Age Alone No Criterion for Judging People

Information on "a society caught up in the throes of a social revolution" was presented by Bernard Nash, executive secretary of the Governor's Citizen's Council on Aging, at a joint meeting of the Thief River Falls Lions and Rotary clubs Wednesday at the Elks club rooms. He advocated the organization of a planning committee to study needs and conditions in this area.

Preferring to use the words "challenge" and "opportunity" of aging rather than "problem", Nash said he would "take issue with people who say older people are dependent, decrepit or deficient". Age alone is not a criterion for determining the value of an individual, the state officer said, and education must be provided to make the public aware of this fact.

Reason for concern is evidenced by the "sheer numbers" which are beginning to show greater effects on our society. He cited the change in life expectancy of Minnesotans which was 37 years in 1858 when the state was formed, 47 in 1900 and now is 73 for females and 68.7 for males. This has been attributed to the conquering of communicable childhood diseases.

Rapid progress is now being made in reducing fatal conditions among older people with a prediction that the life expectancy would reach the 100 year mark in 39 years, according to the U. S. public health service. Projected figures indicate that by 1980 in Minnesota the population would increase 13 per cent in the 0-20 age group, seven per cent in the 21-64 age group and 22 per cent in the group over 65 years of age.

"By extending life and providing healthier later years, we are

"They must include the names of the parents and names and ages of all children in the family. All persons must re-apply since the former list will be discarded upon preparation of the new one. Letters may be sent to The Salvation Army, 115 Horace av. N., Thief River Falls, or applicants may apply in person at the above address.

"In addition to the Christmas baskets of food, we will also give toys which have been renovated and painted by the members of the Thief River Falls fire departments and used ice skates collected by the Thief River Falls Jaycees," Envoy Paulson added. "Dates when these gifts may be picked up will be announced at a later date. All recipients must apply in person to receive any of the items since no one is allowed to pick up baskets toys or skates for other persons."

Hospital Aux. Seeks Help

by Marvin Lundin
Times Reporter

EXPRESSION tells the story of this youngster's reaction to "Pinky the Puppet," presented as a gift to youngsters at Northwestern Hospital as a project of the Northwestern Hospital Auxiliary. Putting the hand-made puppet through its paces is Mrs. George T. Van Rooy, membership chairman of the auxiliary unit. The group is now accepting memberships for the coming year, seeking volunteers to help with the coffee shop, puppet making, magazine cart and other activities. The youngster above is Floyd Skjerping, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Skjerping of Holt.

Something special is being done to alleviate the fears of children when they experience the confines of a hospital for the first time. Due to the efforts of the Northwestern Hospital auxiliary in Thief River Falls, more than 200 hand-made versions of "Pinky the Puppet" have been given to youngsters who were patients in the local hospital.

To the diligent workers in the auxiliary who put countless hours of loving care into the construction of "Pinky," the puppet is more than a cut-cloth pattern with a head stuffed full of shredded silk stockings. It is part of a bridge over the gap between home and hospital for the many children who require at least an over-night hospital stay. To the youngsters it is companionship in cuddly form, something to hold when unfamiliar footsteps sound in the halls and white-clad aliens enter the room.

During the past year, to make the more than 200 puppets used in the hospital, auxiliary members cut two complete bolts of material according to pattern, stuffed the puppet heads, stitched, basted, sewed, assembled and pressed to complete the articles. The finished puppets are placed in plastic bags to await the welcome of a youthful patient.

While puppet-making occupies a great deal of time donated by auxiliary members, it is far from the only service provided by the industrious group. Other projects are the hospital coffee shop, magazine cart, writing kits, purchase

"Across from the Falls Theatre"

The Library Corner

by Eleanor Olson

Every week or so I give you gleanings from more illustrious reviewers who have written about the new books which are now on the Library shelves. I do this both because my own reading capacity is small with only a few minutes to devote to it each night, and because I know my reading tastes are not varied enough to please or interest everyone.

Now and again as I read reviews I become so interested in a particular book that I straightway want to read it. That happened when I read of H. Allen Smith's latest book "How To Write Without Knowing Nothing". The title seemed a very apt description of myself and the contents interested me, as well, since it was said to deal with words.

I had never read any of Mr. Smith's other books. My first impulse is always to avoid those dubbed as "hilarious," "humorous" or "funny." This is not because (I hope) I lack a "funny-bone," but because I feel I am disappointing the author when I am supposed to laugh, laugh, laugh and don't. After some years of research I have decided that most of these books probably are funny, but that they are most enjoyable when they are read aloud. I enjoyed excerpts of Jean Kerr's "The Snake Hass All the Lines" when I heard them read on CBC but I found it tedious when I tried to read it myself. As a test I tried bits of it out on my husband. He reacted with chuckles and roars as was expected. So I conclude that many funny books are designed not just to be read, but to be shared.

This involved personal theory doesn't apply however to "How to Write Without Knowing Nothing." Most of it is amusing (or interesting) to the solitary reader. I liked particularly the chapters relating the colorful misuse of words. This misuse often conveys the speakers' meanings more thoroughly than the correct usage would have. Dizzy Dean is a noted champion of malapropisms. Not only does Mr. Dean misuse words, he mispronounces them so magnificently that his speech mannerisms are even more colorful than the games of baseball which he played and described.

Mr. Smith went on to record "spoonerisms." This was a new term to me, but it involves the transposing of letters in words or words themselves in sentences. (A lady might ask the butcher for "half a dozen chork pops.") Radio announcers and public speakers, trying hard to speak correctly, seem especially prone to this end result. Only this morning, in my new awareness, I heard a commentator suggest that the most helpful aid to winter drivers was a "sand of bag" in the trunk of their cars.

I found the chapter on misquotes extremely interesting since I had read of this phenomena before. But I had not stopped to consider the problems involved in "not speaking to someone" or of the code of honor involved. Neither was I aware of the great hazards involved in "story telling." In fact Mr. Smith's book opened up a whole new world of fascinating pastimes to me. Perhaps it will do the same for you.

150 Members Attend VFW & Auxiliary Rally in City Last Sunday

Nearly 150 Veterans of Foreign Wars and auxiliary members attended the Ninth district Winter rally held Sunday at the VFW club rooms in Thief River Falls. Approximately 20 VFW posts and 14 auxiliary units were represented at the rally which opened with a noon dinner. Mayor Orin Green welcomed the group to the city.

Lowell Eastlund, department adjutant-quartermaster, was guest speaker at the post meeting attended by 86 persons following the noon dinner in the club rooms. Floyd Hovland, Ada, district commander, presided at the business session. Eastlund discussed the nursery building addition to the Veterans Administration hospital in Minneapolis, urging all posts to support a fund raising project for this unit soon so that the building could be ready for the national VFW convention to be held in the Twin Cities in 1962.

On a written ballot by delegates present, following discussion of facilities available, Bemidji was given a 2-1 vote of confidence for Ninth District support in its bid for the department convention in 1963. Moorhead had also asked support for its convention bid.

Breckenridge was awarded the spring district rally when bids submitted by Crookston, Moorhead and McIntosh were withdrawn. Announcement was made that the 1962 Loyalty Day parade would be held in Ada next spring. It was also noted that the Ninth District VFW midget hockey league would be comprised of teams from Thief River Falls, Roseau, Crookston and East Grand Forks and that the state tournament would be held in Roseau.

Lloyd Lindseth, McIntosh, district senior vice commander and membership chairman, presented membership awards to the highest ranking posts in several divisions. The Thief River Falls post won an award for having the greatest percentage of the 1961 membership attained for 1962 among posts with membership over 30. Ada copped the contest for posts with membership between 150 and 299 while Kellier won the award for posts below the 150 mark in membership. Lengby won the traveling trophy for the highest percentage of increase in membership for 1961.

Mrs. Emma Stroschein, district auxiliary president, presided at the auxiliary rally held following the dinner in the Odd Fellows Hall. Mrs. Lola Reid, St. Paul, department senior vice president and auxiliary membership chairman, was guest speaker and presented membership awards for 1961. Thief River Falls unit was cited for having the largest number of new and reinstated members among larger units in the district while Shelly took the honors for smaller units.

Mrs. Myrtle Lovejoy, East Grand Forks, district chairman of the National Home committee, reported that five boys from the Ninth District were residents of the home for orphans of war veterans at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Also speaking at the meeting were Lowell Eastlund and Floyd Hovland. R. C. Vinall, assistant director of the Veterans Administration Center at Fargo, addressed the group and expressed thanks for the television set which had been presented by the Thief River Falls auxiliary unit to the Fargo VA hospital at the noon dinner.

FIREMEN from the Thief River Falls fire department battled for three hours yesterday to extinguish a stubborn fire which gutted the Iver Austad home at 119 State av. S. in this city. The blaze was believed caused by an over-heated wood and coal furnace in the dirt cellar of the house. Damage was estimated at $3,000 to the building and about $1,000 to personal items which included a new sewing machine, living and dining room furniture and clothing. The family is currently staying at the home of Rev. Waldo Trask and the Salvation Army has issued an appeal for used furniture and clothing for the family. The family includes Mr. and Mrs. Austad and sons Daniel, 22, and Harold, 17.

Hospital Auxiliary Invites Women to Become Members

of new patient dishes, rehabilitation department assistance and a Christmas party for hospital staff members.

To give relatives of critically ill patients a place to secure a cup of coffee without leaving the building, the auxiliary operates the hospital coffee shop from 2 to 4 p. m. each day. The shop also provides toiletries and gifts which visitors can purchase for patients. Last year 20 women worked one afternoon a month to keep the shop open and 65 women baked cookies and bars to provide the daily fare. Many of the gifts were donated by auxiliary members to increase the profit which is used to finance other service projects.

Twice a week the magazine cart makes its rounds of hospital corridors, providing reading material to patients. Many is the long stay which has been brightened by the availability of periodicals which are donated to the cart by auxiliary members.

The auxiliary has now completed the contribution of a complete set of patient dishes and silverware to the hospital at a total cost of approximately $1,800. The group also sponsors, for public entertainment and community promotion as well as profit-making, an annual style show which is very complete and is generally well attended.

This is the period of the year when an all-out campaign for membership is being held by the group, with Mrs. George T. Van Rooy as membership chairman. Dues of one dollar per year are used together with profit-making ventures to help support auxiliary activities, making hospitalization a little more pleasant for hundreds of patients each year. Further details on project work and how to become a working member may be obtained from Mrs. J. J. Womack, president, or Mrs. H. N. Boroson, gift shop chairman.

Perhaps your child has received "Pinky the Puppet" while hospitalized. If so, you know how much it was enjoyed. Wouldn't you like to help make some other child a little happier by joining in the auxiliary project? It will be a rewarding opportunity to take part in community service.

Specialist on Aging Addresses Lions and Rotary

creating a challenge for the older citizens," Nash told the group. "We accept the changes which come with age. Of 1,700 persons over age 65 surveyed last year, 48 per cent believed themselves to be middle aged. Lack of activity, forcing older persons to spend time in the past, is the major cause of senior citizens becoming senile. Keeping active is the key in remaining physically and mentally healthy."

Nash told how the state began research on the situation in 1951 and a commission was appointed in 1953. Governor Orville Freeman in 1955 established the citizen's council on aging in 1955 and this group was made permanent by an act of the state legislature at the last term.

Referring to the age limit of 65 years for retirement as 'economic stupidity", Nash cited the 45-57 age group as the best productive employees. He added that a very small percentage of production loss occurred through age 65 and that many persons are fully capable of being valued workers for many years after reaching the general retirement age of 65.

Research has also indicated that persons retiring have an average total net worth of $7,500 and their income is reduced to less than half upon retirement. Most people have no plan for retirement other than one long-awaited trip, more time for recreational sports or just "takng it easy." Activity is needed to keep the individual active and healthy and to continue as a useful citizen.

Pennington county has 1,290 persons over age 65—10.3 per cent of the county's population, the specialist on aging said. Of these people, 75.9 per cent have an income of $2,000 or less annually and 24 per cent receive welfare payments. "I don't need to tell you businessmen what this means to your economic status," he said.

At an informal meeting of interested Lions and Rotary members following the combined session, Nash explained what is being done in other communities throughout the state. He cited challenges in the fields of health, housing, employment, education and leisure time opportunity. Under state law, the county board of commissioners is authorized to establish a committee on aging to implement work in the community. The group is expected to ask the Pennington county board to take action in initiating a program of activity.

the family which is currently residing at the Rev. Waldo Trask home.

At 3:56 p. m. Tuesday the fire department was called to the Thief River Potato company warehouse at Sixth st. and Atlantic av. where a blaze was ignited from a defective drop cord. The fire started in one wall of the office and caused about $200 damage before being brought under control.

At 4:55 p. m. Wednesday the department was again called out, this time to the D&Q Motel and Cabins property at 522 Sixth st. W., where a boy playing with a candle had ignited a bed in one of the cabins. Damage to the bed and smoke damage to the cabin was estimated at approximately $150.

Fred Sorenson Is Asked to Share in Farm Conference

Vocational School Ag Man Invited to St. Paul Parley by Gov. Anderson

Fred Sorenson, agriculture coordinator for the Thief River Falls area vocational school, will attend a statewide conference on agriculture and country life to be held Friday, December 15, at the student center of the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture in St. Paul. The conference has been called by Governor Elmer L. Andersen.

"As a citizen interested in the welfare of farm families, I would like you to attend and participate in this conference," the Governor's invitation states. The conference will be held to explore ways of improving Minnesota's agriculture, promote our state's crops, develop new markets and take steps necessary to improve rural life.

Robert G. Rupp, managing editor of the Farmer Magazine, will be chairman of the conference. Duane Wilson, commissioner of agriculture, has assisted in planning the program. Speakers will be Frederick Deming, chairman of the research committee of the Upper Midwest Economics Study council; George Donohue, extension rural sociologist; and T. H. Fenske, associate dean of the institute of agriculture.

Workshops will be held on "The Changing Rural Family", "Development of Industry in Rural Areas", "Changing Problems of Services to Rural Areas", "Specialty Crops", "Field Crops", "Meat Animals", "Dairy", "Poultry", "Education", "Youth and Career Opportunities" and "Financing and Agriculture."

Sorenson will attend the conference following a meeting of vocational agriculture coordinators of the state department of education the previous day.

Aviation Fans to Organize Tuesday

Meeting at City Airport Is Scheduled for 8 p.m.

Due to conflicting dates the meeting of area aviation enthusiasts originally set for Dec. 14 has been moved ahead to Dec. 12. The meeting will be held at the municipal airport at 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

Reason for the advancement of the EAA organization meet is that tests for those who attended the Area Vocational school night ground school will be given next Thursday evening and would prevent attendance of these people at the other meeting if the two were to be held the same date.

It was announced today that new materials have been received from national headquarters of the Experimental Aircraft Assn. for next Tuesday's meeting and it is hoped official EAA films will be available also.

The original chapter organization meeting was held at the airport last Thursday evening but bad road conditions prevented attendance by interested individuals outside the Thief River Falls area. However, local attendance was very encouraging and principals involved are optimistic that a live-wire area aviation group will be organized Tuesday.

Films and slides will again be shown for the benefit of those who were unable to make the meeting last week. Everyone interested in aviation, flyer and non-flyer, is invited.

Ralph Luhman Is Host at Dinner to FIF Associates

The Ralph A. Luhman district of FIF Associates, Inc., investment firm, held its annual meeting and dinner at the Rex Cafe, Saturday evening, December 2, with the wives of the associates as guests. Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hildahl, Roseau; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hackett, Bemidji; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Taylor, Fosston; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gulbranson, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lee, and Mr. and Mrs. Jon Metusalem, all of Thief River Falls.

Ralph A. Luhman, district manager, conducted the meeting, with each of the associates giving talks. Mr. Hildahl, in behalf of the associates, presented Luhman with a gift.

One Minor Traffic Mishap Reported

Car Stolen Tuesday Is Recovered Next Day

City police reported a fairly quiet week in the city thus far, with only one traffic mishap and a stolen car, recovered, to mar the period.

The mishap occurred Monday at 12:35 p. m. when a car driven by Leighton Hamre, city, who was going west on Gulf st. collided with another car driven north on Kendall av. by Chas. W. Potucek, city.

Police estimated damage to the Hamre car at $35, to Potucek's at $100. Potucek was tagged for failure to yield the right-of-way.

The stolen car was reported to the police by Ted Johnson, rt. 5, Dec. 5 and was recovered Dec. 6 in the alley between the 200 blocks of Main and LaBree avenues. Police are investigating.

HIGHEST ranking in the state for soil testing qualified Pennington county to receive the top state award for the second successive year, and Paul Stelmaschuk, county agricultural agent, is shown at left accepting a plaque from a representative of "The Farmer" magazine at the annual extension agent convention in St. Paul. County fertilizer dealers and banks assisted in sponsoring the testing program which resulted in 219 farmers taking 738 samples this year.

Calendars Being Given TRF Scouts

Distributed by Bilek to Cub and Boy Scouts

Registered Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts of Thief River Falls will be the recipients of personal copies of the official 1962 Cub Scout and Boy Scout personal record calendars in the month of December.

The calendars are being delivered to cub pack and scout troop leaders by Ed Bilek, district executive of the Lake Agassiz Council. The unit leaders will make them available to the cubs and scouts at den, pack and troop meetings during the remainder of the month.

Both types of calendars feature the ideals of the program, highlight religious and national holidays, and contain space for personal notes and record.

The Cub Scout calendars are sponsored by the Drott's Insurance Agency, and the Boy Scout calendars are sponsored by the Northern State Bank, in the interest of the scouting membership in the community. It is the first time in several years that these calendars are being made available to the local scouts by local businesses.

Little Chance for Control of Turkey Output Seen in '62

Roy Shetler, proprietor of Shetler's Hatchery, has received a letter from Ray Munson, executive secretary of the Minnesota Turkey Growers association, in which he expressed doubt that any turkey production control program can be adopted and put into effect for the coming year. He stated that while proposals for controls have been suggested, there seems to be no one plan in prospect that would meet with the quick approval that would be necessary for 1962 operations.

The forecast is for variable cloudiness and cold today, with scattered snow flurries. Partly cloudy tonight, becoming mostly cloudy Friday with more snow flurries. No important temperature changes are expected, with highs today from 12-20 and lows around zero.

Three Local Men at Fergus Parley

Attend Meeting of State Young Farmers Committee

Three Thief River Falls men represented this community at a meeting of the Minnesota Young Farmers Committee held Saturday at Fergus Falls. Stanley Andrews, information specialist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C. was guest speaker at the session.

Fred Sorensen, agriculture coordinator for the Thief River Falls area vocational school, reported at the meeting on results of the survey held in this area to determine the availability of soil bank land upon expiration of government contracts. The local survey has indicated that little land would be available for general sale or rental upon contract expiration.

Arthur Hansen, state director of the Farmers Home Administration, also spoke at the event. He stated that in most counties of the state the loss through the supervised credit program was extremely small and that inter-valuable instrument in agricultural finance at relatively low government cost.

Also attending the meeting from Thief River Falls were Joe Rosengren, Pennington county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration; and Arnt Aune, director of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school.

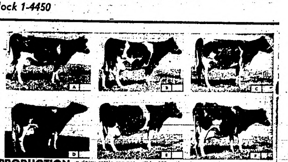
Disabled Children May Get Benefits

Do you know that social security benefits are payable for children of persons entitled to monthly social security checks, or for the children of deceased persons? Ordinarily these benefits stop when the child becomes 18.

But what if the child became disabled before age 18 and continues to be disabled? Then benefits can continue.

Monthly benefits are now being paid to 110,000 disabled adult children of beneficiaries. For complete information, contact your social security office.



PRODUCTION in dairy cattle can not be determined by the type and body conformation of the animal. Area residents numbering 221 who attempted to pick the top producers in order from the above group had scores ranging from two to 90 out of a possible 100 rating but none had a perfect score. The contest was sponsored as a promotion to encourage dairy testing programs which help farmers get the most from their herds. Correct placing of the above is D, B, C, E, F and A with corresponding production of 551, 512, 430, 423, 404 and 360.

Contest Reveals You Can't Judge Output of Dairy Cows by Looks

"You can't tell the production of a dairy cow by the appearance of the animal," states Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agricultural agent. "Proof of this is shown in the fact that 221 area residents attempted to do so in a county judging contest and none of them listed the six cows pictured in proper order of production. Scores ranged from two to 90 out of a possible one hundred.

"Looking at a cows type and body conformation does not always identify her ability to produce," the county agent said. Production can only be accurately measured through a testing program— D. H. I. A., owner-sampler or culling guide. Farmers who would like more information about dairy testing are encouraged to contact the extension office."

First, second and third place winners respectively at various business places sponsoring the contest were the following:

CHAMBER L.I.F.E.

Living-Industry-Farming-Education

By Rolly Larson
Manager Chamber of Commerce

"Leadership" is a word that is used quite loosely. So many times we express ourselves in admiration of various individuals who have done certain jobs in a creditable manner. These people have earned respect through their demonstration of outstanding leadership ability.

Many other times and perhaps more often we find ourselves calling various individuals "leaders" when we justifiably should be reprimanding them for demonstrating a distinct lack of leadership ability.

In this business of community development our prime resource is people. We need leaders. Leadership doesn't mean fancy titles, paper committees and list of names of non-functional individuals. Leadership means to grab hold of a thing and move out in front to realize a favorable result or effect. We need people in Thief River Falls and in this area who will grab hold of some of the community problems that are right under our very noses, hang tough until satisfactory solutions can be achieved, and then proceed to make even more accomplishments. Too few individuals, including those who are in particularly fine places to display leadership, really do so with any amount of dependability.

Along with leadership, we can discuss "followership". We have an abundance of individuals who are not even intelligent followers. We have those who would elect people to office within a government body or within an organization and then proceed to harass them with ignorant injections, objections, etc., throughout the year rather than lending some well-deserved and needed support.

In a nutshell, it could be said that each one of us should, with objectivity, get off our duffs and try to do a better job of being citizens. Citizenship is a subject all in itself but it is quite self-explanatory. Thief River Falls has a challenge for each one of us. If we have the intestinal fortitude to challenge, the stick-to-it'edness to solve problems, and the pride that we should maintain in our home town, we can progress as we should. Thief River Falls is a fine community by numerous comparable standards, only because those ahead of us made it this way. It will continue to progress only in ratio to the amount of thought and effort that you and I put into it now that our turn at it has arrived. And our turn has arrived! This town needs more demonstration of leadership and I hope that in coming months it shows itself.

Your leadership will show itself if you Shop and Trade Where Bargains Are Made—In the Heart of Northwest Minnesota, Thief River Falls.

DALEN GREEN IS ENGAGED IN PRACTICE TEACHING

Dalen Green, son of D. S. Green of this city and senior student at the University of North Dakota, has begun six weeks of practice teaching at Warren high school. A 1957 graduate of Lincoln high school, he is majoring in industrial arts and will receive his bachelor of arts degree in June.

Lake Bronson Five Whips Newfolden

Registers 68-36 Victory over Nordics on Friday

The Newfolden Nordics fell 68 to 36 to a veteran Lake Bronson team in a game played at Lake Bronson on Friday, December 1. The Braves had four men in double figures led by Galen Sele, forward, with 18 points. Ricky Inman was high point man for the Nordics with 10 points.

The Nordics made a good fight of it in the first quarter when they were able to hit from around the key and the sides against Lake Bronson's zone defense as they were behind only 19 to 14. The Braves began to pull away in the second quarter as they outscored the Nordics 13 to 5 to go off the floor at halftime with a 32 to 19 lead. The third quarter was quite even with the Braves getting 9 to the Nordics 8 points to bring a third quarter score of 41 to 27. However, the Braves buried the Nordics in the fourth quarter as coach Komoutek took a look at many of his new players up from the "B" squad to outscore the Nordics 27 points to 9 for a final 68 to 36 score.

Newfolden's "A" squad has only three returning lettermen from last year's squad which lost to the District Champions, Baudette, by a close margin. They are co-captains Ronald Shern and Richard Inman, both seniors, and James Dahl, a junior. The only other senior on the squad is Richard Ellingson who did not stay out for basketball last year. Two more juniors, Lester Bakke and Neil Martin and six sophomores, Kenny Carlson, John Dill, Verne Hagenbeck, Charles Olson, Jerry and Terry Strandquist round out the squad.

Coach Sheldon Elseth's "B" squad made up mainly of 8th and 9th graders lost 61 to 13 to the Lake Bronson "B" squad. With most of its players from last year graduated to the "A" squad, this team had no one with much experience playing.

Next game for the Nordics will be at Roseau on Friday, December 8th. The only home game before the Christmas holidays will be against Badger on December 15th.

Local Student on Wrestling Squad at Bemidji State

Bemidji State College gymnasts will get their first chance at intercollegiate competition Saturday at 2 p. m. when they entain the Cobbers of Concordia College at the physical education building.

Dr. Bob Montebello, coach of the Beaver gym team, has only one letterman on his squad with the bulk of his team made up of freshmen. The Cobber squad is reportedly loaded with veterans.

Darrel Stokes of Grand Rapids is the Beaver captain and the only letterman, and he will be supported by a 10 man squad led by Phil Bowman of Grand Rapids, John Hazekamp and Dick McIntire of Lombard, Illinois, Chad Jewett of Thief River Falls and Ed Broom of St. Paul.

Moving Indoors

Coach Gene Sack's hockey Prowlers, led by co-captains Larry Poole and Tim Teal, moved into the Arena on Monday evening to begin their workouts on the Arena ice sheet. The ice was somewhat green and bumpy, but the boys will whittle the bumps down in a hurry.

And it's about time, that the Prowlers get down to serious practice in preparation for the 1961-62 season, for the locals will open their schedule on Friday, Dec. 15 when they meet coach Sergio Gambucci's Grand Forks Redskins on the artificial ice sheet in the Winter Sports Building on the North Dakota U campus. This game will be the start of a 19-game slate which will find the Prowlers meeting some of the state's top-ranked hockey teams.

The local squad suffered a blow when it was learned that Jack Houfek, one of the better skaters on last season's team, has been declared ineligible. During the latter stages of last season's play, Jack was developing into a first-rate defenseman.

On the plus side in Monday's opening drill was the appearance on the ice of Jerome (Tony) Poole. Tony, you will recall, injured his wrists several weeks ago and it was doubtful if the winger would be ready for play until after Christmas. Tony will perhaps "sit out" the first couple of games, but then he sould be ready to join center Larry Poole and wing Tim Teal to form the Prowlers' number one line.

According to present plans, coach Sack hopes to utilize the sophomore line of center Don Mathieu and wings Wayne Loeffler and Elroy Froiland as his second line.

The blue-line contingent will be manned by Tom Morben, Bobby Benson, Dick Johnson, Jim Ranum and Ron Kvikstad. Veteran Tom Teal will guard the nets, with John Hellquist in reserve.

More of the Same

The vast majority of the fans who were in the high school gymnasium last Friday night were pleased, and entertained, by the hustling style of basketball presented by the Ada Vikings and the Prowlers. And more of the same should be exhibited for the fans who attend Friday night's district conference game here between coach Irv St. John's Warren Ponies and Jack Junker's Prowlers.

The Ponies, a long-time and traditional rival of the Prowlers, opened their season's schedule last week by scoring a lop-sided win over the Mahnomen Indians at Mahnomen. Warren, always at its best against the locals, is better supplied with returning regulars than the Prowlers. Last year, in three games, the Prowlers defeated the Ponies, 55-39, 70-48, and 45-30. That 45-30 game was in district tournament play at Grand Forks. Of that Warren team, Bob Peterson, Jerry Cook, and Tom Howard are returnees for this season's club. That trio should give coach St. John a fine nucleus for this year's Ponies. Cook is a first-class play-making guard and a competent scorer; and so is Howard. Peterson, with good speed and leg-spring (he is the district's ranking high hurdler), is a rugged rebounder.

The Prowler basketball squad, after having been gifted over the years by the presence of "big" men—Roger Williamson, Art Johnson, Dave and Ronnie Hanson—on the squads, this season will have to scramble and battle for control of the boards. It is quite a change for the team, and the fans, but it makes for an exciting game.

Maroons vs. the Sioux

If the weather and road conditions are favorable, it is probable that several carloads of hockey fans will make the sixty-mile trip to Roseau on Saturday night, Dec. 9, for the Winnipeg Maroons vs. North Dakota Sioux hockey game. Face-off time is at 8:30 p. m. in the Roseau Memorial Arena.

A week ago, the Maroons, rated as one of Canada's top senior hockey teams, and a club that will make an effort to represent Canada in the world's hockey tournament next season, defeated the Sioux, 4-2, in a game played at Grand Forks.

The Maroons, with such former States-Dominion league players as Bill Juzda, Fred Dunsmore, Gordy Simpson, Ron Castellane, Sheldon Bloomer, and others, are an entertaining club to watch. And with the numerous Canadians that are on coach Barry Thorndycraft's North Dakota squad, the rivalry between the oldsters and youngsters is quite intense.

Plummer Quintet Wins 1st 2 Games

Cardinals Will Play at Red Lake Falls Friday

The Plummer Cardinals have started their basketball season with two victories.

The season opener was against Mentor on Nov. 28, with Plummer winning 47-42. High point man for the Cardinals was Richard Vigstol with 19 points. Gary Greendahl was Mentor's high point man with 20 points.

The Plummer starting line up consists of Richard Vigstol, center; Donnie Fox and Clyde Pedersen, forwards; and Dennis Wilkens and Larry Myhre, guards. The other players who make up the "A" team are Rodney Eskell, Bob Neimi, Russell Vigstol, Greg Toupin, Marvin Walter, Rodney Myhre, and Dennis Hyde.

On Friday, Dec. 1, Plummer played at Goodridge and came home with a 51-46 victory over the Huskies. Richard Vigstol was Plummer's high point man with 23 total points. Gary Johnson was the Huskies high point man with 11 points.

Plummer next meets against Red Lake Falls, on Friday, Dec. 8, at Red Lake Falls.

November Weather on Par with Month in '60

November of 1961 averaged just a little colder than the 11th month of 1960, according to an analysis of records maintained at the Times office. Precipitation was higher than 1960 but about on a par with 1958 and 1959. While snow fell in quantity on November 23 of this year when 5.2 inches was the recorded total, there were no November blizzards, which are common to this area.

High temperatures averaged 36.37 degrees as compared to 36.53 degrees in 1960 but low readings averaged 17.7 degrees, substantially below the average low reading of 20.1 degrees for 1960. Mean temperature for November of this year was 26.98 in comparison with 28.32 last year.

Snowfall totaled an even seven inches during the past month as compared with only 1.23 inches of total precipitation in 1960's Thanksgiving month. In 1959 November yielded 5.7 inches of snow while in 1958 the monthly total was an even eight inches of snow and rain.

On two occasions during November the mercury rose to 54 degrees, November 1 and 11, for the high marks of the month. A low of -4, the only sub-zero reading of the month, took the honors for low reading on the 27th. In 1960 the November high was 49 degrees while the low was a -7 reading. The freezing mark of 32 degrees was noted six times during this November, five times as a high reading and once as the daily low temperature.

Only 10 days had high temperatures of freezing or lower during the month although 13 other high readings failed to climb out of the 30's. Low readings of 32 degrees on November 1 and 36 degrees on November 11 were the only low marks which matched or surpassed the freezing mark. High and low temperatures for the month and precipitation recorded at the municipal airport are as follows:

Motorists Warned of Light Snowfall

May be as Dangerous as Full-fledged Blizzard

A light or moderate snowfall may well be as dangerous as a blizzard, motorists were advised today by the Minnesota highway department.

When blizzards develop, no one is fooled. Safety becomes a matter of real concern and drivers stay off the highways if at all possible. But light snow is deceiving and many motorists fail to realize just how treacherous snow and ice can become—until they are stalled or caught skidding into a ditch.

Safe driving rules for snow conditions include:

Get to know the feel of the road by gently pumping brakes intermittently when first starting out. Then, drive at conservative speeds.

Follow other vehicles at safe distances, giving yourself plenty of margin for braking and other maneuvers if the car ahead suddenly stops or goes into a spin or skid.

Use tire chains in addition to snow tires when traveling on ice or hardpacked snow.

If it's necessary to stop suddenly, don't slam on the brakes. Pump them down gently intermittently. A fast stop will throw you into a spin or skid.

Always keep windshields clear of snow, frost and ice. If vision is obscured, pull off the traveled portion and clear away snow and ice. Periodic checks of defrosters and windshield wipers will help you avoid losing a clear picture of the road ahead.

Remember too, that you must clear you windshield before you start moving. Driving while looking through only a "peephole" in the windshield can zero you in on a tragic mishap.

GOOD IS WHERE YOU FIND IT

Back in 1921 a Florence lady left a silver mesh bag at a Tyler jewelry store for repairs. And apparently forgot it. Forty years later the son of the jeweler who did the $3.75 repair job handed the surprised lady her bag, with the compliments of the store. . . A Redwood Falls soybean grower missed a wedding ring while loading a big truck with beans; elevator employees screen about half the 50-bushel load—and returned the ring to the happy owner. . . . A used car salesman in Hibbing took a lot of ribbing when the trunk of an old model he had sold for $75 yielded in perfectly good currency of the land the considerable nest egg or $7,000.

Highway Department Against Office Party

Employers should take a "new look" at office parties and help prevent the drinking driver, the speeder, from reaching the highways, according to the Minnesota highway department.

Alcohol and excessive speed go hand-in-hand in contributing to the causes of traffic accidents. These two factors, chief products of "wet" holiday parties, are involved in about two-thirds of all fatal mishaps.

In Minnesota alone, excessive speed was a factor in more than 30 per cent of the fatal mishaps occurring during the first half of 1961, and the drinking driver was involved in more than 30 per cent of the fatal accidents of the first six months. During the holiday season, the involvement rate is much higher.

While not legally responsible for employees after they leave the office or plant, employers should consider themselves morally responsible for mishaps occurring because of a company-sponsored event.

Social drinkers, the one or two cocktail drinkers, are a bigger menace on the road than the obvious drunk. The "staggering drunk" usually is aware of his inability to operate a vehicle, but the social drinker will not admit to himself that two drinks will affect his driving ability. It does—and it takes three hours to eliminate the effect of two cocktails.

If liquor is served at a holiday party, an employer should assume the responsibility of providing free and safe transportation home for each celebrator. All hosts of such parties should take this safety precaution.

However—if all office parties were kept dry, workers and their families, would escape the tragedy of a saddened Christmas caused

Agreement At Last

Twenty members of the Legislature, meeting as unofficial conference committee to iron out the differences that have stood in the way of congressional redistricting, finally came up with a proposal that seems to have the approval of both the Liberals and the Conservatives. It now is likely that the problem can be disposed of in a short special session and Minnesota's eight congressmen will be elected by districts rather than at large.

What has now been accomplished, no doubt could have been accomplished in the regular session, but that is water over the dam. We are satisfied that the responsibility for the inexcusable deadlock should properly be charge equally to the leaders of both groups. Let's try to keep it from happening again.

Russian Reaction

Izvestia, Russia's official government newspaper, published its editor's interview with President Kennedy without comment. Later editions of the paper however were critical of some of the President's statements.

Pravda, the official voice of the Communist party, was more conciliatory, admitting that war is not inevitable. It featured an article by Ilya Ehrenburg, a prominent Soviet writer, which concluded that President Kennedy was "sufficiently sober" not to run the risks of a nuclear war.

All of which is quite encouraging. In our country we are accustomed to reading conflicting newspaper opinions, which encourages readers to have some opinions of their own. The Russian people are not accustomed to hearing any suggestion that there may be two sides to an important international issue.

Whatever Pravda and Izvestia say on any subject is no doubt decided by the same board of directors, but it is interesting to know that the directors are now encouraging a little independent thinking by the readers.

Washington Booms

Business is brisk in Washington, thanks to increased government spending. The administration is building, or plans to build, 34 new structures in the area. In order to provide quarters for the steadily increasing number of officials and employees, space in private buildings is being leased.

President Kennedy has ordered curtailed spending but so far there is little evidence of curtailment. About the only thing that seems certain is more inflation. With continued deficit spending and increased debt, inflation is inevitable.

The Far East Sun Rises

There are encouraging reports from the Orient. Japan and India are discovering each other, finding that they have many interests in common. Writing from Bombay, Sharokh Sabavala, Christian Science Monitor reporter, states that there is "gratification, not unmixed with surprise," in the reaction in India to the New Delhi visit of Japan's Premier. This follows an exchange of visits by Indian and Japanese officials, followed by last year's New Delhi visit of Japan's Crown Prince and Princess, as Sabavala reports the developments. He states:

> "Gratification arises out of the seeming near unanimity of views on foreign affairs and allied subjects between the two Premiers.
> "Surprise is caused that this should be so since India always has been led to understand that Japan was entirely Western oriented."

The governments of India and Japan are friendly to us, and they both are suspicious of the motives of the Chinese Communists. If we can maintain a good relationship with Japan and India, and they with each other, our problems in the Far East would be greatly simplified. Such a combination of interests and objectives could be helpful in influencing the thinking of other governments in that area that are under Communist pressure.

With India and Japan working together in a program of development in the Far East area, that area problem becomes much less difficult.

Sorry, No More Hysterics

James Reston, New York Times writer, tells us that President Kennedy "is backing away from his do-it-now, do-it-yourself family shelter policy and is adopting a longer-range program of federally-supported school, public building and community shelters. Reston points out:

> "There are a number of reasons for this, political and psychological. The home-shelter system favored the rich over the poor, the single-house dweller over the apartment dweller, the home owner over the renter. It was unequal, unfair, divisive and politically dangerous.
> "Moreover, once the President and his White House aids belatedly put their minds to the problem of civil defense, they began to see other objections to urgent appeals for an immediate home-shelter program.

"It helped create a war psychology in the country. It encouraged all kinds of commercial exploitation by shelter builders who were going around door-to-door showing movies of atomic explosions and scaring people into building shelters and stocking food they often couldn't afford.

"Also, the shelter scare in America weakened the confidence abroad in Mr. Kennedy's judgment. In western Europe, which is more vulnerable to Soviet attack and where there is far less anxiety, officials have frankly felt that the administration sounded edgy if not downright frightened, and was encouraging unjustified and intolerable fears that could lead to a preventive war psychology.

"For all these reasons, plus the obvious fact that the home shelter system wasn't working, the administration is now shifting to community shelters in schools, public and other large buildings and dual-purpose structures such as underground parking garages that could be used as shelters in an emergency.

Well, that's that, and we bear no ill will toward you Mr. President for having frightened us into hysterics. From now on we will remain calm and in the future will recommend that all our public buildings be built down instead of up.

And now, as an afterthought, as long as the Minneapolis Tribune has admitted that it is confused, let's get back to dangerous living realistically.

(Long Prairie Leader)

A paper snowstorm can be expected in the near future.

The Post Office Department is expected to give its approval to the new privilege congressmen voted themselves before the recent adjournment.

Soon members of congress can send out copies of their speeches, weekly publicity letters and every other form of verbal "pats on their backs" by the written word to every householder in the area. They do not even have to pay postage. The postmen will have to put every letter of self-praise in every post office box.

The congressmen have given themselves a tremendous advantage over aspiring officeholders who desire to run against the incumbent. A man running against any congressman will have to pay postage on all of his campaign literature while the incumbent mails his literature for nothing. It appears our congressmen have voted themselves a freedom against competition.

We might suggest everyone who gets such mail from their congressmen write on the envelope 'No such person at this address. Return to sender."

But then that would overburden our already overburdened post offices to such an extent they would have to double their labor force and we'd pay for that too in taxes and increased postage rates.

Perhaps, we hope, this free mailing privilege congressmen voted themselves will work in reverse. Perhaps it will so anger the received of such propagananda that he will vote his congressman out of office.

Interesting Opinions

"I look upon an increase in the power of the State with the greatest fear, because although while apparently doing good by minimizing exploitation, it does the greatest harm to mankind by destroying individuality which is at the root of all progress.

"The State represents violence in a concentrated and organized form. The individual has a soul, but as the State is a soulless machine, it can never be weaned from violence to which it owes its very existence."

"The problem of underdeveloped countries is that they don't know what they need, where they are going. What they hope is that they are following in the footsteps of Europe and North America . . . Perhaps the people of North America do not understand where they have been and where they are going."

A Good Trick

(Nebraska Poultry Ass'n Bulletin)

Some years ago while in Alaska, we were told a wolf story. Lately a similar story has appeared in print. These stories add up to the way Eskimos deal with wolf packs.

Eskimos embed razor sharp knives clasp down in the ice and apply a little seal blood. The wolves are attracted by the blood, and lick the knives, cutting their tongues. They are delighted by the seemingly inexhaustible supply of nourishing blood they can lick off the knives and stand there licking until they drop in their tracks from loss of blood and then freeze to death in the snow.

This is a clever trick, but we are in no position to jeer at the stupidity of the wolves. We American have been falling for a similar trick for a good many years now, and this year it may be played on us again. The variation in our case is this: In Washington and in our state capitals are a great many politicians. Many of them are poor men, a few well to do, but none of these proposes to give the public any of his personal estate.

Instead they propose to give us Federal support. They will empty the Federal Treasury at our feet. Now, we should know that there is nothing in the Federal Treasury but what we have sent there by way of the tax collector. These taxes are our blood, and we cannot be nourished by it any more than those wolves can thrive on their own blood.

But we have bought this kind of Government. We are trying through the Federal process to nourish ourselves with our own blood.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

"Wonderful nurse I have," remarked the husband as his wife entered the hospital room. "One touch of her hand cooled my fever instantly."

"I know," was the reply, "I could hear the slap from way down the corridor."

Work on Skating Rink Progresses

The skating rink project located north of the village hall is taking shape and it will not be long before the kids, who are anxiously waiting, will have a place to skate. A board fence has been erected on the west and north side of the rink. Water for the foundation ice has been pumped on the area making it ready for the finishing layer.

Earl Hougard and Claude Johnson were the main instigaters of the project and also did most of the work.

A warming house located on the edge of the rink would be very nice to have and if anyone knows of such a house which could be used during the winter months Claude Johnson would like to know about it. The house does not need to be large, 10x12' or thereabouts would be large enough. The basement of the village hall can be used but it is too far away and not being connected by ice would be rough on skates.

Well, imagine all the solid virtues you've always counted on from Chevrolet . . . the steadfast dependability, the dyed-in-the-wool comfort . . . all dressed up in a new just-right size and built a modern new way. Poor Driving Records Raise Insurance Fees

Effective January 1, 1962, all drivers in the Minnesota Automobile Assigned Risk Plan will be subject to a new rating schedule. Based upon uniform rates that have been approved by the individual companies that subscribe to the Minnesota Automobile Assigned Risk Plan and the insurance commissioner, the cost of coverage will be higher for motorists with poor driving records.

In addition to the uniform rate structure, there is a surcharge related to a point system. Moving traffic violations and individual behavior during each preceding 36 month period will determine points and the percentage cost increase. For example, speeding or disorderly conduct will cost two points. Reckless driving will be three points. And, driving while intoxicated will be six points. Points are accumulative and a total of seven can mean cancellation.

Points are costly, too. For example, two points mean a 20 per cent increase, but six points is a 75 per cent increase. And, seven points costs 100 per cent more. On top of this, if an SR-22 filing is involved, add another 10 per cent to the total bill. A further requirement of this rate increase calls for payment of the full annual premium in advance.

When a driver in Minnesota by his driving record, removes himself from being able to buy his automobile insurance voluntarily, his only recourse is the Assigned Risk Plan. The Minnesota Automobile Assigned Risk Plan is made up of the automobile insurance companies that do business in Minnesota and was established to provide coverage for those unable to buy it on the open market.

The new uniform rate structure developed out of the serious losses sustained by drivers presently enrolled in the Assigned Risk Plan. In other words, the problem driver is continuing to have frequent accidents and excessive claims which required a cost increase and a tie-in to his driving record via a point system.

Insurance agents and others interested in obtaining full details of the new uniform rate schedule and point system may do so by requesting a copy of "Memorandum to Agents" from the Minnesota Automobile Assigned Risk Plan, Room 603, Thorp Building, Minneapolis 2, Minnesota. There is no charge made for the memo itself, but you are kindly requested to forward mailing costs of 12 cents for each memo requested.

The petticoat was originally a vest worn by men, under regular coats or jackets. The ladies adopted it, changed its spelling and length, and purpose.

Assessors Course Set at Crookston

First of Four Sessions to Be Held January 17th

Four-day property tax short courses for local assessors will be held at five different Minnesota locations in December, January and February under sponsorship of the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

Dates and places include January 17, 21 and 31 and February 7 at Northwest School and Experiment Station, Crookston.

The University is going to the five regional centers, rather than holding a single course at one location in the state, in an effort to make it possible for assessors to attend who would not be able to make longer trips, according to Robert Pinches, acting director of agricultural short courses at the University.

He pointed out that the series is the local and rural assessors' counterpart of the more detailed property tax seminar being held November 27-December 2 at the Center for Continuation Study on the University's Minneapolis Campus.

The regional series is designed to fill a long-felt need to bring basic information to those who put the original assessment on property, explained James Schwinden, research fellow in agricultural economics at the University, who is program chairman.

Cooperating with the University in planing the sessions and providing instructors are the Minnesota Department of Taxation, Minnesota Association of County Assessing Officers, Minnesota County Commissioners Association, Farmers Home Administration, State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, Soil Conservation Service and State-Federal Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

A $10 fee will be charged for the course.

More detailed information concerning the courses will be announced soon.

Those interested may contact the Short Course Office, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

December ends the 20th anniversary year of the U. S. Savings Bond program with a salute to volunteers who have made this the greatest thrift program the world has ever known. The public now owns a record total of $44 billion in Series E and H Bonds.

A TALE RETOLD

A phrase is caught by mind and pen
And set to paper, lives again.
A scene is not so quickly caught—
Kept in mind, and stirred with thought.
The artist saves with brush and pen
The scene that's lost to average men.

A child arises Christmas day
And pauses briefly on her way—
Breathless in her baby haste,
Silent, small and angel-faced—
Suspecting something lies in store
In the room beyond the door.

A picture now will catch her so;
The child will change, the season go.
For time will fleet, and fleeting fast,
Must place this Christmas in the past.
But yours will be this scene to hold,
To live again—a tale retold.

Car Exhaust Fumes May Be Death Trap

Safety Expert Warns of Motor Running in Garage

You may be creating a "do-it yourself" death trap if you leave the motor of your tractor, truck or car running in a closed shed or garage.

Glenn Prickett, extension farm safety specialist at the University of Minnesota, warns that exhaust fumes from motors contain deadly CO gas. "You can't see, smell, feel or taste it, but it can replace the oxygen supply for your body, resulting in death."

Prickett makes these suggestions:

If it becomes necessary to let the motor run while you are working on it in the shop, attach a hose to the exhaust pipe and extend it outside the building. Or else open the doors or windows so that there will be adequate air circulation.

Another death trap is a leak in the motor exhaust fumes to enter the cab of the vehicle. This is especially dangerous when the car is parked with the motor running. For safe driving, keep one or more windows open slightly to permit air circulation. Shut the motor off when the car is not in motion.

Our word KING comes from KIN and started out as a title referring to men who led their kinfolks into battle.

Applications for Coast Guard Due

January 10 Is Deadline for Academy Candidates

The official deadline for applications to participate in the 86th annual examinations for appointment to the Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn., has been set at January 10, 1962. Examinations will follow on February 19 and 20, 1962, in 156 cities of the United States, its possessions, and selected cities abroad.

Appointments to cadetship at the Academy are made solely on the basis of this examination and prospective adaptability to military life.

The Academy curriculum includes academic subjects and military training. Courses are conducted in engineering, including nuclear engineering, the humanities and subjects related to the professional duties of the Coast Guard officer.

Upon completion of training at the Academy, cadets are commissioned as Ensigns in the active peace-time service, and awarded Bachelor of Science degrees.

For the Academy graduate, post graduate training is available in many fields at advanced military schools and leading universities and colleges throughout the country.

An information booklet and applications to participate in the annual exam may be obtained by writing the Commander (p), Ninth Coast Guard District, Cleveland 13, Ohio.

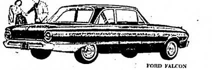
HOTTEST NOVEMBER IN FORD HISTORY!
And here's what started the heat wave!

Last month more Americans bought Fords than in any November in history. The blazing success of the long Ford line was end-to-end, all across the country and up and down it, too. ■ Everywhere the people flocked into their Ford Dealers and bought smart new Falcons, and the new Falcon Squire, the glittering swift Galaxies, the famous Ford Station Wagons and the hot Thunderbirds. And they poured in to see and buy up the brand-new Fairlanes just introduced. ■ There are four magic reasons-why behind the smashing success of the long Ford line for 1962. First of all is utterly modern styling, the fresh crisp lines that are now being so widely copied by other car-makers, the smart look that dominates the industry. Second is absolute power in eleven kinds of engines, giving you anything you could want in engine options. Third is total economy—every Ford model is priced directly at your pocketbook, and every Ford, large, medium or small, gives you gasoline mileage outstanding in its class. Fourth is the service-saving concept—every Ford car is built to cut down maintenance worries and problems, with service-saving features other cars may have some day. ■ Ford leadership from Falcons to Thunderbirds is founded on trend-setting innovations . . . The hot ideas come from Ford. And at the heart of Ford success is an almost revolutionary new concept of quality . . . most serious and direct concern with the actual part-by-part quality. For the hot trends in the hot cars, for a new experience in quality, and for the best buys on the American Road, see your Ford Dealer.

PRODUCTS OF Ford MOTOR COMPANY

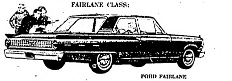
NOW THERE ARE FOUR CLASSES OF CARS ...AND ONLY FORD HAS ALL FOUR!

COMPACT CLASS:



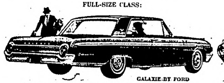
FORD FALCON
This class includes cars with 106- to 114-inch wheelbase. Most popular by far (a million happy owners!) is the Ford Falcon. Falcon is America's lowest-priced* 6-passenger car, set a 25-year record for Sixes or Eights in last spring's Mobilgas Economy Run, gives you a choice of 13 models, including the Futura and new Falcon Squire wagon.

FAIRLANE CLASS:



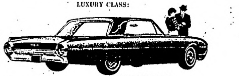
FORD FAIRLANE
The Ford Fairlane is the first member of a new class which combines the advantages of both compacts and big cars . . . you get big car room, ride and performance . . . compact savings and maneuverability. Priced below many compacts, Fairlane even rivals some in gas economy. Has twice-a-year maintenance introduced by the Galaxie.

FULL-SIZE CLASS:



GALAXIE BY FORD
The class for families who want big car comfort, performance and prestige. Value leader is the Ford Galaxie—which has every essential feature of far costlier fine cars. With the optional Thunderbird 390 V-8 engine, a Galaxie will outperform America's most expensive luxury cars. Requires servicing only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles.

LUXURY CLASS:



FORD THUNDERBIRD
The top class—cars for people who want the very finest. First of the trim-size luxury cars, the 4-passenger Thunderbird is the most distinctive car in this class. Its styling set the trend for an entire generation of cars and now finds a new elegance in the Landau. And Thunderbird's performance is just this side of flight.

To each his own... or you'll have a scrap on your hands!

Bring home enough John Deere toys to go around...
Nope, "taking turns" more than often doesn't work out the way we picture it. But there'll be no squabbles if you give each his own toy John Deere Tractor, with implements of his choice.
These solidly built toys give more pleasure ... last longer than ordinary playthings. They look real; their many moving parts fire children's imaginations ... hold interest.
John Deere Toys are made of strong cast aluminum alloy and steel; tires and treads are flexible, heavy-duty rubber. Two coats of gleaming enamel keep 'em looking new longer. Choose from the full line next time you're in our store. Won't you make it soon?

Assisting them prior to their departure is Miss C. Constance McGinely, personnel assistant with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers in St. Paul. Miss McGinley is in charge of the St. Paul District's teacher recruitment program which recruits, orients and processes overseas applicants in this area for positions teaching dependents of Army and government personnel abroad.

Klungness, who is teaching in Germany, attended Concordia College and the University of Nebraska and experienced one year of teaching junior high math in the Henning, Minn., high school.

Duluth-Superior Bridge Now Open

New $21 Million Span Was Put Into Use Saturday

Traffic began flowing across the Duluth-Superior high bridge at approximately 2 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 2, following ribbon cutting ceremonies at 11 a. m. According to the Minnesota highway department, almost 26,000 vehicles crossed the two-mile long span in the next 24 hours, compared to 8,000 vehicles at a peak for a similar period on the old toll-charge Interstate Bridge.

Completion and opening of the high bridge signals the beginning of one era and the close of another. The era beginning is one of rapid, easy and toll-free travel between the Twin Ports, Duluth and Superior. The era ending was one of slow traffic and toll payment.

Citizens of both Duluth and Superior, Minnesota and Wisconsin, will for the first time be able to trade, visit and shop with each other without the payment of tolls. The Interstate Bridge has collected its last toll.

The new $21 million high bridge stands within a few hundred yards of the old toll bridge. The Interstate bridge, a fixture in the Twin Ports since 1897, was considered a masterpiece of bridge architecture when it was dedicated some 64 years ago. It now stands dwarfed by the giant structure of steel and concrete.

Reserve Bank Cites Economic Recovery

Economic recovery in the Ninth Federal Reserve district has nearly paralleled the nation's recovery despite an 8 percent decline in third quarter farm income, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis reported today in its Monthly Review.

Personal income during the third quarter increased about the same percentage here as in the nation, although agriculture's role in the district economy is 3 to 4 times more significant than it is for the country as a whole.

Summer drouth, which was particularly severe in the western Dakotas and Montana, contributed to a 38 percent drop in yields of wheat, the district's principal cash crop. All other major crops except soybeans and corn registered substantial declines in yields, contributing to the unfavorable trend.

Offsetting to some extent the reduced marketings of small grains is the favorable corn crop, the bumper soybean crop, and a high level of marketings of livestock and livestock products. Relatively favorable agricultural prices should also raise the income trend.

District nonagricultural employment was at about the same rate as for the U. S. Improvement in employment levels, both here and nationally, has been disappointing, with the rates of unemployment remaining relatively high. Some increase in retail sales, both here and nationally, and an increase in over-all economic output suggests productivity per worker has improved.

In banking, continued improvement in liquidity is noted through the end of October. Loans at the district city and country banks were below year-ago levels. Investments at city and country banks showed substantial growth from year-earlier figures—up 19 and 14 percent respectively.

Warren Cow Yields 789 lb. Butterfat

Brown Swiss Animal Is Owned by Kruger & Sons

What is believed to be a record production for a Marshall county dairy cow has been set by a four-year-old Brown Swiss animal on the Orrin Kruger and Sons farm north of Warren, according to word received at the Times office. The official record was compiled on dairy herd improvement registry test.

Carmen's June, milked twice daily on a 365-day lactation, produced 19,960 pounds of milk with a butterfat test of four per cent and total butterfat of 789 pounds. Her dam, Nell's Carmen, was also a Kruger farm cow and produced 14,000 pounds of milk and 669 pounds of butterfat as a four-year-old.

The Krugers report that milk from their top animal was sold for manufacturing for $687, leaving a return of $485 over the $202 feed cost. The average dairy cow in Minnesota produces 281 pounds of butterfat worth $240 on the same basis and returns about $100 over $140 feed cost.

Monthly production of butterfat was as follows: November, 65; December, 64; January, 64; February, 65; March, 61; April, 59; May, 57; June, 62; July, 47; August, 43; September 40; and October, 42. The summer decline was attributed to the extensive summer drought period.

"As she completed her record in November, she still produced 35 pounds of milk daily," stated Neil Kruger. "She was fed about 25 pounds of home grown grains plus all the hay and silage she would eat. She will freshen again in the spring and as she is a young cow she may go on to still higher records."

Christmas Rush at P.O. Just Ahead

Postmaster Dryden Asks Early Action by Patrons

With the peak of the big Christmas mail rush just over the horizon, Postmaster R. J. Dryden said today that every postal employee is aiming to insure delivery of all Christmas cards and gift packages before Christmas Day.

Dryden urges that everyone make it a point to "Do it now!" A delay of a few hours at this critical time may mean disappointing your friends and loved ones on Christmas Day.

Be sure to tie your Christmas cards in bundles, with addresses all facing one way, using labels you can secure from the Post Office marked, "All for local delivery" and "All for out of town delivery." Postoffice windows will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Don't forget to put your name and address on all Christmas card envelopes and package labels.

The postmaster especially requests that you get your out-of-state packages into the postoffice immediately and to do everything possible to mail all of your Christmas gifts for local delivery by December 10th and your Christmas cards to nearby points by at least a week before Christmas.

KEYS. . TO UNDERSTANDING

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Job	36	5-12
Monday	Job	42	1-6
Tuesday	Matthew	6	25-34
Wednesday	I Corinthians	13	1-13
Thursday	Galatians	3	6-14
Friday	Matthew	8	5-13
Saturday	I Corinthians	2	1-10

Suppose you were given keys that would unlock the mysteries of the universe. With them, you could answer the "whys" that plague all of us You'd know what was going to happen to you and those around you tomorrow—next month—next year.

Would you use them?

Of course, you say! Think again. And, once you've thought, you might shake your head, hand them back, and say, "No thank you."

Common sense tells us that man was not meant to understand every mystery of life. The reasons "why" remain as they are because our Creator in His wisdom thoroughly knows just how much man can both stand and understand.

God has a greater gift for you than these, or any other keys . . . the gift of Faith. You will find it by going to church regularly.

WILDLIFE in Minnesota
by JIM KIMBALL

Why is it that the same scribes and bards who described the fisherman as one of God's gentle and favorite creatures will, in their next writings, portray the hunter as an irresponsible lout or green-eyed villian? Fishing, we are told, brings out the best in man. Sitting peacefully in his boat on a placid lake or exploring the familiar haunts along his favorite brook, the fisherman, they say, communes with nature, is at peace with the world, and is loved by all fellow men.

And yet we are told that the hunter, who actually may be the same man, once in his hunting togs and armed with shotgun or rifle, becomes completely irresponsible, disdainful of property rights of others, and bent on drawing blood from some poor helpless creature of the wild. This is utter nonsense.

So the bass is not adorned with the beautiful plumage of the cock pheasant and the northern pike does not have the big soft brown eyes of the deer. Life is just as precious to a fish as to a bird or a mammal, and who can say that death from a bullet is less humane than suffocation while flopping in the bottom of a boat. Suppose a fish screamed like a wounded rabbit as it was pulled from the water and flopped helplessly in the boat. And who can say that either of these is less humane than death through starvation or being eaten by a larger animal? Whether or not man is the cause, wild animals nearly all live short dangerous lives and die violent deaths. Old age is a rare thing among them.

We hear about the villainous, ill-mannered, irresponsible, hunters destroying private property, trespassing on private land, and shooting everything in sight including their own kind. Is human nature such that the putting on of a red coat converts a normal, respectable, law-abiding citizen into a fiendish outlaw? Would they have us believe we are a nation of Jekyll and Hydes?

Of course, we do have game law violators and trespassers and people who do not respect the personal property rights of others while hunting. Does this surprise us? During the normal Minnesota hunting season we have one-third of a million small game hunters and one-quarter of a million big game hunters. Among them, inevitably, are thieves, scoundrels, wife beaters, murderers and even those who would cheat in a game of solitaire. They will steal deer from other men's automobiles, cut fences, ignore "No Trespassing" signs and shoot cows.

Why should it be that in everyday life we recognize this group as a very small undesirable minority in an otherwise wholesome population of good American citizens and, on the other hand, assume that the deeds committed by these reprobates portray the actions of the typical American hunter.

Then, to add to the misconception, we must each year read the wild stories created by wags and publicity hounds. No fall season could pass without a story of at least one hunter who is reported to have crawled under a refuge sign, over a barbwire fence, broken open a barn door, and shot a blue-eyed calf with a red, white and blue scarf around its neck.

Does it ever occur to us that hunters, like fishermen, are people? Some good and some bad? Or, do we enjoy being fooled by the Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde myths.

TR Foundation Has Granted 30 Student Loans

Organization Now Administers Total Funds of $18,207

The Thief River Falls Foundation is now administering funds donated to it in the amount of $18,207.13, the report of the secretary, Robert J. Lund, revealed at the annual meeting of the organization at Mr. Lund's office Thursday evening. Thirty loans have been made to students in the total sum of $17,953.00, of which $4,745.00 has been repaid. Eight of the loans have been repaid in full.

The loans have been made to young people from various parts of Northwestern Minnesota, attending schools in three states. Seven of the 30 attended the Thief River Falls Vocational School; five went to St. Olaf; four to Concordia; three to Bemidji State, and two in foreign field service. The remainder were scattered among nine schools.

Memorials and bequests received during the year which ended November 30 totalled $13,793.55 according to the report of the treasurer, E. O. Peterson. $1,000 of the Frank A. Rinkel bequest has been contributed to Northwestern Hospital to sponsor jointly with the hospital a service that will bring to the hospital specialists in the field of physical medicine and rehabilitation, assisting physicians in the diagnosis and prescription for such patients and instructing hospital personell in this department. A special memorial fund for Dr. Milton D. Starekow has been established for loans to medical students.

The foundation was organized September 5, 1957 and as a nonprofit organization it is patterned after similar organizations that are providing broad trust and administration services in many cities.

L. B. Hartz was reelected president and W. E. Dahlquist was elected vice president, succeeding Dr. Starekow, deceased. E. O. Peterson and Robert J. Lund were also reelected treasurer and secretary. James Winjum, nominated by a special committee representing various local government units and financial organizations, was elected to suceed Dr. Starekow as a director. Robert J. Lund and Frank Tunberg were reelected for five year terms as directors.

The directors extended to Robert J. Lund a vote of thanks for his service as secretary, involving the interviewing of applicants for loans and the handling of collections among other routine duties as secretary, without compensation.

170 Miles of Drainage Ditches and 54 Water Pits Dug in Area in '61

CHARTER will be presented to the recently organized Goodridge Lions club at a banquet meeting in the school cafeteria Wednesday evening, December 13, by George Fisman of Moorhead, district governor and representative of Lions International.

Two main accomplishments, field drainage and stock water pits, were made during 1961 in the Pennington county soil conservation district, according to Oscar Houske rural Thief River Falls, chairman of the district board of supervisors. More than 170 miles of drainage ditches were constructed and 54 stock water pits were dug during the past summer.

Drainage ditches are key practices in soil and water conservation plans, Houske said, particularly in Pennington county where relatively level terrain creates a lack of natural drainage. Most farmers who carried out ditching projects in the district this year received cost share assistance through the ACP program handled by the Pennington county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service office.

To get good drainage in many cases it requires good cooperation among neighbors, the chairman added. This year 12 group drainage projects were completed with 32 farms involved in the program. Without neighbors working together these group drainage projects would not be possible and the individual results would not be as great.

Largest group drainage project was accomplished by John Hoffman, Selmer Holen and Oleander Uglem in Reiner township east of Goodridge. Farms of these three men benefited from ditches totaling 2.5 miles in length. District farmers have also been appreciative of cooperation in providing needed culverts by the Pennington county commissioners and highway department.

The 54 stock water pits provide for livestock water and give better distribution of grazing on pasture land. Pits average 50 feet wide, 100 feet long and 10 feet deep and are constructed deep to keep the collected water cool and fresh. Total excavation required to build the 54 pits was 47,250 cubic yards.

Houske also noted that a total of 23 contractors assisted in digging pits or building ditches within the district during the past year. About half of the contractors were farmers who had their own equipment. Other activities of the district during 1961 will be covered in a summary of the annual report which will be published in the Times in the near future.

Soo and G.N. Get Authority to Cut Service by Agents

The Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission Thursday approved petitions of the Great Northern Railway and the Soo Line Railroad to modify agency service at a number of stations.

The Soo Line was given permission to serve 18 pairs or groups of stations with one agent each but was denied permission to dualize four others. The denial came in the proposal to serve Gonvick and Gully with one agent and Halma and Lake Bronson with one.

Under the proposal approved, these stations will be served by one agent: Elrose, Greenwald and New Munich; Bowlus and Holdingford; McGrath and Isle; Swatara and Palisade; Carlos and Miltona; Henning and Parkers Prairie; Vergas, Dent and Ottertail; Ogema and Waubun; Bejou and Winger; Strandquist and Newfolden; Orleans and Lancaster; Radium and Viking; Rockford and Loretto; Kimball, Watkins and Eden Valley; Brooten and Belgrade; Kensington and Lowry; Barrett and Hoffman; and Wendell, Nashua, and Tenney.

The Great Northern was given permission to dualize agency service at six stations between Osseo and St. Cloud and St. Cloud and Willmar, effective Dec. 13. One agent will serve each of these pairs of stations: Roscoe and Richmond; New London and Spicer, and Albertville and Rogers.

These changes are authorized to become effective on or after Jan. 1, 1962.

Holstein Cattle Breeders to Meet in TRF Wednesday

Election of officers and discussion of the Black and White show will be main items on the agenda when the annual meeting of the Red River Valley district of the Minnesota Holstein-Friesian association is held Wednesday beginning at 1 p. m. in the American Legion club rooms. Persons attending the session will also meet at the James Muzzy farm at 10:30 a. m. to view his Holstein herd and dairy operation.

D. Drotts to Head Heart Fund Drive

To Head February Drive in Pennington and Region

David Drotts, Thief River Falls, will be Pennington county chairman for the 1962 Heart Fund drive to be held in February. Drotts is also serving as regional chairman for the area.

Goal for the annual independent Heart Fund drive has been set at $510,000 and Pennington county's share of the state's goal has been fixed at $1,621. According to the latest edition of "Vital Statistics," published by the Minnesota State Board of Health, 59 percent of all deaths in Pennington county last year can be directly attributed to diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

The annual drive supports the Minnesota Heart Association's program of research, education, and community service. Over $216,000 are now financially assisting the research projects of 60 scientists in eight outstanding Minnesota research centers. As research is the key to the ultimate conquest of heart disease, it receives the greatest priority.

Education is another phase of the association's responsibilities, as it is essential that the public be informed of recent developments in all aspects of heart disease.

$23,474 Is Paid on 1962 Wheat Program Here

As of December 1, 241 farms in Pennington county had been signed up to take part in the 1962 wheat stabilization program, Winton Knutson, chairman of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, announced today.

The signed applications call for the diversion of 2260.7 acres, about 53.2 percent of the 4241.9 program acres on the farms signed to date. For the farms signed up, possible advance payments under provisions permitting about half of the payments to be made this fall during signup period come to about $27,195. Of this amount, $23,474 in cashable sight drafts had been issued to participating farmers.

The 1962 wheat stabilization program, which was approved in a referendum by producers in August, requires a mandatory reduction of 10 percent from acreage allotments established on the basis of the former minimum national allotment of 55 million acres.

Provision is also made for up to an additional 30-percent voluntary reduction with special provisions for small farms, permitting up to 10 acres reduction in line with the farm's wheat acreage history. Payments are made to producers who divert acreage under the program to an approved conserving use.

Producers who take part in the program will be able to market their production without marketing quota penalties. Price support at a national average level of $2 per bushel will also be available to such producers.

Special Term of Legislature to Open Dec. 18

Governor Calls Solons Together for Redistricting

Governor Elmer L. Andersen Saturday summoned the state legislature into special session next Monday morning, December 18, at 11 a. m. for the express purpose of reshaping the state's nine congressional districts into eight, and thus avoid the necessity of congressmen running at large in the 1962 elections.

A secondary reason for the session is to make a technical change in the Minnesota law governing aid to the blind so that the state may qualify for $580,000 in federal aid.

"It's probable that the legislative session will be limited to a couple of days," said Andersen.

"In the interests of economy," he said in his proclamation, he is asking the legislature to limit itself to redistricting, the blind law or such other matters "as can be mutually agreed upon as essential in advance of the convening of the session."

Among the other possibilities for legislative consideration, said the governor, are:

An amendment to the income tax withholding law to clarify the forgiveness provision.

A taconite tax amendment, upon which Andersen said he will continue to work to achieve agreement this week.

Legislative authorization for the highway department to raise $60,000,000 in bonds to raise money for buying land.

"Any dilly-dallying or political speech-making will not be tolerated by the people," said Andersen. "Such antics would be at the people's expense.

"The legislature is on its honor. The people want action and they want it quickly. To fool around with the people's wishes now is a very unwise thing to do."

Andersen announced the special session at a news conference yesterday an hour after the senate elections and reapportionment committee had cleared the way for redistricting.

With one dissenting vote—that of Sen. Daniel S. Feidt, Minneapolis—the committee accepted the proposal drafted by its redistricting subcommittee.

Hospital Staff Meets With Rehabilitation Authority Thursday

DR. MILAND E. KNAPP

Dr. Miland E. Knapp of the department of physical medicine of the University of Minnesota and director of physical medicine and rehabilitation of the Kenny Rehabilitation Institute in Minneapolis, will be at Northwestern Hospital all day Thursday, meeting with members of the medical and hospital staffs to instruct in the field in which he has distinguished himself.

In his letter to Norman Peterson, hospital Administrator, accepting the invitation to conduct a course of instruction along this line, Dr. Knapp stated that "I will meet with the staff of the hospital, examine patients, and make recommendations and suggestions as to the rehabiliatation of the patient. We would arrange to do this with only a small group of doctors each time rather than in the form of a large clinic or lecture; thus the doctors could come in with their patients and would not have to be there the rest of the time. I would, of course, want to have the members of the physical medicine and rehabilitation department there."

Mr. Peterson states that there will be no extra charge to the patients for Dr. Knapp's service, he being reimbursed from a grant by the Thief River Falls Foundation from the Frank A. Rinkel bequest to be matched by the hospital. Few medical doctors have had training in this field and the medical staff of the hospital is looking forward to the assistance they can get through a course of instruction and consultation of this kind.

They are hopeful that with this instruction and guidance the department will be able to expand its services in a field of therapy that is gaining recognition as an important addition to medical care.

SANTA CLAUS kept his date to meet and greet area youngsters Saturday at the Thief River Falls city auditorium and approximately 1,000 of his young friends proceeded in orderly fashion to confide Christmas wishes and accept treats of popcorn balls and candy from Chamber of Commerce assistants. Presentation of a certificate of merit to the Thief River Falls Junior Chambe rof Commerce for their work on the auto safety check this spring was made by Leo Steinmetz, representative of the safety promotion seciton of the Minnesota highway department, at the Jaycee meeting held Thursday at the Elks club rooms. Loren Borshlem, safety check chairman, accepted the award for the chapter.

Special guests at the meeting in addition to Steinmetz were Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff and chairman of the county safety council, and Elton Cummings, Thief River Falls police chief. They took part in receipt of the award as did John Eisbrener, last year's Jaycee president.

Darryll Smith, chairman of the annual sale of Christmas tree ornaments, reported that some bulbs remain to be sold and that when they are gone the chapter will realize a profit of about $90, nearly equivalent to the amount spent this year for the purchase of an additional figure for the Christmas nativity scene.

The meeting was cut short due to the necessity for an early departure by Jaycees to attend a Region 2 training session being held the same evening in Red Lake Falls. Sixteen members of the local chapter attended the regional meeting to hear state and national Jaycee officials discuss mutual Jaycee problems.

Mercury Slumps to 17 Below Zero Sunday and Today

Weather Man Predicts Cold Temperatures for Remainder of the Week

For those who found their cars wouldn't start yesterday or this morning and their homes a little harder to heat than they have been lately, there is little doubt that we will have at least some cold weather this winter. As a matter of fact, we are currently in the throes of a cold snap which holds promise for colder weather yet to come.

While a week ago the mercury was climbing to high readings above the freezing mark, yesterday was a crisp zero with low temperatures falling to -17 degrees. Last night's low was also -17 and while the thermometer at the Thief River Falls municipal airport noted a rise to -10 this morning, the mercury fell back to a -12 reading about 9 a. m.

In spite of the fact that weather became increasingly colder during the past several days, 1.2 inches of snow fell on Saturday. Total accumulation of the white carpet is now listed as three inches on the ground.

Today's forecast calls for high temperatures near zero with lows of -5 to -10 expected tonight. Increasing cloudiness will be noted later in the day with mostly cloudy skies tomorrow and a possibility of light snow tonight and tomorrow The extended forecast through Saturday calls for temperatures of five to 10 degrees below normal highs of 19 to 21 and normal lows

Nation Faces Grave Issues, Says Langen

Congressman Was Speaker Here Last Thursday Evening

The next Congress will be confronted with several difficult and highly controversial issues, Congressman Odin Langen told 75 persons at a dinner meeting at the American Legion hall Thursday evening. Top on the list he placed the reciprocal trade act which expires in June. Of special interest to this area is sugar quota legislation. A matter of great national concern is the government's financial condition and continuing deficits. The cold war with Communism and world unrest presents many critical problems.

The question of reciprocal trade is complicated by common market developments and proposals for a general lowering of trade barriers. Langen pointed out how our own economy has been effected by trade policies and subsidies in various forms. American agriculture is not producing a food surplus he asserted, and our surplus is due to imports. He cited sugar as one example, pointing out that we had been paying two cents a pound over the world market for Cuban sugar, observing incidentally that our favored treatment for Cuba had not kept that government from going Communist.

While reciprocal trade agreements are most essential to our national economy, they should be thoroughly explored for the purpose of a better understanding of their relationship to the United States agricultural economy, he said. He warned that the American farmer, plus every United States taxpayer, will suffer for years to come if the Baskets of white pom poms and red carnations graced the altar of Our Saviours Lutheran church Grafton, North Dakota, for the November 4 wedding of Miss Lou Ann Johnson of Grafton, formerly of Goodridge, and Howard Butler, Jr. of East Grand Forks. Pastor Oliver Sidney performed the 2:30 p. m. double-ring ceremony.

Dale Christianson, Bowesmont, North Dakota, played the traditional nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Iver Egleland of Grafton, who sang "Because" and the "Lords Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a floor-length gown of white chiffon and lace over net and taffeta. It featured a scalloped neckline trimmed with sequins and pearls. The bride's mother wore a blue dress with black accessories while the groom's mother wore a blue and gray suit with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors for approximately 170 guests. Cutting the cake were Mrs. Albert Johnson and Mrs. C. B. Smith, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively.

Mrs. J. H. Wicklund and Mrs. Wm. Butler poured coffee. Judy Hanson, Lois Knutson, Jo Ann Boura and Mary Ann Bellerud were waitresses. Mrs. Ernie Tenzleski and Klara Goodman presided at the gift table and Mrs. Bert LaChance was at the guest book.

Area Aviation Fans Invited to Meeting at Airport Tuesday

Achieving a much broader base in aviation education in an effort to get more young men and women interested in flying is the aim of a group of northwest Minnesotans in Thief River Falls and Fosston.

A meeting to organize air-minded people in the northwest Minnesota-eastern North Dakota area up and down the Red River Valley will be held at the Thief River Falls airport Tuesday, Dec. 12, at 8 p. m. One such meeting has already been held with a very good attendance of Thief River Falls aviation enthusiasts, but inclement weather prevented attendance from other cities.

Those individuals interested would become members of the Experimental Aircraft Association, with the area organization being designated as a chapter of EAA. Through membership in such an organization a great deal of technical material is available to aviation enthusiasts. In addition, various projects which could be undertaken by the members would bring them into a much closer fellowship in the pursuit of their avocations.

One such EAA chapter builds non-flying half-scale aircraft from various scrap materials to learn aircraft construction procedure. Other chapters either build actual man-carrying planes as chapter projects or assist those chapter members who are building airplanes of their own.

In every case, membership in an EAA chapter satisfies the need of the membership for social contact with others of like interests. The end result of such an organization is increased interest in aviation, both among youths and adults.

Films and slides will again be shown at the Dec. 12 meeting and aviation enthusiasts from the entire area are invited to attend.

Paul Harris Is Honored for RR Union Service

Retired Engineer Given Award at Recognition Banquet in His Honor

Paul A. Harris, retired Soo Line engineer, was presented with a 50-year pin for continuous service in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers at an award dinner held recently in this city. Presentation of the pin was made by Brook Jones, retired general chairman of Soo Line properties.

Approximately 50 persons attended the event with A. B. Stenberg representing the brotherhood and Douglas Kemmer representing the railroad. Kenneth Halldin served as master of ceremonies and introduced Neil Koehler, general chairman of Soo Line properties, who presented pins to members with five, 10, 20 and 25 years of service.

Harris began work with the Soo Line in North Dakota and came to Thief River Falls in 1907, joining the local brotherhood at that time. He served as local chairman from 1914 until the early 1920's, was elected to the Minnesota State Legislative board in 1917 and was delegate from the Thief River Falls Lodge to the firemen's national convention at Denver, Colo., in 1919. He has also served on the Thief River Falls board of education and the city council.

Tri-county Beet Growers Set Mar. 7 for 1962 Meeting

Committee to Nominate Officers Appointed at Meeting Here Thursday

March 7 was selected as the annual meeting and a nominating committee was appointed when the board of directors of the Tri-County Beet Growers association met Thursday at 2:30 p. m. in the American Legion club rooms in Thief River Falls. Harry Oen of Thief River Falls, long-time president of the group, presided at the meeting.

John Glass of Red Lake Falls and Stanley Radniecki of Trail are carry-over members of the nominating committee, with new members selected this year including Clifford T. Jorde of Thief River Falls and Earl Wagner of Gonvick. Directors whose terms will expire are Oen and Melvin Torgerson of Thief River Falls and Ben Wichterman of Plummer. Directors are elected for three-year terms.

Rep. Odin Langen, Ninth District congressman, appeared on the program and expressed his disappointment that the house of representatives was not given an opportunity to vote on long-term extension of the Sugar Act. He mentioned that foreign sugar has been purchased above allotments following the stopping of sugar imports from Cuba, and cited the expansion of the cane sugar industry in the South where quotas had not been met previously.

Reports were also given by Albin Erickson of Roseau and W. E. Dahlquist of Thief River Falls on their trip to Washington, D. C., when hearings on the Sugar Act were being conducted some time ago. They noted that the Red River Valley had a large representation at the hearings, showing a substantial interest in the beet industry in this area.

Woman's Club Asks Gifts for Needy

Gifts Should Be Brought to Elaine's by Dec. 20

Thief River Falls Woman's club is sponsoring a Christmas gift project for needy children in cooperation with Elaine's shop and the Salvation Army, according to Mrs. Ellen Peterson, secretary of the group.

A tree has been erected at Elaine's and area residents are encouraged to bring gifts to place beneath the tree for needy youngsters. A new toy or gift of clothing is suitable, and packages should be marked for a boy or girl, including size of garment if clothing is contributed. Gifts should be left under the tree before December 20, since they will be picked up for distribution by the Salvation Army at that time.

Junior Chamber Given Award for Car Safety Check

Duane Fournier, Ada, regional vice president, was in charge of the meeting with Jaycees in attendance from Crookston, East Grand Forks, Halstad, Red Lake Falls, Thief River Falls, Walker, Ada and Bemidji. Bert Jones, state president who will be guest speaker at the Thief River Falls Jaycee Boss-Employe banquet on February 27, set the theme for the meeting on a quotation from Ernest Hemingway, "Never confuse motion with action."

Throughout the program, which included talks by Don Anderson, first vice president, Don Schwartz and John Neil, national directors, discussion centered around ways and means of securing members, activating chapters, retaining members and expanded service in community development.

Anderson's talk on internal structure of the Jaycee chapters stressed the folly of attempts to "build skyscrapers on mounds of sand." He urged program planning, balance of profit-making projects in ratio to development projects and handling of incidental affairs in board or committee meetings rather than at regular meetings.

Schwartz spoke on the records and recognition phase of the Junior Chamber program, citing importance of keeping records to prevent recurrence of the same mistakes from year to year. Neil summarized the sports and youth activities projects and the Miss Minnesota competition.

Rep. Odin Langen Discusses Issues at Meeting Here

Federal Government continues to spend large sums of money in commodity storage and subsidies that would be completely wasted because of a foreign trade policy that is in direct conflict with American interests.

Congressman Langen also warned that the cause of domestic sugar producing areas might be lost in the Congressional shuffle if there isn't early action next session to consider long-term sugar legislation. Langen noted that one of the big failures of the last session of Congress was the failure to enact such legislation.

"The June 30th expiration of the Sugar Act isn't far off," warned Langen, "so if Congress doesn't act early in the next session, we may get nothing but last minute, inadequate, hurry-up legislation."

The Ninth District Congressman said sugar beet producing areas have a large stake in an early extension of the Sugar Act and should be and can be given a fair share of this country's sugar needs without upsetting necessary world trade.

Gonvick Girl Wins Championship in State Wool Event

Miss JoAnn Odegaard Is Tops in Senior Division; to Enter National Event

Miss JoAnn Odegaard of Gonvick winner of the district Make-it-Yourself-with-Wool contest held several weeks ago in Thief River Falls, gained first place in the state event and will represent Minnesota at the national contest to be held January 19-22 in Salt Lake City, Utah. She was a state winner three years ago in the junior division and this year swept honors in the senior classification.

Receiving honorable mention in the state contest were Mrs. Arvid Hermodson of Crookston in the adult division and Miss Eunice Wangberg of Thief River Falls in the junior division. Eleven district winners competed in each of the classes held on a state level Thursday and Friday at the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture in St. Paul.

Miss Odegaard made and modeled a black wool suit and coat ensemble made from a pattern of a Christian Dior original. Of the more than 500 persons in all divisions who competed in district competition, 104 were entered in the district contest held in Thief River Falls.

Also attending the state contest, in addition to Miss Odegaard, Miss Wangberg and Mrs. Hermodson, were Mrs. G. Milford Peterson, Crookston, district director of the contest, and Mrs. R. A. Wangberg, Thief River Falls.

Prowler Quint Loses to Warren 54 to 48

Dropping twelve points into the east basket without a Prowler answer in the first period gave coach Irv St. John's a point-cushion that carried the Ponies to a well-earned 54-48 win over the locals in a district conference game played here Friday night. Only in the final minutes of the game, when the Ponies were resorting to a "control ball" style of game, were the Prowlers able to pare that twelve-point cushion.

This week the Prowlers will engage in a double-header. On Friday night the locals will travel to Crookston for a district conference game against coach Al Droen's Pirates. And on Saturday night, on the high school court here, the Virginia team of Region Seven will play the Prowlers. As a preliminary to the Virginia vs. Prowlers game, the Newfolden-Nordics 'B' squad will play the Prowler 'B' squad.

The Warren Ponies, who proved to be rugged in covering the boards, bounced away to a commanding lead in the opening minutes of Friday night's tilt, piling up 12 points before Paul Klungness, on a lay-up shot with 3:48 of the period to play, tallied for the Prowlers.

In this first-period scoring spurt of the Ponies, Dave Fischer drove in for a lay-up following the game-opening tipoff; Jerry Cook, who was remarkably accurate on his jump shots from the left corner, dropped in a field goal; Howard Elseth, on a set-up play, drove in for a lay-up; Fischer notched a free throw; Cook, on an assist from Tom Howard, pumped in a shot from the left corner; Fischer added another free-throw point; and then Cook, again from the corner, hit to give the Ponies a 12 to 0 lead.

The Prowlers, with Klungness scoring seven points, and Wayne Bjerken and Tom Lindberg adding field goals, pared the Pony lead to 15-11 at the end of the first stanza.

The Ponies, though, with a nine-point outburst midway in the second period, moved into a 37 to 25 lead at the intermission.

Warren, continuing their study brand of play, with Howard and Cook setting up the plays and Bob Peterson, Elseth, and Fischer covering the boards, maintained their advantage throughout the third period, to hold a 50-to-34 lead, and into the final minutes of the game, when a Prowler flurry erased some of the Warren point-margin.

Paul Klungness, with five field goals and ten free throws in twelve attempts, was the game's high point player with 20 points. Jerry Cook, with eight field goals and a free throw, and scoring seven of his field goals in the first half, led coach St. John's club with 17 points.

Four Plummer junior-senior high school students were placed on the 'A' honor roll for the second six-weeks period, it was announced last week. Thieves Hockey Six Opener Dec. 13

Locals Will Face UND Freshman Team at Arena

Team manager Clarence Amlot announced that the senior hockey Thieves will open their exhibition schedule on Wednesday night, Dec. 13, at the Arena here. The Thieves, who will be under the direction of Joey Poole as player-coach, will meet coach Bob Peters' North Dakota freshman squad in the opener.

Poole, who was an all-state tournament selection while with the Prowlers, and named an All-American while with the NCAA North Dakota Sioux champions, is a fortunate choice to direct the local seniors this year. Joey has established his home here in the city.

In Wednesday night's opener, such Thieves' veterans as Monty Markstrom, DelRay and Cal Offerdahl will join such former Prowler stars as Eddie Holmes, Arlan Hjelle, Mike McMahon, Duane Glass and others.

While several of the former Thieves players have signified their intentions of withdrawing from hockey this season, it is hoped that these "boys" can be persuaded to change their minds before the 8:00 p. m. face-off time on Wednesday night.

Union State Bank Aids 4-H Program

The Union State Bank has joined with other Minnesota banks in nationwide support of 4-H Club work, according to J. J. Womack, president. The contribution was made, Womack, said, to the National 4-H Club Foundation, Washington, D. C. Leadership for Minnesota's bank participation in this program came from Paul W. Gandrud, vice president of the Swift County bank of Benson.

The Hockey Opener

The weekend's cold snap guaranteed that the Arena ice sheet will be fast and hard for the senior hockey opener here on Wednesday, Dec. 13, when coach Bob Peters' North Dakota Frosh meet the Thieves.

Player-manager Joey Poole has had the local squad out for several practice sessions on the Arena ice, but the former North Dakota Sioux player will not be able to designate a starting lineup for the Thieves until Wednesday. Players who have reported to Poole for the drills are Eddie Holmes, Arlan Hjelle, Monty Markstrom, DelRay ~~and Cal Offerdahl, and Duane~~ and Cal Offerdahl and Duane Glass. According to the roster received here, the Nodak frosh will be, as usual, well-equipped with Canadians. Among the nine Americans listed on the squad is a former Thief River Falls native, Gary Granum. Gary, a son of Oscar (Shorty) Granum, lived here during his grade schol days, being a pupil at Northrop. Gary played his high school hockey with the Grand Forks Redskins. Other Americans on the freshman squad are Chuck Oseid of Roseau, Jim Bredeson of Duluth, Jim Sanborn of Fargo, Mike Jerome of Devils Lake, and Don Nelson of Grand Forks.

Face-off time is at 8 p. m. at the Arena rink.

This Could Be the Year

Not since 1943, when the Climax Vikings scored a 31-29 win over the Prowlers in the district finals, has a so-called smaller school won the 31st district basketball title. But this could be the year.

Since 1943 the district cage honors have been monopolized by the "big" schools Thief River Falls, Crookston, East Grand Forks, and Warren. Since 1943, the Prowlers have won seven district titles; Crookston has won seven championships; East Grand Forks has won three; and the Warren Ponies, in 1950, have won once.

In fact, since the 31st district was reorganized in its present set up in 1930, the Climax Vikings, by their 1943 victory, are the only team to break into the championship monopoly of the "big" schools. In 1944, though, the district was divided into Class A and Class B divisions, with the winner in each division entering the eight-team regional tournament. Fisher won the Class B honors that year and participated in the Region Eight tourney here.

This year there are several of the district's smaller schools that have veteran lineups, notably Climax, Plummer, and Oslo. The Climax club, which lost to the Prowlers, 69-53, in last season's district finals, have one of the few "big" men of the district in their lineup in six-foot five-inch Duane Palm. Palm has been sidelined during the early-season play because of a football injury, but he is expected to join the Vikings after the holidays. And Don Sparrow, a regular on last season's Viking club, has been out of the lineup due to injury, but he, too, will return to action in January.

The Plummer Cardinals, who scored a decisive 58 to 22 win over the Eagles at Red Lake Falls on Friday, are an all-veteran club and they, too, can develop into a district contender.

The Oslo Bobcats, with one of the district's best scorers in Dave Michalski in the lineup, should gain a berth in the district tourney this season.

On early-season play, the burly East Grand Forks Little Wave and the Warren Ponies have proved to be the most capable of the district's 'big' school teams. The Ponies of coach Irv St. John, who defeated the defending district-champion Prowlers, 54-48, here Friday night, are a capable club. In Jerry Cook and Tom Howard, Warren has a pair of superb players, and Dave Fischer, Bob Peterson, and Howard Elseth are adequate first stringers. But the Ponies are shy of reserves, and this lack may be a handicap during tournament play, especially if the officials call a "tight" game. It will be an interesting season.

Calling All Curlers

The four sheets of ice were "put in" at the Fair Grounds curling arena last week, and on Saturday and Sunday a season-opening bonspiel was held.

It is planned to begin league competition this week, and curlers, or prospective curlers, wishing to join a rink and participate in the "roaring game" should call Leonard Furuseth, Leo Nelson or Russ Embury.

Price-support Wheat Testing Is Clarified

It will not be necessary to have a sedimentation test made on wheat in order to receive price support under the 1962 wheat program, according to Edward A. Johnson, chairman, Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

However, the chairman points out, in order for wheat stored in commercial grain warehouses to be eligible for premiums under price support, it will be necessary for the sedimentation value to be recorded on the warehouse receipt or on the supplemental certificate attached thereto.

The procedure for making premiums payment on warehouse loans under 1962-crop wheat price support will be the same as under previous programs, except that the sedimentation value will be substituted for the protein content.

"We're making an all-out effort to insure that every farmer and elevator operator in the county understands this procedure," Mr. Johnson said.

He explained that in some cases, warehouse loans, on the 1962 crop of hard wheat will be available to wheat producers even if the warehouse receipt does not show a sedimentation value for that lot of wheat. In other cases, price-support loans will not be available unless the sedimentation value is on the warehouse receipt or supplemental certificate. The place and method of delivery to storage will be the determining factor.

Warehouse recepts issued for price-support wheat delivered to storage by truck may be accepted exactly as in the past. If the local elevator is using either a sedimentation test or a station average, then a sedimentation value must be shown on the warehouse receipt But if neither sedimentation testing nor station average is being used, and the wheat is delivered by truck, then warehouse receipts without a sedimentation value will be honored by the ASCS for price support.

Where wheat is delivered by rail or barge, warehouse receipts or supplemental certificates—received by the ASCS from farmers for price support—must show the sedimentation value.

Wheat offered for price support and stored on the farm offers no problem. In hard wheat areas, such wheat will be tested by ASCS personnel at no charge to the farmer. Laboratories are being established in the areas where hard wheat is grown to provide sedimentation testing service.

The sedimentation value of wheat indicates the maximum potential bread-baking strength of wheat, stated the chairman. It reflects both the protein quantity and the quality, or strength, of the gluten. Cereal chemists and other scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture agree that it is a more reliable index of bread-baking strength than the more precise protein test used as the basis for price-support premium payments in previous crop years. The old protein test measures the amount of protein only.

Chairman Johnson also stated that the quality premiums are intended to provide incentive to producers to upgrade the quality of wheat varieties planted. The test results give producers more information about the quality of the wheat they are growing, and enable them to adopt varieties and cultural practices that give them a better chance of producing the quality of wheat desirable for its potential bread-baking strength.

Under previous programs, producers did not receive enough information about the quality factor of their wheat to cause them to change their planting practices the chairman said.

Economist Cites Choice by Farmers

Can't Have High Supports with No Limit on Output

Agriculture has almost reached the end of the era when it can expect reasonable levels of income support and relatively unlimited power to produce, an agricultural economist at the University of Minnesota said today.

Elmer Learn told the annual conference of the University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service that for agriculture the real choices of the not-too-distant future are between income support at reasonable levels combined with greater limitations on production—or lower levels of prices and incomes.

"How much lower depends on budget pressure and how far we go toward wiping out existing problems," Learn stated.

The economist said the choice is not going to be made by agriculture alone; all people are directly concerned with farm programs as consumers and citizens and will be heard.

"Educators concerned with agriculture—especially those on the resident and extension staff of a land grant college—have a major challenge. The urgency of meeting that challenge cannot be overemphasized.

"We need not and should not speak as proponents for or against agriculture or for or against government programs. But we must speak out to present facts — to strengthen public understanding of the issues and the consequences of alternative decisions," Learn said.

President O. M. Wilson to Confer 850 Degrees

Logan Wilson, president of the American Council on Education, Washington, D.C., will speak on "What's Right With American Education" at fall commencement exercises Thursday, Dec. 14, at the University of Minnesota.

University President O. Meredith Wilson will confer some 850 undergraduate and graduate degrees at 8 p. m. in Northrop Memorial auditorium.

Mr. Wilson was president of the University of Texas from 1953 until his appointment this year as president of the ACE. He has also served as professor and head of the departments of sociology at Tulane university, New Orleans, La., and University of Kentucky, Lexington, and was dean of Newcomb College, Tulane university, and academic vice-president of the Consolidated University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

A President's reception for graduates, their families and friends will be held immediately after commencement exercises in Coffman Memorial Union main ballroom.

FIRST HAND knowledge of what goes on inside the Northwestern Bell Telephone office in Thief River Falls was gained by Knox school pupils on tour last week. Workings of the switchboard are intently viewed in the above photo by Paul Ihle, left, and James Burrell, as they peer over the shoulder of one of the switchboard operators. The local office encourages groups to tour the plant and welcomes interested visitors. Company personnel also stated they were impressed by the intelligent questions asked by the visiting pupils.

"I have noticed, particularly at parties, that what really attracts people is a certain vitality. Fame or beauty or an interesting mind do attract and hold for a while, to be sure, usually for reasons of self-interest; but it is vitality, a spontaneous giving forth of itself, that people seek and need and gravitate toward."
—Agnes Boulton

Congratulations

County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk is getting special achievement awards quite regularly, and he deserves them. Some of them, have come to him personally and some to the county for activities for which he has provided the leadership. All of them are awards that he has earned. Our sincere congratulations to you Paul, and in behalf of the area that has benefited by your good leadership, not just Pennington County, thank you.

Nine Million Dollars

According to the ever-accurate great family journal, we note that the local creamery is going to distribute $9,588,870 as a dividend to patrons at the annual meeting tomorrow. That is only half of what the patrons have coming for the earnings of 1948, the story tells us. Wow, what a whale of a year 1948 must have been. Why don't commas and decimal points keep in their right place as the rest of us have to do—or do we?

The Common Market

President Kennedy made two important speeches last week, each of them requesting support for his position on the tariff question that will be one of the hottest issues before the next Congress. In New York, on Wednesday, he addressed the convention of the National Association of Manufacturers. On Thursday, at Miami Beach, he spoke to the biennial covention of the AFL-CIO.

He indicated in general terms that he favors a lowering of trade barriers with Common Market countries. He stated:

> "When the current Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act expires in June, it must be replaced by a wholly new and bold approach as revolutionary as the changes now going on in European commerce, as broad as our economic potential demands and deserves, and as challenging as the crisis and opportunity now facing American business and labor."

To the business group he promised balanced budgets and sound government pratices. To the labor group he gave assurance that individuals or communities adversely effected by the new program would be provided for by new programs of public assistance.

The President was not specific about what he would ask of Congress but he made it clear that he will ask for "broad new tariff cutting power. He said:

> " If the West is to take the initiative in the economic arena, if the United States is to keep pace with the revolutionary changes which are taking place thruout the world, if the exports are to retain and expand their position in world markets, then we need a new, bold instrument of American trade policy."

Of course the President is right. We now have little choice in the matter. The program he proposes is right because it is the lesser of two evils, and we must make a choice.

The program he proposes is not going to be pleasant during the period of transition. We have some difficult adjustments to make. These adjustments would be easier if the Kennedys had recognized the dangers earlier. By continuing spirals of wage and price increases we have been pricing ourselves out of the world markets, encouraging American industry to build plants in other countries, and creating unemployment here at home. Now President Kennedy recognizes the fact that the period of adjustment can no longer be postponed.

Common Market countries are not telling us that they are going to drive us out of the world markets with their lower cost goods. They are not threatening us with a trade war, On the contrary they have indicated that they would like to have us join with them in a program of production and trade that will make goods available to a needy world at prices that would encourage trade with the needy nations. The Common Market plan is one answer to the challenge of Communism.

The founding fathers formed a common market in our country when our government was established. Each state of the United States was a sovereign state to a large extent but no state was permitted to set up barriers to trade with other states. That is one of the main reasons why we have grown great as a nation, there have been no barriers to a free exchange of goods and services among us.

And a common market within the industrial nations of the free world could bring about the same good results on a larger scale.

Special Session Called

Another special session of the legislature will convene Monday morning, with prospects good for speedy action on the congressional redistricting plan approved by a special conference committee of both the House and the Senate. The business of the session will no doubt be limited to this and perhaps one or two noncontroversial matters that should have immediate attention and can be disposed of without oratory or argument.

It has been suggested that a taconite tax amendment might be considered. That definitely would be a mistake. This question has been made a partisan issue and until the facts are straightened out, and the public is correctly informed on what is involved in the issue, nothing would be gained by submitting the question to the voters. It is difficult to secure favorable action on an amendment if there is no organized opposition to its passage. To secure favorable action on a proposal that has been made highly controversial would be impossible.

The special session should be able to complete the necessary work in two short days and one long night.

Interesting Reactions

One's immediate reaction on reading the transcript of Mr. Aleksei Adzhubei's interview with the President is a feeling of relief that the White House is occupied by a man imaginative enough to know what worries his audience and intelligent enough to put complicated thoughts into simple words.—The Economist, London.

The text of the interview—has provoked a rather favorable impression, at least insofar as concerns the manner in which the American President has talked about United States-Soviet relations and the way in which he seemed to consider the forthcoming opening of negotiation on the German question as an obvious fact. But if this is his opinion, he evidently will have to convince Adenauer and de Gaulle.—L'Humanite, Paris (Communist).

This was an unusual conversation. —Nevertheless, this should not prompt us to draw unusual conclusions.—Propaganda will easily neutralize any undesirable impressions created thereby.—Presumably it represents a non-committal attempt to revive United States-Soviet talks by way of improving the existing climate. However, what useful purpose does verbal friendliness serve as long as it is not translated into real politics? — Frankfurter Neue Presse, Frankfurt.

Most of all, the President tried to allay Russian fears—which have been exaggerated out of all proportion—as to the resurgent might of West Germany—Both by the tone of his remarks and their content, the President has given the Russian people a great deal to think about. In many respects he has also given the American people much to think about, especially those who persist in believing that no negotiations with the Russians are possible—Chicago Daily News.

Search For Incentives

(Charleston, W. Va., Daily Mail)

The British, too, have had their troubles with foreign aid and tell this story to illustrate the difficulties of playing Santa Claus:

Their production specialist was trying to persuade the villager to join his wife in the rice paddles so that they might grow more rice. "But why? aske the good man. "She grows enough now."

"Well, said the agent, you can earn some cash and buy yourself a bicycle." "But I already have a bicycle," was the reply. "Then you can buy your wife a sewing machine," said the agent, plugging away at his job. "She doesn't need a sewing machine," said the villager (probably because she was to busy in the rice paddles to use it).

"Well, then," said the production specialist, growing a little impatient, "if you earn money you can put it in the bank and when you get old you can retire and do nothing but sleep under a palm tree all day." "That," said the simple man, "is what I do now."

And there, lamentably, lies much of the difficulty in persuading many of the world's people to go to work. They don't even know they are loafing.

Nonconformist Way

(Memphis Commercial Appeal)

You've seen the magazine cover picturing the fictitious fellow who paved his yard and painted it green. It's realy happened.

Out in Portand, Ore., John A. Burtis spent $830 to have asphalt paving put in place of grass. Next summer, after he's saved some more money, he plans to paint it a vivid green.

End of story? Oh, no.

The neighbors don't like it. The neighborhood holds that anything but grass is a sacrilege to their community. Dig it up, they say.

Mr. Burtis hasn't brought out a shotgun yet to defend his right to do as he pleases with the surface of his property. He hasn't argued that paving a front yard with asphalt is no different from building a large brick of concrete patio in a back yard.

In fact, he isn't doing much of anything to answer his critics. He just sweeps off the yard and ignores the power mower brigade.

Redistricting in Sight

As I write this it seems quite certain that you will be voting for your own Congressman in your own district in 1962 instead of facing the confusion of all the Congressmen running statewide.

After months of effort it is a great satisfaction to have this come about—and on the basis of agreement ahead of time so there would be no need for a long expensive session.

What about Taconite?

So far there is no agreement on the taconite amendment. Despite the fact that two-thirds of the people say they favor it, despite the urgent need for jobs in northeastern Minnesota, despite studies by Macalester College and progessors in mines and metallurgy at the University of Minnesota favoring it—in spite of all this, you are being denied a chance to vote on this important matter.

The opponents have not offered a single alternative. Mines close, stores go broke, ships haul iron mining equipment out of Minnesota and critical unemployment continues. The Minnesota editors who lunched with the President a short time ago received no encouragement whatever that the Federal government would aid the situation The solution is up to us and we can provide the solution by simply working together instead of playing politics, as some insist on doing.

The taconite amendment is no cure-all, but it would help. To assure equality of tax treatment with other industry would encourage investment I feel sure.

The very least that the opponents should do is suggest some form of amendment they could support. Those who offer nothing, and block the efforts of those who are trying, deserve repudiation.

Fishing License Sales

Minnesota leads all states in the sale of fishing licenses according to a report just issued by the United States Fish and Wildlife service. Minnesota has been at the top in three of the last six years. California, with three times our population, is the only state to come close. Here's the 1960 standing:

Minnesota	1,404,103
California	1,348,205
Michigan	964,473

Blue Book

One of the handy tools of legislators and others interested in state government is the Minnesota Legislative Manual of "blue book" as it is usually called. It is issued every two years, and a new copy is just out.

It is a good-sized volume describing the work of state government, picturing (with short biographies) legislators and others in state government, listing all county officials, newspapers, and 1960 complete election returns.

Legislators receive a limited number for free distribution to constituents. A request to the Secretary of State can also bring you a copy. A reading of the portions on our history and organization would be interesting and helpful to you and give you a much clearer picture and greater appreciation of your state government.

SLOW DOWN AND LIVE

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

A terrace and contour farming system wins the approval of Walter Melchert, Springfield, because he now has a chance to supply more fertilizer and plant heavier stands on higher producing soils. Melchert had found it nearly impossible to get the right plant population for each soil type when working his fields up and down hill. Lester Schmidt, SCS Work Unit Conservationist at Sleepy Eye, helped lay out Melchert's terrace and contour farming system.

A gully converted to a stock and fish pond now provides recreation for Waseca county farmer Cletus Hoehn's family and neighbors. Hoehn put in a dam with a spillway and transformed the gully into a pond about 12 feet deep with a one-acre water surface. County agent Cletus Murphy says Hoehn is now taking two-pound bass and bluegills weighing up to three-quarters-pound from his controlled gully.

Having lived on a contoured farm, Darwin Meyers, who recently moved to Redwood county, knew the value of water conservation and soil erosion practices. He wasted little time in asking Robert J. Feldt, SCS Work Unit Conservationist at Redwood Falls to plan conservation improvements on his new farm as he started his first cropping year.

Soybean yields in Yellow Medicine county run considerably below nearby experiment station averages, reports County Agent David S. Johnson. Yields at both the Morris and Lamberton station beat county yields by 12 to 15 bushels. Johnson says a good fertility program, use of inoculants and fungicides, timely weed control and careful harvesting will go a long ways toward increasing soybean yields.

"Hillside ditches" is what Dennis Bottem, St. James, calls his new drainage-type terraces. Terraces of this type do for a hillside what ditches do for wet level land. Both kinds of terraces control water instead of letting it run willy-nilly over the fields. What's more, they improve fields for better plant growth. And water becomes a servant instead of a master when it's harnessed by ditches or terraces.

Benefit beyond its original purpose—that's the story of Fred Timmer's stock watering pit. Latin 1959 Timmer, who farms in Mille Lacs county's Bogus Brook township, dug a circular pit 70 feet in diameter and over 8 feet deep to provide water for young stock pastured away from the home place. When in 1960, a nearby village needed water to help tar the streets, Timmer said pit water could be used as long as the level held up. William Calton, SCS work unit conservationist, says up to 11,000 gallons of water per day was removed for several days and the water level returned to normal.

"Norway Pine, white cedar and white spruce trees in the farmstead shelterbelt sure help hold back those cold winter winds," says Ralph Jopp of Carver county's Hollywood township. Jopp is just beginning to reap the benefits of the fine shelterbelt he set out in 1950 and 1951. Dale R. Smith, Carver county agent, says some of Jopp's evergreen trees are now more than 8 feet tall and effectively turn back the cold north wind all winter long.

Fertilized pastures pay dividends at the University of Minnesota's Rosemount experiment station. Fertilizer application has failed to show a profit only one year in the past seven. That was in 1955 when winter killing of alfalfa and orchard-grass the preceding winter was followed by extreme drought in the spring."

of Rhyme & Reason

BY MARY LUNDIN

WHAT A SHOCK IT WAS to turn the calendar page to December on a cold, blustery day a week ago and read the notation on the figure 21. "WINTER BEGINS" was the cheerful note, and while I suppose I have always known it to be true, it didn't seem proper to start the snow and blow season a month after "winter" in its normal sense had already clutched the area in its icy grasp.

But it does bring to mind how fast the calendar leaves fall away as another year has nearly completed its imprint in the chronicle of time. And, from what I am led to understand, the leaves of time fall much more swiftly as a person passes the pinnacle years and heads toward the sunset season of life.

All of which brings us to the subject for today: "After Retirement —What?" Thinking on this subject was stimulated by Bernard Nash, executive secretary of the Governor's Citizen Council on Aging, who spoke at a combined Rotary-Lions meeting last week.

It has long been my contention that activity is a pre-requisite for physical and mental health. Too frequently have I seen and heard of individuals who worked long and hard for a comfortable retirement and then simply faded away into the great beyond. The fact that this is true was illustrated in Mr. Nash's statistics. He advocated here, and has done so throughout the state, a comprehensive program of vitalized activity for persons who have reached their "Golden Years".

In fact, this near obsession with the 39-year-old Nash is contagious. To hear him is to move forward on the edge of your chair and say; "Let's do something about this situation. Let's get going. Why can't we do what other areas and communities have done—only moreso and better? When can we start? Where do we start?"

WHERE DO WE START? Good question. Real good question. Where DO we start? First of all we have to form a group. The county board of commissioners is given authority under state law to do this. The group must then determine the needs and facilities available or which can be developed to fulfill the needs. Then the public must be notified of what is being done and can be done. Projects are activated. The ball starts to roll. Things are accomplished. Interest is stimulated. Something worthwhile is being done.

With one out of every 10 people in Pennington county over the age of 65, there should be little doubt that a program is needed. The scope of this program is up to the people who take part in it. Interest will be there. Impetus is what is needed to formulate an organization.

Nash told of a meeting in New Ulm where 735 people turned out after the county board said there was no interest in or need for a program. At a later meeting, on a cold and rainy night, an 86-year-old woman was found six miles out in the country, walking to town for the group meeting. She didn't want to miss it. Many organizations are formed with political pull. This one needs community push. If interested, give me a call or drop me a card. And don't forget to write to your county commissioner.

Mrs. G. Milford Peterson of Crookston, district chairman of the Make-It-Yourself-with-Wool contest held here several weeks ago, appreciates the efforts made by Thief River Falls in staging the annual event. Mrs. Gunder Legvold, Pennington county chairman, deserves much of the credit. Judging by the number of participants, the unique contest is gaining much popularity throughout this area as well as the rest of the state.

Eldest participant this year was Mrs. Fred Trimble of Bemidji who, at age 73, was induced by her daughter, Mrs. Billie Folk of Tenstrike, to enter the event. Although possibly invoking the wrath of sportsmen, I can mention that Mrs. Charles Fjeld of Ada is provided with material for a new wool outfit by her husband each year as a reciprocal agreement for his dear hunting trip. Mrs. Lloyd Clow of Orleans was given interest in the contest by her husband who is a wool grower.

Hats off to the district, its directors and contestants, for the fine work and fine showing. And a collective hat tip to the American sheep producers who sponsor the event in promotion of their product.

IN THE COOL OF THE YULE

A pencil cocked behind each ear,
Another in my hand,
I faced the torture of the year,
My yule card list to plan.

There's aunts and uncles, countless cousins,
Parents, sisters, brothers,
Friends, acquaintances by dozens,
Odds and ends of others.

Compiling all the information
I set out to extract
Gives me at least the consolation
That it's complete, exact.

The task, once done, was not so hard,
Though numbers were a lot.
And then arrived my first yule card—
From someone I forgot.

Tax collections in Marshall County have soared to a new high figure during the present year with current payments of real estate and personal property taxes totaling $1,836,114.41 for the three tax settlement periods or $59,479.50 more than for the same periods in 1960 when the payments totaled $1,776,634.91

Estimated State Tax Returns Due

Those with Income of $200 Besides Wages Must File

Under the new state income tax withholding law, Minnesota individuals whose gross incomes for 1961 can reasonably be expected to include more than $200 from sources other than wages subject to withholding must file declarations of their estimated state income taxes for 1961 with the state tax department by December 15, Charles P. Stone, general counsel of the Minnesota Taxpayers association, warned today.

"Most self-employed individuals (except farmers) fall within this category," Stone said, "so do many wage-earners and salaried employees who have other reportable income such as a sizeable federal income tax refund, interest from a savings account, or dividends from stock."

Each such declaration must be accompanied by a remittance of one-fourth of the total estimated tax for 1961, less amounts withheld or to be withheld.

"To avoid the statutory penalties imposed for late payment of estimated tax, all individuals required to file declarations would be well-advised to do so by December 15," Stone said.

Vice President Johnson to Open March of Dimes

Vice President Lyndon Johnson will officially kick off the 1962 Minnesota state March of Dimes campaign when he and his wife, Lady Bird, arrive in the Twin Cities to be special guests at a state-wide labor dance January 5 at the Prom Center in St. Paul.

The announcement of the vice president's trip here in behalf of the March of Dimes campaign was made by Elmer Hillner, Minneapolis, state March of Dimes chairman.

Elliot Roosevelt, son of the founder of the March of Dimes, will be toastmaster for the dance. Franklin Roosevelt Jr. and his wife will also take part in the event.

Founded by President Roosevelt in 1938 to raise funds to battle polio and care for polio patients, the March of Dimes recently expanded its campaign to fight all crippling diseases. It presently is engaged in research, education programs and patient aid in the fields of birth defects, polio and arthritis.

Robert Hess, executive vice president of the state AFL-CIO, is general chairman of the March of Dimes dance.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

Make a Yule Log

There's nothing like colorful decorations to make a home cheery at Christmas time, and if you make them they have your personal feelings intwined within.

A homemade yule log that burns gayly colored flames is a must if you have an open fireplace, but it should be started now if it's going to be ready for Christmas.

Christmas candles, too, should be started before the holiday rush sets in. This year make sure you have several to shed their warm glow in your home. Make them in different sizes, colors and shapes—it's really fun!

Candles of any size, shape or color may be made by melting wax with crayons or old lipsticks and then solidifying it in a mold of the desired size and shape.

The wax can be old candle stumps or slabs of parafin. It must be melted over hot water (not over open flame it is dangerously inflammable!)

For molds use wax milk cartons, tin cans, smooth-rimmed dessert or jelly molds, anything that has the shape you desire.

If you grease the container before putting the wax in; after the wax has hardened it will come out with a gentle tap.

Wicks may be a heavy string dipped in wax or by soaking the heavy string overnight in a solution of one tablespoon salt, 2 tablespoons borax and 1 cup water, hang it up to dry and then dip it in melted wax.

A wick may be placed in the mold before the wax is poured in. It must be attached or weighted down at the bottom and supported so it stays in position.

Still another method is to make a hole with a heated ice pick, insert the wick and seal it in place with a few drops of hot wax.

Yule Logs

2 pounds coarse salt
2 pounds bluestone
1 ounce coloring salt
2 gallons boiling H2O

Bluestone and coloring salts may be purchased at the drug store. It is best to use a wooden container or crockery as chemical salts tend to corrode metal.

Combine bluestone coarse salt, coloring and boiling H2O. Roll up magazine or newspaper as tightly as possible and tie securely with string.

Place paper logs in solution to completely cover. Don't pack too compactly, as papers need to become saturated with solution. Let stand for about two weeks, until papers are well saturated.

Remove logs from solution with rubber gloves and place on racks to dry. Drying process may take as long as a month.

I have received many phone calls at the office wanting some Christmas ideas for decorations. Christmas just wouldn't be Christmas without its share of sugarplums and goodies.

Apple tree — Put a candy stick into a red apple. Cut the scalloped edge from two small paper doilies. Tape the two strips together to make one long ruffle. Curl the ruffle around the candy. Tape to the top and bottom of the stick.

Door Bells — For each bell, cover a paper cup with aluminum foil or paint them the color desired. Tie a small Christmas ball to a ribbon; punch a hole in the cup; run the ribbon through.

Tree Santa — Break an egg near the end and empty the shell. Glue on cotton beard, eyebrows, and hair. Make button eyes and nose, and a red paper hat.

There are some ideas which can be made from household equipment.

Decorate your dish drainer to make a holder for Christmas cards. Weave two rows of ribbon through side bars and trim with large bow, greens, and pine cones.

A plain tray can become an effective wall decoration. Glue a paper tree in the center of the tray and decorate with greens and red ribbon. Then glue a gingerbread man on each side of the tree.

$42 Million Paid In Death Benefits to Date in 1961

Jehovah Leader Talks at Virginia

"We face a world divided politically, religiously and racially, and it is evident that human efforts to create unity among nations and races have failed," said W. R. He was speaking to 600 persons in the Virginia National Guard Armory Sunday afternoon on the subject "Uniting Men in a Split-Up World".

Holiday Foods Are on Plentiful List

Turkey Is One of Biggest Bargains for Christmas

Favorite foods for holiday eating are on the U. S. Department of Agricuiutre's list of plentiful foods for December.

Tender, meaty turkeys are expected to be in 14 percent larger supply than last December. 1961 prices of turkeys are the lowest in 20 years, according to Mrs. Eleanor Loomis, extension consumer marketing specialist at the University of Minnesota. Birds will continue to be available in a variety of sizes to suit family needs.

Broiler-fryer chicken will be plentiful all month, although December marketings are forecast as slightly lower than a year ago.

Hogs coming to market from the large spring crop will provide a big supply of pork and hams for holiday feasting.

For budget-saving meals, you can count on plenty of Michigan pea beans for baking.

Cranberries, apples and grapefruit are the fruits that will be in abundance during the month. Apples are a natural companion for pork, just as cranberries are for poultry. Cranberries can ornament the table in a shimmering sauce or tart relish, and strings of cranberries can also decorate the Christmas tree. Use cranberries, too, in muffins and hot breads, Mrs. Loomis suggests.

The supply of $8 grapefruit is about 8 percent above last year's production. Much of the fruit will come from Florida, Arizona and California. The Texas crop will be slightly smaller than a year ago because of hurricane damage.

SCIENCE TOPICS

Hurry up and wait, the old Army game, is the lament of the commercial air traveler, that Jet Age phenomenen who bolts faster and faster from airport to airport only to bog down in traffic trying to get back and forth to town. And things will get worse before they get better, predicts the Federal Aviation Agency. It estimates that, even now, as much as 60 per cent of the airline patron's travel time is spent on the ground, depending on the length of his journey. The solution may be a large number of low-capacity aircraft taking passengers to and from the jetport over a widely scattered pattern of origins and destinations, the FAA suggests guardedly. And it points out that any solution is far in the future.

Skim milk drinkers are on the increase. Dairy officials report sales of the low-calorie milk are 9 per cent over a year ago while whole milk sales are down 1 per cent.

Only two states have more people per square mile than Puerto Rico, according to the U. S. Census Bureau: Rhode Island, with 812, and New Jersey, with 806. Puerto Rico has 686 persons per square mile.

Music hath charms to soothe the supermarket shopper and get him or her to buy more than in a non-musical atmosphere, according to a study conducted by Cornell University in Ithaca, N. Y., stores. Eight out of 10 shoppers like the music the survey showed. They like it clearly audible but not distracting, and mostly in the light classical or moderately popular vein.

Fishery chemists are looking for new ways to lock in the essential nutritives of fish foods. One problem: unlike many forms of meat, which improve with controlled aging, fish are at their best when just caught. Improved handling and refrigeration methods on fishing boats and better processing and storage techniques were examined at a recent Washington meeting of the International Conference on Fish Nutrition.

Automation can be carried too far, as four contrite pleasure boaters can attest. They arrived at their destination — San Pedro, Calif. — unaware that their automatically piloted craft was close enough to home to require a human hand at the wheel. It struck a breakwater and sank. The four were rescued by the Coast Guard.

Mrs. U. S. Savings Bonds of 1962

Mrs. U.S. SAVINGS

Blonde, blue-eyed Mrs. Emily Terrall, of St. Helens, Oregon, is the new "Mrs. United States Savings Bonds of 1962." As a Treasury volunteer Goodwill Ambassador, she will tour the nation during the coming year in the promotion of Savings Bonds. The 37-year-old housewife won the title from among 51 state contestants for the "Mrs. America" title in competition just closed at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where she appeared as "Mrs. Oregon." The Terrall family is no stranger to Savings Bonds. Husband of the new "Mrs. Savings Bonds" is an industrial engineer, and buys bonds regularly on the Payroll Savings Plan. Mrs. Terrall, an alumna of the University of Washington, has been active in the PTA-sponsored school stamp program. And needless to say, their three sons—aged 7, 9 and 12—are all avid stamp buyers. Mrs. Terrall is the fifth winner of the "Mrs. Savings Bonds" title. She succeeds Mrs. Vivian Ackerman, of Tucson, Arizona.

Says Education Will Solve Farm Problem

The solution to the "farm problem" and related problems will come primarily through education, said E. T. York, Jr., administrator of the Federal Extension Service in St. Paul Friday.

He spoke at the closing session of the four-day annual conference of the University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service on the St. Paul Campus.

"There is no domestic problem facing our nation today of such importance as the so-called farm problem and its array of accompanying adjustment difficulties. Programs aimed at resolving this monumental problem must represent Extension's basic mission and goal," said York.

York saw the need for more intensive training, employment of better-trained Extension workers and more adequate financial assistance to attract and maintain the most competent personnel available.

He pointed out that "One of the great strengths of Agricultural Extension work is in its total approach—in its concern with the total family—with young people and the home. This must continue to be one of the most important parts of our total effort.

York reminded his audience that Cooperative Extension work is unique in that it is not concerned with education in the abstract — with the mere accumulation of knowledge — but rather with education for action — with education directed specifically towards helping people solve immediate problems or deal with immediate circumstances. He saw a need to keep this distinction clearly identified, separate and apart from programs of general education.

The speaker also pointed out that Extension is unique in that it is a program of continuing education — which enables people to keep abreast of new developments.

York expressed the opinion that "One of the most important functions of Agricultural Extension in the future may be that of bringing together, motivating and organizing the various resource groups which can contribute to the solution of our many problems."

HONORED Paul Stelmaschuk, right, Pennington county agricultural agent, is pictured as he was presented with a plaque by Robert Raustadt, University of Minnesota extension assistant information specialist, for winning first place in the press division of the Minnesota extension service information contests. Winners were announced at the annual conference of the extension service on the St. Paul campus Dec. 5-8. Other honors won by Stelmaschuk were a blue ribbon for a series of pictures arranged, in the visual aids division; and a blue ribbon for a single news story in the press division.

Christmas Tree Caution Is Urged

Minnesota State Medial Assn. Gives Safety Tips

The Minnesota State Medical association during this holiday season warns that the Christmas tree is not only a beautiful symbol of Christmas, but because it is filled with pitch and resin, is very combustible, ignites easily and burns furiously.

The Christmas tree, its lighting and decorations, extra guests, drinking and smoking, toys and gift wrapping—all increase fire hazards, and special heed should be taken of the pointers listed below:

Buy a small tree. Don't set it up until a few days before Christmas, keep it outdoors until ready to put up.

Keep the tree in a cool part of the house, away from radiators, heaters, or fireplaces. Stand it in water. Discard it when needles begin to fall.

Use electric tree lights, never candles. Light cords should be unfrayed and the switch kept some distance from the tree. Don't wrap lights with flammable decorations or tissue. Always turn tree lights off when leaving home. Inspect the tree from time to time to see if any of the needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so, change the position of the lights.

Insist on tidy housekeeping during the Holiday Season. Be sure that gift-wrappings and boxes are not allowed to sit around.

Any school official or teacher of north central Minnesota requesting organizational meetings or courses should contact Dr. Brady at BSC for information.

YOU'RE SAFEST ON MONDAY IN FEBRUARY OR MARCH

We learned recently that August is the most dangerous traffic month, February the safest. That doesn't apply when pedestrians only are counted in the fatality column: October and December are "open season" on foot traffic, and March is the safest month to go walking—December ranking a close second adds meaning to Governor Andersen's pleas for Holiday caution. It's also significant that Saturday and Sunday are the most dangerous days in rural areas, Monday the safest, while in urban areas Tuesday and Saturday top the casualty list, with Monday still the safest. It's difficult to rank counties because of differences in population, size, highway milage, and other factors, but it is notable that eight counties went through all of 1960 without a fatal traffic accident: Meeker, Murray, Red Lake, Rock, Sibley, Stevens, Swift, and Yellow Medicine. And even more significant that only ONE of these, the only county in Minnesota to do so, has come through this much of 1961 without a fatal highway accident: Stevens. Red Lake has had only one, the others range from three to six fatalities so far.

School Board Picks Firm to Plan Schools

St. Paul Firm to Design Buildings under Domian Plan

Following interviews with five architectural firms Monday afternoon and evening, the Thief River Falls school board entered into an agreement with Hammel and Green, Inc., St. Paul, to help plan for possible school expansion in connection with the Domian survey recently completed here. Board action took place at a meeting held Tuesday evening when the interviews of the previous day were considered.

Other architectural firms interviewed Monday were Larson and Associates of Moorhead, Jyring and Whitman of Hibbing, Melander and Fugelso of Duluth and Haarstick and Lundgren of St. Paul. The local board recently inspected junior high school buildings at Grand Rapids and Hibbing and M. R. Hankerson, local superintendent during the past month has visited schools in Bemidji, Moorhead, Detroit Lakes, Grand Forks and the St. Paul suburban area.

Change of the school district's insurance program to a public institution type policy of replacement insurance was also authorized by the board Tuesday evening. The switch will be made at the termination of the present policy shortly after the first of the year. With the same fire coverage as the previous policy, the public institution type will save the district nearly $2,000 annually in premium payments.

As of March, 1961, the district's replacement valuation was listed as $4,334,750. This included $3,667,835 for buildings, $66,319 for fixed equipment, $597,731 for portable equipment and $2,865 for yard equipment, Supt. Hankerson reported.

Also voted by the board was payment of 50 per cent of the construction cost for the skating rink erected last year on the Northrop elementary school grounds. Construction of the skating facility was ordered by the city park board and 50 per cent of the cost is expected to be borne by that division of the city.

The retiring chairman is Emil Balgey of Crookston, who has headed the board since the center was opened in July 1958. Dr. Clifford Stadem, M. D., Twin Valley, is the retiring secretary, Norman Peterson formerly held the office of vice chairman.

Bagley and Dr. Stadem continue on the board.

James Muzzy Elected Region One Director of Dairy Association

Approximately 40 creamery operators and producers from Region One of the Minnesota American Dairy association met Monday in Thief River Falls to review the past year's operations and hear an outline of what is to be done by the promotional group in 1962.

Lew Conlon, manager of the Minnesota Dairy Industry committee, was principal speaker at the afternoon session which followed a pancake dinner served at noon. Also appearing in the afternoon program were Princess Kay of the Milky Way, Diane Kramer of Worthington, and the Northwest Dairy Princess, Betty Johnson of Badger.

Conlon noted that greater participation in the ADA program was a factor which contributed to success of 1961 operations. With more money available to the association for dairy promotion, increased emphasis was placed on research in use of dairy products, Conlon told the group.

James Muzzy of Thief River Falls was reelected Region One director and was also named regional chairman at the session, with Donald Walker of Red Lake Falls elected alternate director and regional vice chairman. Bertrand Thompson of McIntosh was reelected secretary-treasurer of the region which covers counties in northwestern Minnesota.

District activities for the past year were reviewed by Andy Erickson of Badger, regional chairman in 1961, at the morning business session of the district.

Referendums on Milk Order to End Dec. 20

Dairfy Farmers Are Voting on Issuance of Marketing Order

Referendums of dairy farmers shipping milk to the Western North Dakota and Minnesota-North Dakota marketing areas will be concluded on December 20. Dairy farmers will vote by mail on the issuance of the proposed milk marketing orders.

The proposed marketing area milk orders were issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on November 27. To become effective, each must be approved by at least two-thirds of all the dairy farmers voting in the respective referendums.

A. T. Radigan of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., was named as referendum agent Headquarters for conducting the referendums will be located in the Gardner Hotel, Fargo, N. D.

Radigan said ballots would be mailed to all known eligible voters. Ballots will also be available at county agricultural agents' offices. Ballots must be postmarked prior to midnight December 20, 1961.

It is estimated that 1500 dairy farmers will be covered under the proposed orders. Not all of them, however, will vote individually because qualified cooperative associations are permitted by law to cast collective ballots for their members if they so choose.

The program opens with songs calling attention to the coming of the Christ Child and closes with songs of today's Christmas observance.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gjernes had as their Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Skatvold of Plummer.

Darryl Smith to Join Peace Corps

DARRYL SMITH

Darryl Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Thief River Falls and 1957 graduate of Lincoln high school, received word this week that he has been accepted for duty with the U. S. Peace Corps. He will begin training in February at a designated college in the United States prior to being assigned to duty in Colombia, South America.

Notification was received by Smith that he had successfully passed the Peace Corps test. Following 12 weeks of special college training, he will have a short furlough at home, and upon successful completion of training he will be sent to Colombia.

Smith attended college at Moorhead State College for two and one-half years and Mexico City College in Mexico for six months. Presently employed in his father's business, Charlie's Tire Service, he has been active in the local Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Eagles lodge.

As a Peace Corps member, he will live in the community to which he is assigned and perform such varied tasks as well-drilling, laying pipelines, planning vegetable gardens and recreation sites, building access roads, constructing and improving farm buildings or schools, demonstrating the use and care of farm implements and tools, caring for livestock, stocking ponds with fresh-water food fish and introducing audio-visual information on health and farm production problems.

Dr. Jacobson Informs Rotary of Benefits of Junior College to TRF

Merits and benefits of a junior college were outlined Monday at the noon meeting of the Thief River Falls Rotary club by Dr. A. E. Jacobson, former head of the local school board and former chairman of the Minnesota School Board association and state board of education. His discussion of advances in the program of junior colleges was geared to the thought of establishing such a college in this city.

Announcement was also made at the meeting by Russ Embury, December program chairman, that the December 8 meeting would feature vocal music by choral groups from Lincoln high school under the direction of Bryant Ulseth. Wives of club members are invited to attend the noon dinner meeting and hear the musical program.

Carl Paulson, envoy of the local Salvation Army unit, requested the club to again assist in bell-ringing for Christmas season fund solicitation. He noted that a trophy has been purchased for presentation this year to the service organization which collects the greatest amount of contributions during its campaign.

Milton Schlechter, club president also announced that a collection of used electric shavers is to be made within the club for distribution to men at local nursing homes who do not own their own shavers. J. M. Roche was named chairman of the collection committee and all members who have shavers they are not using are asked to make a donation of them to be put to worthwhile use.

Dr. Jacobson told the group that the junior college idea had its origin in Illinois about 60 years ago and gained popularity in Minnesota in the 1920's. It began as an entirely local endeavor and continued in that manner until 1957 when the state legislature provided a subsidy of $200 for each student in average daily attend-

Joe Holter Is Named to Head TRF Chamber

Pennington Hotel Proprietor Named by Board Tuesday

Joe Holter, proprietor of the Pennington Hotel, was elected president of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce at the joint meeting of 1961 and 1962 directors held Tuesday evening. He succeeds Dr. George Martin, who, together with Phil Hess, Robert Baker and Wallace Jordet, will not be listed on the chamber board in 1962.

Other officers elected for the coming year include Otto Stenberg, first vice president; Arnold Kelly, second vice president; and Gene Belto, treasurer. Roland Larson, chamber manager, was reelected executive secretary of the organization. A tentative budget of $18,000 was set for the year, slightly less than the $18,300 figure budgeted for 1961.

Several changes were made in the program of work for 1962. Rather than having a director of the organization serve as committee chairman, committees will elect their own chairmen and directors will serve in a liaison position between the committees and the board of directors. The membership of the organization will also set its own schedule of general meetings for the coming year rather than having the meeting schedule set by the board itself.

"We are looking forward to a challenging year in 1962," secretary Larson said. "We plan an intensive program of work with major emphasis on agriculture, business and industrial development, public relations and retail trade. The retail trade committee is planing a downtown beautification project in cooperation with the Junior Chamber of Commerce."

Phil Hess was named general chairman for the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be held in January. A concentrated membership campaign is planned to follow the annual meeting. In other business at the Tuesday night meeting, the board of directors voted to sponsor the broadcast of the Lincoln high school chorus Christmas program on Station KTRF December 24.

TRF Creamery in Good Shape, Report Shows

A. D. Hanson and Otto Saugen Reelected to Board Tuesday

Closing the fiscal year with a net operating margin of $19,619, increase of $5,554 from the net margin a year ago, Thief River Falls Cooperative Creamery association remains in sound financial status, according to the annual report. Clem Gigstad, creamery manager, reviewed the balance sheet and statement of operations at the annual stockholders meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the city Auditorium.

A. D. Hanson, present president of the board of directors, and Otto Saugen, currently serving as secretary-treasurer, were reelected for three-year terms by acclamation at the meeting. Reorganization of the board will take place within the next 10 days. Dividend checks totaling $9,583 were distributed at the meeting.

In other business transacted, cooperators voted to accept a deduction of one-half cent per pound for butterfat marketed to the creamery during the month of June. This amount will be contributed to the Minnesota American Dairy association for use in its promotional program for dairy products.

Fred Sorensen, agriculture coordinator for the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, outlined the need for records and evaluation in determining the most profitable methods of farm management. He stated that "dairymen serve as the anchor men in our communities" and that it is necessary for them to "keep up with the changes" which are being made in agriculture today.

Proper size farm, control of expenses and selection of the enterprises which best fit particular farms are important factors in the amount of profit which will be

New Council to Be Urged to Create Planning Group

Jobs, Inc., Seeks Action to Qualify for Federal Aid on River Project

Directors of Jobs, Inc., meeting at the Rex Cafe Tuesday noon, adopted a resolution urging the new Thief River Falls city council to create a planning commission. Recognizing the need for planning for the river development project and the possibility of securing federal aid both for such planning and for the project itself, the directors agreed that all possibilities of securing such aid should be explored.

Under the provisions of the National Housing Act of 1954, federal grants to assist communities in their local planning programs are available. These grants may cover up to two-thirds of the cost for such planning, according to information received from the state's department of business development, which administers such programs within the state.

The bulletin explaining procedures states, "The community requesting a federal grant must have a legally established planning agency (commission or department) authorized to plan and regulate physical development."

Planning Project

A steering committee to study the problem of community planning will meet at the Rex Cafe Friday noon, Rolly Larson, Chamber of Commerce manager, announced today. There will be two representatives named by the county board, two by the city, two by the school board and two by Jobs Incorporated, he states.

Organization information made available by the Minnesota Department of Business Development and the kinds of federal aid that may be made available will be considered.

Highway Dept. Is Asking Authority to Alter Ditches

Appearing elsewhere in this issue of the Times are petitions of the Minnesota highway department asking the right to make certain minor changes in three county ditches, Nos. 1, 68 and 70, made necessary by highway relocations. The petitions and plan sheets are now on file at the office of County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr, and will be the subject of a hearing to be conducted by the county board January 11 at 4 p. m. Rodekuhr explained the alterations are planned for the convenience of the highway department and will involve no expenses for the property owners.

The welcome was given by Carl Eig, mayor of Goodridge. Vocal music was provided by a quartet composed of Wendell Olson and Bryant Ulseth of Thief River Falls, Herb Dill of Holt and Zane Grey of McIntosh.

Ben Jansen, Hallock, member of the International Lions' Council, was guest speaker for the evening. He extended congratulations to the club and noted the force that a Lions club can be in bringing a community a spirit of togetherness. He urged an active program of community service, emphasizing that small things in the community can be done which will prove Carmen Lokken-Stuart W. Solem Wed; Live in Mpls.

Baskets of white gladioli and red and white carnations graced the altar of the St. Paull Lutheran church of Hazel Saturday, November 25 for the wedding of Carmen LuAnn Lokken to Stuart Wallace Solem, both of rural Thief River Falls. Rev. Harold Peterson, visitation pastor of Trinity Lutheran church of this city, performed the 8 p. m. double ring, candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Louie Lokken and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Solem, also of rural Thief River Falls.

Miss Janice Johnson, of this city, provided the traditional nuptial music at the organ and also accompanied Mrs. Clarence Weckworth, cousin of the bride, as she sang, "O Perfect Love", "Crown With Thy Benediction" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped square neckline accented with sequins. Long tapered sleeves were buttoned and came to a point at the wrist. The skirt featured tiers of net ruffles and lace overskirt. Her waist length veil of nylon illusion net fell from a crown of seed pearls and sequins. The bride's cascade style bouquet was of Better Times roses and white feathered mums. Her jewelry consisted of a strand of pearls with matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Emily Lokken. Bridesmaid was Joyce Lokken, also a sister. They were dressed in identical street length red velveteen dresses with three-quarter length sleeves and full skirts. Matching headbands and shoes, and pearl earrings, gifts of the bride, completed their attire. They carried shower style bouquets of white carnations.

Linda Halvorson, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a red velveteen dress with matching headband and white gloves, and carried a basket of red and white carnations. Larry Halvorson, the bride's nephew, served as ring bearer. He wore black trousers, black bow tie and sport coat and carried rings on a small white lace pillow.

Roger Solem, brother of the groom, served as best man, with Douglas Wick of Grand Forks, cousin of the groom, as attendant. The gentlemen of the wedding party wore black suits and white carnation boutonnieres.

Kermit and Peter Solem, brothers of the groom, were candle lighters. They were dressed in black trousers and white shirts.

Serving as ushers were Lloyd Halvorson, the bride's brother-in-law and Larry Molstad, a friend of the couple.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Solem chose a green wool dress with winter white accessories. Mrs. H. B. Halvorson, the groom's grandmother, was dressed in a two piece blue silk dress. They both wore corsages or red sweetheart roses with white carnations.

Ardyce Troska, friend of the bride, was in charge of all the corsages. Kathryn Solem, sister of the groom, presided at the guest book.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for about 175 guests. Reception hostess was Mrs. Herman Rude, with Mrs. Paul Gilbertson, Mrs. Melvin Torstveit, Mrs. Roy Lokken, Mrs. Steve Jaennette, Mrs. Caster Moe, and Mrs. Andrew Widme assisting her. A four-tiered wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Gilfred Sannes, decorated in red roses, centered the bridal table. Mrs. Frank Lindman of Duluth, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Helen Carlson of Duluth, aunt of the groom, cut and served it. Mrs. Arthur Torstveit, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. Alice Adkins, the groom's aunt, both of this city, poured. Waitresses were Sharon Rude, Deloris Rolandson, Mrs. Lyle Bjorge and Adeline Kruta of Grand Forks.

Gifts were arranged by Mrs. Reuben Dahl of Cando, North Dakota, Sylvia Lokken of Grand Forks, Mrs. Lloyd Halvorson and Sharon Lokken, all sisters of the bride, and JoAnn Salvhus.

For her going away dress Mrs. Solem chose a green wool suit.

The bride is a 1958 graduate, and the groom a 1957 graduate, of Lincoln High school. He is at present attending Dunwoody Institute in Minneapolis. The couple are at home at 1915 2nd Avenue South, Minneapolis 3.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding came from Duluth, Mahnomen, Grand Forks, Moorhead, Cando and Minneapolis.

as important to the village as larger, expensive projects.

"The spirit of Lionism is service," Jansen told the 22 charter members of the club. "The organization of Lions International extends to you its sincere congratulations as you carry on your program of community service with tolerance and kindness, bringing friendship and brotherhood to this community."

Presentation of gifts included a gong and gavel from the Thief River Falls club; frame for the charter from the McIntosh club; Canadian flag from the Canadian Association of Lions clubs; and the rostrum from the Newfolden Lions club. In keeping with humor which is an integral part of Lionism spirit, the rostrum was opened to display a pair of bantam chickens which became property of the Goodridge Club together with the speakers stand. Robert Towne, frist vice president of the Goodridge club, accepted the gifts.

Congratulatory telegrams were read from several clubs in the district as well as James Parkins, Thief River Falls, International Councilor who was unable to attend, and directors and officers of Lions International. Invocation and benediction were given by Rev. A. B. Heltne and a musical selection was also furnished by Lana Ellingson and Susan Geving.

Charter members of the club include Wallace Payne, Robert Towne, Claude Meredith, Charles M. Alsip, Oliver McEnelly, Ernest Swanson, Clarence Peterson, Carl Elg, Dr. David Brown, Roy Wiseth, Dan Payne, Bennie Groven, Albert Kaaza, Sheldon Knutson, Orvis Olson, Vince Skibicki, Harold South, Irvin Iverson, Clarence Peters, Bernard Arveson, John C. Kulseth and Ed Geving.

Although there would be additional local cost for such a program, the cost factor is not prohibitive, Dr. Jacobson said. He added that there could be good correlation with the area vocation-technical school since a number of the present vocational-school teachers are qualified as junior college instructors.

Recommendation made in the Domian report received by the local school district recently called for the construction of a new junior high school to move seventh, eighth and ninth grade students out of the present Lincoln high school building. Such a building would provide space in the present school for junior college classes.

Thief River Falls currently has all educational facilities recommended by major education authorities with the exception of junior college, Dr. Jacobson said.

Bill Svendsgaard Speaks to Lions

Shows Pictures Taken in Switzerland This Year

Bill Svendsgaard of Goodridge, who spent the summer months in Switzerland this year under the International Farm Youth Exchange program, showed slides of scenes in his host country and supplied a commentary at the Lions club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon.

The colored pictures included scenes in the homes of some of the six families with whom he stayed, as well as views of dairy operations and cheese and wine making. Svendsgaard said the Swiss are an industrious people, and make the most of the limited opportunities offered by their small nation.

Miss Laura Duerst, county home agent, also spoke, explaining the manner in which Svendsgaard was selected for the trip.

At the request of Carl Paulson of the Salvation Army, the club agreed to join again in the Army's annual Christmas solicitation, Elton Cummings being named committee chairman. The Lions will compete with other service groups for permanent possession of a handsome trophy.

Dr. O. D. Beich, chairman of the Lions annual Ladies night party, stated that the event has been postponed until early in January due to conflicting engagements.

—17 Recorded in TRF This Morning

Cold weather continues predominant throughout the Times area as a low of -17 degrees was recorded again last night, the third such reading in the past five days. An inch of snow also fell last night to provide a zestful crunch to footsteps of increasing crowds of scurrying Christmas shoppers.

High and low temperatures recorded for the past several days include -1 and -17 Monday, -3 and -12 Tuesday, 8 and -10 Wednesday, and -17 last night. No relief is in sight with lows of -15 to -25 expected tonight and the five-day forecast calling for temperatures eight to 15 degrees below normal highs of 18 and lows of zero.

Final Appeal for Christmas Mailing Issued by Dryden

Postmaster Asks Patrons to Get Cards and Parcels in Postoffice This Week

"While the time to talk about 'Mail Early For Christmas' has passed," Postmaster R. J. Dryden said today, "last minute mailers can help us tremendously to avoid serious pile-ups of Christmas mail if they'll get all of their Christmas cards and gift packages on their way within the next day or two."

He suggests that you use air mail for every Christmas card and gift package going to distant places.

Here's a few of the Postmaster's important reminders about Christmas mail. Don't mail money in Christmas gifts or parcels. Use Postal Money Orders or checks. Be sure to include full name and address, postal zone numbers, and your return address, written or printed clearly on every card and package.

While Christmas cards may be sent unsealed for a 3-cents rate, the 4-cents first class sealed rate is best because it automatically assures forwarding if the addressee has moved and has left a new address, or the card is returned if it is undeliverable (providing you have put your return address on it).

Postmaster Dryden expressed his appreciation for the fine cooperation of the public so far, and went on to say, "Now that we are coming to the end of the big rush, let's all keep up the good work so we can have every mail bag empty and every postoffice employe relaxing at home on Christmas Eve."

12 Members Signed by New Aircraft Group

Sub-zero weather failed to chill the spirits of a large group of aviation enthusiasts who met at the Thief River Falls airport on Tuesday evening to form an area chapter of the Experimental Aircraft Association. The meet was well attended, with numerous Minnesota and North Dakota cities represented.

To date 12 individuals have joined the organization or were members prior to the Tuesday meeting. One individual from Michigan, N. D. and another from Grafton have become members, while Fosston and Cookston are also represented in addition to the several from Thief River Falls who are now members or joined Tuesday.

Total membership is expected to exceed 20 active individuals by January 1 as several persons who are interested were unable to attend the meeting. Other than viewing films and slides and signing members to the chapter, no formal action was taken. V. M. Draper will act as temporary chairman until election of officers is held in January. The time and place will be announced at a later date, he stated.

A request for chapter designation will be forwarded to national headquarters of EAA as soon as all memberships are turned in. It is expected that after the January meeting members will vote on where meetings are to be held from month to month.

All prospective members are requested to turn in their application by Dec. 20 so that chapter designation can be requested before the year ends. Interested parties are urged to contact Draper, Dale Stark or James Krohn in the Thief River Falls area. Students shoud contact Michael Solsten or any of the above. All those who turn in their applications by Dec. 20 will be charter members of the local chapter.

In Fosston Kenneth Halliday is the EAA representative, in Crookston LaVerne LaDoux, and in Grafton, Rudy Johnson.

It is also expected that a chapter project and other group activities will be discussed at the January meeting. Any program adopted by the group will be designed to boost private aviation in the northwest area.

The local chapter is the fourth to be formed in Minnesota and will join approximately 200 other chapters scattered widely across the U. S. and Canada. The nearest other chapter is in Winnipeg.

State Income Tax Declarations Are Due Friday, Dec. 15

Persons with $200 Income in Addition to Salaries Are Required to File Now

Rolland F. Hatfield, commissioner of taxation, today again called attention to the fact that the state income tax law requires the filing of declarations of estimated tax for the year 1961 by December 15. The law also provides that failure to file a declaration of estimated tax on that date may subject the individual to civil and criminal penalties.

An individual whose only source of income is salary or wages subject to witholding is not required to file a declaration of estimated tax.

An individual who has other taxable income aside from salary or wages subject to withohlding and such other income can reasonably be expected to exceed $200 is required to file a declaration of estimated tax. All self-employed individuals must, of course, file a declaration of estimated tax.

If an individual after computing his estimated tax liability for the year 1961 finds that such estimated tax is less than $20, no declaration need by filed. In determining the amount of estimated tax, the amount withheld from wages or salary is to be deducted in arriving at the estimated tax.

Due to the apparent confusion that exists with respect to the filing of these estimates for the year 1961, the commissioner of taxation stresses the fact that the failure to file such declaration in no way affects his right to the 75 percent forgiveness credit.

Jas. Muzzy Named Wednesday to Head RRV Holstein Club

Group Discusses Plans for 1962 Black-and-White Show at Meeting in TRF

Organization of a systematic procedure for election of directors to the Red River Valley Holstein club, one of 27 such organizations affiliated with the Minnesota Holstein-Friesian association, was accomplished at the annual meeting of the group held Wednesday. About 30 persons gathered at the James Muzzy farm for the morning visit and the afternoon session was held in the court house assembly room.

Elected to three-year terms on the board of directors were Muzzy and Warren Gast of Beltrami. Lloyd Kasprick of Angus and Robert McTaggart of Campbell were named to two-year terms and Benton Rindahl of Barnesville and Dr. E. C. Frederick of Crookston were elected for one-year terms.

Adopted by the club was a policy whereby directors may not succeed themselves in office after serving a full three-year term. Directors serving one and two-year terms as a result of action taken Wednesday can be reelected to three-year terms when the abbreviated terms expire.

Reorganization of the board of directors was held following the regular business session when Muzzy was elected chairman, Kasprick was named vice chairman and McTaggart was returned to the post of secretary-treasurer.

The successful Black-and-White show held this year in Ada was reviewed and tentative plans were discussed for a similar event in 1962. Holstein breeders were in attendance from Barnesville, Ada, Beltrami, Fertile, Angus, Crookston and Thief River Falls.

Special guests were Fritz Allkamp of Westfalen, Germany, exchange student who spoke on the dairying operation connected with his family's Holstein herd in Germany; A. J. Lashbrook, Northfield, state secretary of the Minnesota Holstein-Friesian association; and David C. Diehl, national fieldman for the Holstein-Friesian association of America.

UND Freshman Sextet Defeats Thieves 8-4

Coach Bob Peters' well-conditioned North Dakota freshman hockey team, with right wing Wayne Gurba scoring five goals, defeated the senior hockey Thieves 8 to 4 in an exhibition game played at the Arena rink here Wednesday night.

The Sioux yearling line of Bob Gervis at center, and Gurba and Jim Harrison at the wings, accounted for all of the freshman tallies. In addition to Gruba's five-goal cluster, Gervis tallied a pair and Harrison marked up a single.

The Frosh opened the scoring at the 3:01 mark of the first period when Gervis scored on a screened shot, Gurba and Harrison combined for a tally at the 4:45 mark; and when Harrison slapped in Gervis' rebound at the 16:48 mark, the Sioux held a 3-0 lead. The Thieves' notched their first goal when Eddie Holmes, on an assist from Joey Poole, scored at 18:31; and seconds later, at 19:02, Arlan Hjelle, with Holmes setting up the play, flipped the puck into the north goal.

The Sioux freshman dented the mesh for four goals in the second period, getting a pair of the goals while the Thieves were playing short-handed due to penalties.

Poole and Hjelle scored for the locals at 10:42 mark of the second period, but Burba's tally, at 19:26, gave the visitors a commanding 7-3 lead.

In the final stanza, the two teams, with the rough ice handicapping the team play and passing combinations, scored a goal apiece. Gurba hit the laces in the opening minute of play, and at 8:46 mark; Stan Paschke, a former North Dakota U player playing with the Thieves, beat goalie Joe Lech to close out the game's scoring.

RENEWAL of acquaintances was a highlight of the Region I meeting of the American Dairy association in Thief River Falls Monday for Diane Kramer, left, Worthington, Princess Kay of the Milky Way, and Betty Johnson, Badger, Northwest Dairy Princess. The two girls first met in St. Paul at the state dairy princess contest held at the Minnesota state fair when both were competing for the state title. Princess Kay brought greetings to the group attending on behalf of the state's dairy industry and Miss Johnson also spoke briefly.

Mr. and Mrs. John Waltonen and Stuart were Sunday visitors at the Wesley Waltonen home at Middle River. Lorrie Ann who had been hospitalized at Greenbush, returned home Saturday.

The Toughest Opener

Coach Gene Sack's hockey Prowlers will open their 1961-62 schedule on Friday night when, on the ice sheet in the Winter Sports Building on the UND campus in Grand Forks, they meet the veteran Grand Forks Central squad. The Prowlers will be meeting a team that is rated as the best in North Dakota high school hockey, and coach Sergio Gambucci is anxious to reverse the 3-0 loss that the Redskins absorbed in last season's opener between the Prowlers and the Skins.

On the Grand Forks roster this season there are eleven seniors and four juniors. Last season's starters- Goalie Bill Howard, defensemen Dave Palm and Darrell Gilbertson, and forwards Ken Mellen, Steve Ebert, and Ken Walters are returning for this seasons play. The Ken Mellem line is particularly strong, the boys being big and burly. The Redskins' second line, too, is an experienced unit, with wings Jim Steenerson and Gary Como having seen action last season.

Against this veteran club, coach Sack will probably start the following Prowlers: goalie, Tom Teal, defensemen Tom Morben and Ron Kvikstad, center Larry Poole, and wings Tim Teal and Ken Mathieu. The sophomore unit of Don Mathieu, Elroy Folland, and Wayne Loeffler, will skate as the second line. And the reserve blueliners are Dick Johnson and Bobby Benson.

Friday night's game will be number 19 of a series that began back in the season of 1948-49. Of the eighteen games that have been played, the Prowlers hold comfortable margin, having won 12, and lost 6. The odds are that the Redskins will pare that margin by one on Friday.

Welcome, Iron Range

When the Virginia high school basketball team trots out on the floor Saturday night for their game against coach Jack Junker's Prowlers it will mark the first time since the 1942 season that an Iron Range cage team has played here. In 1942 a Grand Rapids team came over here and, by a 25-24 score, defeated the Prowlers coached by Harry Newby. The Prowlers of that year had such boys as Lenny Lorentson, John Campbell, Orrin Pederson, Orlin Gjernes, Jack Melby, Milt Reierson, Don Berg, Bob Powell, and Homer Matheson on its roster.

The first Iron Range team to play here was coach George Lee's Eveleth Golden Bears who, in January of 1941, played the Prowlers in a game that dedicated the new high school gymnasium. Lee, who had coached the 1938 Prowlers to the state high school title, was anxious to beat the Prowlers in that 1941 tilt, but it wasn't to be as the locals won by a 36-23 margin. The 1941 Prowlers were coached by John Lindenmeyer, and were captained by Wayne Bredeson. Bob Kielty, Bill Claffy, Loren Jung, Eddie Flasch, Duane (Babe) Peterson, Len Furuseth, LaRue (Andy) Anderson, and Si Kompellen were squad members that year.

The Virginia team that plays here on Saturday night is rated quite highly in Iron Range cage circles. A week ago the team scored a lop-sided win over Eveleth. It's probable that the visitors will be big and rough and fast. That's typical of Iron Range clubs.

And an interesting preliminary game is on Saturday's bill as the Newfolden Nordics 'B' squad will play coach Joe Mrkonich's impressive Prowler 'B' squad, game time at 6:45 p. m.

Assigned Risk Driver Is Insurance Burden

Premiums paid by motorists insured through the Minnesota automobile assigned risk plan do not cover the cost of their claims and other expenses.

As a result, motorists who obtain their automobile insurance in the regular way have to subsidize assigned risks in this state.

A study released today by the Insurance Information Institute shows that Minnesota assigned risk motorists cost $132.50 in losses and other expenses for bodily injuries an property damage for every $100 of premiums during the five latest years available.

This means that the companies suffered an underwriting loss of $32.50 for every $100 of premuims, the Institute explained.

For the five year period, premiums earned on the assigned risk in Minnesota totaled $8,436,602 for bodily injury and property damage liability insurance. Claims and other expenses amounted to $11,180,758 for the same five years. Thus the companies' out-of-pocket losses on these assigned risks reached $2,744,156 during this time.

"States with compulsory laws tend to have higher losses on their assigned risks," the Institute said, "because in these states the insurance companies are forced to insure some drivers whose records are so bad that they should not even be licensed to drive.

"The answer to this problem is not to require the insurance companies, and, in turn, all other insured drivers, to subsidize the mayhem and destruction of the very worst drivers, but to take away their driving privileges."

Assigned risk plans are methods by which insurance companies share the heavy financial drain of undesirable risks. If a motorist cannot obtain insurance in the open market, the assigned risk plan is available to him.

Carbon Monoxide Is Silent Killer

Car's Exhaust System Should Be Given Check

Put your car's exhaust system through a check-up today, advises the Minnesota highway department to make certain that your life and the lives of others are not endangered by carbon monoxide.

About 350 persons die annually from carbon monoxide. They die because they try to warm up cars in closed garages, make repairs on a motor vehicle in a closed building, or sit in a parked car with the motor running. Faulty exhaust systems double the chances of being overcome.

Many of these deaths occur as a car is moving down a road. Fumes leak into the driver's compartment and take their deadly toll quietly and without warning, making the driver helpless and allowing the vehicle to careen off the road. It's not definitely known just how many such traffic deaths may be caused annually by this deadly gas.

Many one-car accidents, rear-end crashes and mishaps in which the driver says he fell asleep often are caused by gas poisoning.

This gas is a silent killer. It's colorless, tasteless, non-irritating, and almost odorless. It can kill within minutes, depending on the concentration breathed into the lungs.

You can prevent carbon monoxide poisoning by keeping a close check on exhaust systems to prevent gas leaking into the passenger compartment. When driving, always keep a window open a little bit. Don't warm up cars in closed garages, and don't sit in a parked car with the motor running for a long time. And if you feel the symptoms of poisoning, find fresh air as quickly as possible. Fresh air kills the fumes before they kill you.

Hunters' Report Cards Are Now Due

Conservation Dept. Asks Reports on Game Taken

The conservation department's research and planning bureau today urged hunters to send in their hunting success report cards, which are attached to the license, as soon as possible.

Game research supervisor Arnold Erickson said that many of the cards have been received at the bureau to date but that they are anxious to have the balance of them.

Information obtained from the reports are one of the factors used to determine the year's take of game birds and animals.

Both the small and big game license as well as the trapping license has the reporting card. The card can be separated from the rest of the license for the purpose of mailing it in to the Department. Erickson said the report should be mailed in even if the hunter took no game since this information will also be taken into account when determining the annual game harvest.

Seek to Improve Mille Lacs Fishing

Ban on Taking Northern Pike in Effect for Year

A three-point program to restore and revitalize northern pike spawning in Mille Lacs Lake was announced today by James Kimball, state conservation department of game and fish director.

Kimball said the program includes:

Restoring the tributary spawning areas, by means of pumping if necessary, in order to bring affected portions of the lake to the proper level and to bring off a hatch of young northern;

Stocking adult northern received from winter rescue operations by state fisheries crews, and,

Giving the fast-diminishing Mille Lacs northerns a "rest" from fishing in order to conserve the stock.

The "rest" for Mille Lacs northerns extends until Dec. 1, 1962. State Conservation Commissioner Clarence Prout Thursday signed the order that prevents northern fishing (both angling and spearing) in the lake, so that the program "can be implemented quickly."

Winter snowfall may bring brighter prospects for the northerns this winter, said Kimball. "If a good snowfall accumulates on the watershed this winter, the resulting spring runoff may enhance the spawning of northerns from the lake," he said.

Florian Wildlife Area in Marshall County Advances

A new public access site has been completed at the 965 acre Florian wildlife management area in Marshall county, the conservation department section of game announced today.

The Florian area was purchased under the "Save Minnesota's Wetlands" program and is under the field supervision of Robert Farmes area game manager.

Farmes said most of the 965 acres provide good waterfowl production and hunting habitat. Upland portions of the project are reported good for deer and sharp-tail grouse.

The area is located east of the town of Florian in central Marshall county and is open to hunting during the regular hunting seasons.

"The prospect of trade wars between Europe and the U. S., no less than the cold war itself, imperatively poses its question. The foreign threat of low costs demands that America respond by cutting its own costs. This can be done only by making hard decisions that will not wait. The Old World has come to life to challenge American primacy. And the Communists are in the wings."

—Henry Gemmill

Talking in Circles

Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, was scheduled to present the administration's thinking on wages and working agreements, at the AFL-CIO convention in Miami Beach. According to his prepared speech he was going to tell the union officials several things they wouldn't like to hear, but in his delivery he dropped whatever was controversial. At a press conference later he said he had omitted some of the speech because of a shortage of time, but, he said, "I stand by the speech as written."

He talked as President Kennedy had talked. Wage increases would have to be limited to productivity increases. In other words all of the benefits of increased productivity would be passed along to labor, but labor should not ask for more.

President Kennedy had told the manufacturers that they should cut prices and be in a position to meet competition in the Common Market. Presumably the administration would oppose any wage reductions in order to lower costs. The only other way open to a lowering of prices would be by greater productivity.

Lower prices would be wage boosts for all of the people. Lower prices would increase demand. Higher production would put more people to work. Lower prices are a must.

It should be clear to all that increased productivity cannot be used for wage boosts and lower prices at the same time. Kennedy and Goldberg know this, but neither of them had the courage to be honest on this point in their talks to the union officials.

Our approach to the common Market should be based on a complete understanding of the problem and what is proposed as a solution and why. Now is not the time to be talking in circles, omitting facts merely because they are unpleasant.

Merit Should Be Recognized

Another test conducted by the Educational Testing Bureau merely confirms what seems to be a generally accepted fact. Too many of our high school graduates arrive at college, "poor in spelling, grammar, punctuation, and lacking ability to write a properly constructed sentence." The St. Paul Pioneer Press, in commenting on the report, stated:

> "Dr. A. A. Wellck, director of the counseling and testing services at the university, remarked that the study proves—and has proved before—that the elementary and secondary teaching of English 'has been rather ineffectual.' But it should, he said, 'acquaint and arouse the general public to the need for reform in education.' "

"Arouse the general public to the need for reform in education," he urges. And just how should the public be aroused?

If the critics are right, and many of the most critical are educators, they should come up with some sound solutions. They tell us that the product of our elementary and secondary education system is not up to standard. Few of them tell us why. Most of them infer that we have too many incompetent teachers.

Probably the best solution for this problem would be revival of the old "state board" examinations, with the provision that high school diplomas that would authorize admission to college would be issued only to students who had qualified under such examination. Those who could not pass such a test could continue in high school or be given a certificate of attendance that would prove four years of exposure to education.

The state board examinations, as we recall them, worried some of the teachers more than they did the students, because over a period of a few years the results of such examinations would pretty well establish the qualifications of the teacher. Uniformly bad class results would justify a change of occupation.

Another good result probably would be pay schedules based on merit. Under the present system of pay there is no monetary incentive for any teacher to do better work. And let's recognize the obivous fact that degrees are just as meaningless as diplomas. When merit ceases to be a factor in advancement, the deserving are being denied proper rewards.

Peace Corps Potential

A survey conducted by the Institute of International Education reveals that there now are 2,500 African Negroes attending American colleges. The report states that they are serious, better-than-average students, despite the language difficulty. They know what they want out of college and they know what they want to do when they go home.

The survey was based on the replies from 1,010 questionnaires and 208 personal interviews. About 60 per cent of the students stated that they were given no orientation of any type before coming to this country. Others said they resented the way the U. S. Information Agency and American Missionaries had pictured this as a land of milk and honey. Nearly all of them had experienced racial discrimination, some of them many times. Most of them are harassed by financial problems.

Four out of five are "mostly satisfied or "completely satisfied" with their educational programs. Some think they are not getting enough practical experience. They expected to find racial discrimination in the South, and did, but many were shocked to find it in the northern states as well. Most of them reported difficulties in getting along with American Negroes.

The impressions these young people get of us and their attitude toward us when they return to their homelands will be important factors in our relationship with their people in future years. Here is a potential Youth Peace Corps that could serve us well, with little cash outlay, but more considerate understanding.

Biggest miracle in a small package we can think of is shown here—complete with dimple.
When Christmas morning bursts in splendor, the tree is heavy with miraculous packages. Trucks that run. Planes that fly. Dolls that love back. The sense of wonder our children have is hard for parents to recapture. But as you watch their Christmas joy, a little comes a-glimmering. The world could be a better place for more of it.

DODGE DART 440 2-DOOR HARDTOP

The new size Dodge Dart is two feet shorter than America's longest car and two feet longer than America's shortest car. It's right in the middle. You don't have to give up inside room and comfort to get maneuverability, or economy to get performance.

For a fact, this is one of the quickest cars going. You can feel the difference instantly. It's got the most powerful standard six in the business. Most powerful standard V8 of any car anywhere near its price.

And inside there's plenty of comfort and luxury. Chair-high seats, thickly cushioned. In the Dart 440—a fold-down center armrest in front. Also, color-keyed carpeting that runs sill-to-sill; all vinyl saddle grained upholstery, even on door panels that mold right up to the windows.

And how about this? The body is rustproofed. The brakes adjust themselves. You go 32,000 miles between grease jobs. You get traditional Dodge dependability all the way.

Minnesota 'U' Offers Its Financial Report

Operating costs of the University of Minnesota for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961, total $87,157,376.55 for all campuses and stations, and 90,165 individuals received instruction at some level from the University during the year, according to a summery of financial operations released today (Dec. 14) by L. R. Lunden, business vice president.

Of the 90,165 students who registered for instruction, 5,591 earned academic degrees during the period.

In addition to its operating expenses, the University paid out $7,071,288.38 for the construction and remodeling of buildings and the purchase of land. In the 12-month period, to meet construction costs, the sum of $5,524,952.00 was withdrawn from funds appropriated by the State Legislature for that purpose.

Largest operating outlay, Lunden reported, was the $39,596,821.46 spent for the instruction of students (at college and non-college level, in short courses and evening classes and through correspondence study) and departmental research on all campuses, agricultural schools and experiment stations, in summer sessions and through agricultural and general extension programs and for the services provided by University hospitals.

Of the University's total overall operating costs of $87,157,376.55, the vice president pointed out, the State of Minnesota provided $30,468,443.07 or 35.0 per cent—slightly more than one third. State support funds consisted of the Legislative maintenance appropriation of $25,402,626.00, a special appropriation of $3,424,462.98 ($1,712,152.91 of which was charged to the counties) for the care of indigent patients at University Hospitals and a Legislative allotment of $3,353,507.00 for special projects carried on by the University for the general benefit of Minnesota's citizens.

These "special projects" include agricultural extension work and research, business and economic research, medical research, operation of the Minnesota Rehabilitation Center, the Child Psychiatric Hospital, the Multiple Sclerosis Clinic, the Institute of Child Development and the schools of agriculture student aid fund.

Sources of University income other than the State, the report indicates, are: appropriations from the Federal government—$4,301,271.13 including $1,837,319.75 for health research facilities construction and remodeling; fees and $7,921,106.90 in student tuition and fees; self-supporting University services and revolving funds—$16,187,501.59 including $232,796.42 allocated to plant expansion; trust funds—$22,781,979.60 of which $15,534,315.69 represents federal collegiate athletics - $1,642,152.76.

Income from intercollegiate athletics included $1,584,222.57 from the Minneapolis campus and $57,930.19 from the Duluth campus. Expenditures for the operation of intercollegiate athletics and that part of physical education expenses paid from athletic receipts totaled $1,642,214.69 for the fiscal year 1960-1961. Involved was an outlay of $1,583,856.84 in Minneapolis and $58,357.85 in Duluth.

Langen Is Closing Crookston Office

Asks His Constituents to Write Him at Washington

Congressman Odin Langen announced today that his district office at Crookston will officially close December 15. This will give staff members sufficient time to take care of pending business, ship the files to Washington and make arrangements for the trip back to the nation's capital after the Christmas holiday.

Langen reminds constituents that the Washington office will remain open and that the staff there will continue to be of service as he travels east for the coming session.

Langen has traveled extensively in the Ninth District since Congress adjourned and met with as many groups as possible in the limited time between sessions. He expressed satisfaction at having the opportunity of visiting with great numbers of constituents.

Highway Department Is Now Reorganized

Newly adopted by the Minnesota Highway Department is a revised organization providing the department with three main divisions, instead of the previous four. Retained are the engineering, planning and programming, and safety divisions. Eliminated for increased efficiency and economy, is the administrative services division.

The five sections which formerly comprised the administrative services division — data processing, field liaison, financial, personnel, and management services — are now under direct supervision of the commissioner of highways, as well as the public information section which already was so situated.

The reorganization also provides for three deputy chief engineers in the engineering division in place of two assistant chief engineers, as previously listed.

J. C. Robbers, formerly assistant chief engineer, now is deputy chief engineer for engineering. He will continue to be concerned principally with design and other pre-contract letting activities. W. S. Ekern, newly promoted from construction engineer to deputy chief engineer for operations, succeeds Assistant Chief Engineer Clyde C. Colwell who retired recently because of ill health. Ekern will be occupied principally with operations and post-contract letting activities.

As the newly designated deputy chief engineer for state aid, J. M. Evans, formerly state aid engineer continues to head the State Aid section.

Named to succeed Ekern as construction engineer was E. J. Heinen, previously assistant maintenance engineer.

Continuing as heads of the three divisions are chief engineer John H. Swanberg, engineering division; highway program engineer Paul R. Staffeld, planning and programming division, and highway safety director Garnet E. Hall, safety division.

The planning and programming division conducts highway planning research and development and the safety division directs the highway patrol, drivers license and safety promotion sections.

The Highway department's field organization is comprised of nine districts, each headed by a district engineer who is responsible for general activities in his district. Each district engineer has assistant district engineers for highway construction, maintenance and state aid highways. The district headquarters are located at Duluth Bemidji, Brainerd, Detroit Lakes, Golden Valley, Rochester, Willmar Mankato and St. Paul.

What's it all about?

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Deuteronomy	6	4-15
Monday	Deuteronomy	6	16-25
Tuesday	Galatians	4	1-7
Wednesday	John	3	16-21
Thursday	Isaiah	53	1-6
Friday	Isaiah	53	7-12
Saturday	Isaiah	9	1-7

This little dog is confused. Many of us are in the same dilemma. What is Christmas, anyway? What does it mean? Do the tinsel and decorations obscure the true meaning?

Christmas decorations, Christmas trees, Christmas gifts have their part in this greatest day of all the year, but back of them is the manger and the Christ Child, God's gift to mankind.

In the Church you will find the true spirit of Christmas in all its joy, beauty and sacredness. The Wise Men will become so real you will follow the star with them. With the shepherds on the Judean hillside you will hear the song of angels. You will go to Bethlehem where you will kneel before the King. Kneeling, you will find the true meaning of Christmas.

—Will you come?

Enforcement Groups Unite in Safety Drive

A stronger, well-coordinated enforcement drive against traffic violators was proposed at a recent meeting of police agencies in the new highway building.

Called together by Highway Commissioner James C. Marshall, representatives of 16 agencies, including city police, county sheriffs and the highway patrol, agreed that an "all out effort was needed to hold back the toll of fatalities resulting from flagrant violations of traffic rules."

Proof of the need for an immediate drive was presented by Garnet E. Hall, state highway safety director, as he reviewed the experience of the "saturation squads" during the past two years. Hall pointed out that the concentration of traffic patrol cars of local and state agencies produced a sharp drop in accidents in those areas. But further, he pointed out, this beneficial effect was noted for four and five weeks after the concentration of police was moved to another area.

"We know this has a good effect immediately," Hall emphasized. "And we are trying to make this drive effective during the remaining weeks of 1961."

An additional charge was placed against the slow driver who impedes the even flow of traffic, with the officers agreeing that those drivers who create a hazard will be stopped and subjected to proper action as the situation warrants.

Special attention will be given to pedestrian violations, because 118 pedestrians have been killed so far during 1961, compared to 117 for the entire year 1960.

Covering the question of speed, it was announced that 6,000 additional miles of highway will be zoned for maximum legal limits. Following analysis of engineering and accident record studies, realistic limits will be placed on those highways to eliminate accident-potential areas.

The officers also agreed that strong enforcement activities would reach that minority group of offenders whose violations contribute to accidents. The law-abiding motorist who is considerate of the rights of others will be protected by actions taken against the irresponsible few who make highway travel dangerous.

McIntosh Votes Return of Liquor Store in Election

Voters of McIntosh, where a municipal liquor store was voted out of business ten years ago, Tuesday voted in favor of re-establishing a dispensary for the village.

A three-vote margin spelled the difference, with 175 in favor of the store, 172 against. Three ballots in the total count of 350 were left blank so far as the liquor store was concerned.

The liquor store proposal has been hotly debated in the ten years since the old store was ousted. The issue has been on the ballot each year, and dry forces have won each time, usually by a narrow margin.

Fertilizer Dealers

Pennington county has won two honors in soil sampling for two consecutive years. Three years ago it was one of the top seven counties. Before that very little soil soil testing was being done.

The fertilizer dealers at Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire have done a great deal of work in promoting soil testing and in aiding this program financially. Every dealer in the county participated in the soil drive and paid for soil samples thru a refund on fertilizer purchases.

Fertilizer dealers deserve credit or putting Pennington county in first place and helping farmers with this phase of crop production. Fertilizer helps develop root systems which give better yields and more profit in either dry or wet years. Root system and an early starting crop is very important. Farmers would do well to get the right kind of fertilizer and put on the right amount to get the best yields on grain, pasture, or hay.

Agricultural Information

Agricultural information is put out in various communication media such as radio, newspaper, T. V. and direct mail. Marv Lundin of the Thief River Falls Times prepared several interesting agricultural series this year. One section at the extension conference recognizes visual aids prepared by people outside extension work and Lundin won top honors in this section with pictures taken at the Ray Cameron farm, of the feeder hog operations. Fine work Marv!

U. S. Agriculture

The efficiency of American agriculture is one of the greatest success stories of our day. We're eating better food and more of it today because of the sharp rise in agricultural productivity.

USDA figures show an hour of farm labor today produces four times as much food and fiber as it did 40 years ago. Crop production is 65 per cent greater per acre. Output per breeding animal is 88 per cent higher.

According to S. A. Engene, agricultural economist at the University of Minnesota, the increased production lowered prices received by farmers in recent years. Nature of the demand for most farm products is such that if marketing increases one percent the price drops more than one per cent. This holds true unless the total demand increases due to population growth.

Since 1947-49 increases in farm production expenses more than offset increases in gross farm income. Net farm income has declined from $14 billion in the early 1950's to $12 billion in more recent years. Net income pays for the labor and management of the farmer and his family and the use and farm families declined during of capital invested on the farm.

Because the number of farms the last decade, total farm income was divided into fewer parts in 1960 than in 1949. This resulted in a higher net income per farm operator and a general increase per farm worker.

Average net income per farm worker rose from $1,717 in 1949-51 to $2,014 in 1960. That's an increase of 17 per cent; the increase in net income from farming operations was not enough to offset the farm family's higher cost of living.

CHAMBER L.I.F.E.

Living-Industry-Farming-Education

By Rolly Larson
Manager Chamber of Commerce

As I have been told, November and December were at one time the ninth and tenth months of the ten-month calendar year which was at one time in effect. When some man of genius sold the Romans on the idea that twelve months would be more in order, Julius and Augustus Caesar decided that the new months should be named after them. Hence, July and August became inserted in the calendar and November and December became the eleventh and twelfth months of the year. Since "novem" means nine and "decem" means ten, this seams quite strange but, folks, you can blame the Caesar boys for that one, not the Chamber of Commerce.

Regardless what the names of the months mean technically, we must face the fact that we're nearing the end of another year. We're all one year older, we should all be able to say that we've made some milestones, and that we have made some progress. But have we? Have we really made progress here in Northwest Minnesota? Naturally, there are those of us who will say, "Certainly, we've made progress—just look at this, that, and the other thing!" Yet we have some who must say, "No, 1961 wasn't so hot for us. It's sure been tough. I sure hope next year turns out better."

Well, folks, I hope 1962 is a better year too. In fact, I hope that 1961 has taught everyone of us that 1962 will be a better year because we want it to be better, it must be better, and we'll make it better. We can't do too much about imbalances of Mother Nature such as occurred this year but there are a couple of things we can do.

We can grab ourselves by the bootstraps, lay out some very bold and challenging plans for 1962, restore our faith in a few things including ourselves, and then tear into the New Year like we really meant it. We might surprise ourselves, you know it?

December is a good month for many things including planning for next year. Another thing that it is really good for is for you to Shop and Trade Where Bargains Are Made—In the Heart of Northwest Minnesota, Thief River Falls.

Bring home enough John Deere toys to go around . . .

These solidly built toys give more pleasure . . . last longer than ordinary playthings. They look real; their many moving parts fire children's imaginations . . . hold interest.

John Deere Toys are made of strong cast aluminum alloy and steel; tires and treads are flexible, heavy-duty rubber. Two coats of gleaming enamel keep 'em looking new longer. Choose from the full line next time you're in our store. Won't you make it soon?

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans' benefits may be obtained by visiting or writing Leo L. Haley, VA contact representative, located in Room 210 in the Grand Forks postoffice building.

Q — Are veterans now returning to or entering the service given an opportunity to take out GI life insurance?

A — No. GI insurance policies are no longer being issued.

Q — Has the GI loan guaranty re-use provision been extended for World War II veterans, and if so, how long?

A — Yes, Public Law 84 by the 87th Congress extended the restoration privilege until July 25, 1967, for World War II veterans, and until January 31, 1975, for Korea veterans. The VA must have been completely relieved of liability and no claim may have been made against it for the previous loan, if restoration is to be granted.

Q — Because of my late husband's military service, I received some $3,600 in death gratuity payment. Is this money subject to federal income tax?

A — No.

Legislators Meet Today on Redistricting

Liberals Suggest Taking up Other Matters as Well

The Minnesota state legislature convened this morning at 11 o'clock at the capitol in St. Paul for the opening of its second special session of 1961, which was called by Governor Elmer L. Andersen for the primary purpose of rearranging the state's present nine congressional districts into eight.

The boundaries of subject matter to be taken up at the session were to be discussed at 9 a. m. by the Conservative senate rules committee and the Liberal caucus of the house of representatives.

Lt. Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag in the senate and Speaker E. J. Chilgren in the house will rap the session to order.

Gov. Andersen wants pre-session agreement on any bill submitted in order to keep the session brief.

But Rep. Fred Cina, Aurora, house Liberal majority leader, and other members of his controlling house faction don't go along with the prior agreement idea.

Cina said yesterday that other noncontroversial bills could be passed within two or three days without throwing the session wide open.

He wrote the governor a letter Thursday suggesting several other measures for consideration by the session.

"We're going to play it by ear," said Cina. "We're not going to have the governor dictate what goes on at the session."

Rolvaag has supported Cina's contention that other matters might be brought before the legislature.

Rep. John Hartle, Owatonna, three-time speaker of the house and former Conservative majority leader, was one legislator who took issue with Cina and Rolvaag.

"The people of Minnesota shouldn't be asked to foot the bill for long debates and discussion where there is no prior agreement," said Hartle yesterday.

Aliens Required to Register Soon

To File Annual Address Reports During January

A. G. Vaughan, district director of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service, St. Paul, stated that the period within which aliens must report their addresses is almost at hand.

The month of January has been set for the address reporting period All aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, must report their addresses to the Government during that period.

Mr. Vaughan said that forms with which to make the report will be available to all postoffices during the month of January.

Mr. Vaughan urges all aliens to comply with the reporting requirements, as willful failure to so so may lead to serious consequences.

Jeanne Dahlen Given Rotary Fellowship to Study Abroad in 1962

MISS JEANNE DAHLEN

Miss Jeanne V. Dahlen, Thief River Falls student currently attending the graduate school of biochemistry at the University of Wisconsin, has been awarded a Rotary Foundation Fellowship for study abroad during the 1962-63 academic year.

She will probably attend the University of Fribourg, Fribourg, Switzerland, though her admission there is not definite at this time. Announcement of the award was made Friday by Rotary International, world-service organization. Miss Dahlen's application for the fellowship was sponsored by the Rotary Club of Thief River Falls.

The number of Rotary Foundation Fellowships awarded was 138. They went to outstanding young men and women students in 34 countries, with each grant averaging approximately $2,600. As a Rotary Fellow, Miss Dahlen will study biochemistry to prepare for a career in medical research.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanton R. Dahlen of Thief River Falls, she was born in this city on August 29, 1939. She was graduated from Lincoln high school and from Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, where she received a bachelor of science degree in chemistry with honors in 1961. While attending Gustavus Adolphus, Miss Dahlen was awarded a certificate of merit from the American Chemical Society for research and was on the Dean's list all four years. Miss Dahlen is fluent in the German language.

Inaugurated in 1947, the Rotary Foundation Fellowships program is designed to further understanding and friendly relations between peoples of different nations. By providing young men and women an opportunity to live and study in other countries, the Rotary Fellowships increase the number of "ambassadors of goodwill" who corss national borders to help bring nations closer together thru better understanding.

To date, 1,454 graduate students have received Rotary Foundation Fellowships and have studies in 50 counties. The awards granted for 1962-63 bring the total to 1,589 and the total grants to more than $4 million. Candidates must be between 20 and 28 inclusive, and unmarried. Sponsored by Rotary clubs in their hometowns, the students must have a high scholastic standing and a thorough knowledge of the langunge of the country in which they wish to study. The money for this program come from the voluntary contributions of Rotary clubs and Rotarians to the Rotary Foundation.

Fire Department Responds to Three Calls Here Friday

Kitchen in the Home of Mrs. Mary Jorgenson at 703 Reserve av. Damaged

Four fires, three of them resulting in calls for the Thief River Falls fire department, were reported Friday in Thief River Falls. The fourth blaze, which started in a trash barrel in the basement of the city auditorium about 8:30 Friday night, was extinguished with buckets of water by Martin Carlson janitor on duty in the building.

At about 2:40 p. m., the department was called to the John Wold farm about two miles northwest of the city where fire started in straw around a heated stock tank. The Martin Carrico family currently resides on the farm. Faulty electrical wiring was listed as the probable cause of the fire.

Scarcely had the firemen returned when they were called to the home of Mrs. Mary Jorgenson at 703 Reserve avenue. A kitchen fire had been noted by Del Harbot, mailman, who turned in the alarm. Mrs. Jorgenson had apparently left something cooking on the stove when she left the house and it boiled over to ignite the blaze. Extensive damage was done to the cabinets and a kitchen wall as well as smoke damage to other portions of the house. There was no one at home when the fire started.

Final fire call of the day was about 7 p. m. to the Alf Hermanson home on the corner of Sixth st. and State av. N. A chimney fire was extinguished by the department before any damage was done to the house.

Nineteen non-agricultural tracts were offered in Thief River Falls, Goodridge, St. Hilaire, and North township with two parcels in Goodridge sold for a total of $36, according to County Auditor Charles Roiekuhr, who conducted the sale.

Numerous Minor Traffic Mishaps Reported in City

Rural TRF Man Tagged Saturday for Failure to Yield Right-of-Way

A rash of minor traffic mishaps was reported by city police over the weekend, although there were, luckily, no personal injuries involved. Most of the collisions were of the rear-end variety.

There were two mishaps Thursday. At 8:40 a. m. Lester Rodahl, rt. 2, was struck in the rear by a car driven by Muriel Moiskness, rt. 5, as Rodahl, driving east on First st., showed to turn onto Horace av. Damage to Rodahl car was estimated at $15, to Moiskness, $125.

At 11:10 a. m. a car driven south on Atlantic by Donald C. Magnell, city, was stopped for the stop sign at Third st. when another car driven south on Atlantic by William L. Lee slid into the Magnell car, causing estimated damages of $40 to Magnell's car, $24 to Lee's.

Wallace D. Wiskow, city, was backing from a driveway into the alley behind 705 N. Dewey at 2 p. m. Friday when his car was struck by another car driven in the alley by Loren D. Klopp, city. Damages were estimated at $100 to the Wiskow car, $35 to Klopp's.

Durlyn E. Rux, rt. 4, was tagged for failure to yield the right-of-way after the car he was driving collided with another driven west on Tenth st. by John Erickson, city, at 9:15 p. m. Saturday. Rux was going south in an alley and did not stop for the street traffic. Damages were estimated at $250 to Erickson's car, $100 to Rux's.

Wayne Erickson, St. Hilaire, reported to police the cab he was driving was struck by a hit-run driver on Riverside av. about 9:15 p. m. Sunday, causing $35 damages.

Harlan Fredeen is the new Minnesota highway patrol captain in charge of District 8, which has headquarters at Thief River Falls. He was appointed recently to succeed Capt. Walter Anderson, who retired in October.

Capt. Fredeen, 47, was born in Minneapolis, graduated from Minneapolis South high school, and attended Northwestern University Institute of Traffic.

He has served in stations at New Brighton, Forest Lake, White Bear Lake, Thief River Falls, Virginia, Rochester, and the central office, where he was operations sergeant and office manager prior to his recent promotion and transfer.

Fredeen was a captain in the army during World war II.

Thief River Falls Stores Open Each Night This Week

Retail stores in Thief River Falls will remain open until 9 p. m. each night this week to help accommodate Christmas shopping crowds, according to an announcement made by the retail trade committee of the local Chamber of Commerce. Supermarkets will be open Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

The committee also notes that Friday night openings discontinued after Christmas with no evening hours to be observed until sometime in April. This is the usual procedure which has been followed by Thief River Falls retail stores.

Dec. 31 Deadline on Estimated State Tax Declarations

Thousands of Minnesota taxpayers won a 16-day reprieve Thursday from Rolland F. Hatfield, state tax commissioner.

Declarations of estimated 1960 income tax may be filed by Dec. 31 instead of December 15 without penalty for late filing, Hatfield said

The Christmas rush has tied up mail deliveries and delayed distribution of the declaration form, he said. While he can't by law alter today's statutory filing deadline, he said, he can abate the penalty for late filing.

Persons required to file declarations include those with more than $200 gross income from sources other than wages subject to withholding — if their estimated tax exceeds their withholding by $20 or more.

Hatfield said the tax department originally had calculated that some 150,000 persons would file declarations.

But so far, he said, about 500,000 declaration forms have been mailed out.

"I think a lot of people who think they have to file an estimated return are going to find they don't because they don't have $20 in tax that they owe," he said.

If persons making the estimate find they do owe money, they are required to pay it when they file their declaration.

Tax department researchers said yesterday they estimate the payments filed this month will total about $4,000,000.

Service Station at 503 Riverside Is Gutted by Fire

Fire swept through Glenn's Snappy Service at 503 Riverside av. S. at 5:40 a. m. today, leaving only the shell of the building standing and creating enough intense heat to burn the gasoline pumps outside the building. The local fire department was called to bring the flames under control.

According to Roy Langevin, fire chief, Glenn Slapnicher discovered fire under an oil stove in the station early this morning. The station owner picked up the stove and carried it out of the building and received severe burns on his hand and arm in the attempt. The building may be considered a complete loss, Langevin said, and no insurance was carried on the property.

PACKING toys which have been repaired and put in operating condition are several members of the Thief River Falls fire department which has undertaken the project annually for a number of years. Several large boxes of toys and dolls have been placed this year and will be distributed at Christmas time through the local unit of the Salvation Army. Pictured above are Albert Lafrenz and Lawrence Hemmesch in the foreground and Roy Langevin, fire chief, at left.

State ASC Appoints Culkins as Chairman of Co. Defense Board

As part of a realignment of the Agriculture Department's defense planning organization, the state executive directors of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service have been named as chairmen of USDA state defense boards. The managers of county ASCS offices are named as chairmen of USDA county defense boards.

Louis Eddy, state executive director of the ASCS office at Saint Paul, now also becomes chairman of the USDA state defense board. Patrick W. Culkins, manager of the Pennington county ASCS office, is also chairman of the USDA Pennington county Defense Boards.

The purpose of the action, the department announced, is to help American agriculture be prepared for any foreseeable emergency need for food and fiber by facilitating the work of the boards and making coordinated leadership easier if an emergency should occur.

The boards formerly were called state and county emergency planning committees. Chairmen were designated from staff members of USDA agencies with defense responsibilities or from the Cooperative extension services.

USDA continues to have assigned responsibility for defense food production, the management of food stocks in the hands of processors and wholesalers, fire control in rural areas, radiological monitoring in rural areas, and for a program of information and education to help farm families protect themselves, their crops, and their livestock from radiological, biological and chemical attack. During an emergency, the department is responsible for the domestic distribution of farm equipment and fertilizer.

The department is also responsible for helping farmers and agricultural industries obtain the production resources required to meet the Nation's food and fiber needs. These resources include machinery, repair parts, fertilizers, and other chemicals, containers, construction material, fuel, labor and transportation.

Committee Meets to Continue Study of Jail Facilities

Members of Eight-county Group Considers Adding to the Area to Be Served

Possibilities of jail facilities for eight northwestern Minnesota counties were discussed at a meeting of the committee for study of jail problems and facilities Thursday in the commissioner's room of the courthouse in Thief River Falls.

Merle Lindberg, Pennington county commissioner and chairman of the study group, presided at the session which was attended by representatives of all eight counties involved. Special guests were several county sheriffs, the Polk county auditor and District Judge Paul A. Lundgren.

Possibility of enlarging the area was discussed by those in attendance but no definite action was taken. Next meeting will be held January 5 at Mahnomen. Counties currently involved in the study necessitated by closing of the Polk county jail at Crookston to out-of-county prisoners include Pennington, Mahnomen, Roseau, Red Lake, Polk, Kittson, Norman and Marshall.

Kratka Youth Wins in Horticulture

Kay Koglin Named County Champion in Gardening

This year's 4-H champion horticulturist in Pennington county is Kay Koglin, 16-year-old member of the Kratka 4-H club. Club Agent Paul Stelmaschuk announced that Kay was selected for the outstanding work he has done in gardening projects during the year.

In recognition of his horticultural achievements, Kay will receive the Minnesota State Horticultural society's county champion horticulturist certificate, as well as a year's membership in the society.

Kay has been in club work four years. During this time he has completed 16 projects. He has had three years of home yard improvement work, two in the garden project, four in fruit; three in conservation; and one year of junior leadership. His home yard and surroundings reflect the horticultural work he has helped carry out on the farm.

Kay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Koglin, who live in Kratka township.

Next Two Monday Editions of Times Due on Saturday

With publication day for next Monday's issue of the Times falling on Christmas Day, that issue will be printed instead late Saturday afternoon to give the staff of the paper an opportunity to celebrate the holiday. C. Christensen to Head Top of Nation Assn.

Elected Thursday to Succeed Carrico as Dairy Group Head

Clyde Christensen of rural Thief River Falls was elected president of the Top-of-the-Nation Dairy association at the annual meeting of the board of directors held Thursday noon at the Rex Cafe. He succeeds Martin Carrico of this city, who was named to the position of sale manager.

Other officers elected were Donald Craigmile, Hallock, vice president; Stuart McLeod, Thief River Falls, secretary; and Kenneth Onken, Thief River Falls, treasurer. Directors include Harry Nelson, Hallock; Donald Walker, Red Lake Falls; Erwin Vanek, East Grand Forks; Bud Magnusson, Roseau; E. C. Frederick, Crookston; and Dale Svendsgaard, Goodridge.

In keeping with previous high standards set for the Top-of-the-Nation dairy sale, sponsored annually by the association, the directors voted Thursday to permit a mixdmum of 35 head of cattle to be sold at the event in 1962. The restriction will continue to assure highest quality cattle offered for sale and serve as an incentive for dairymen to produce animals which are selected for the sale.

E. C. Frederick, dairy specialist at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston, was guest speaker at the annual board meeting. Also speaking was Marian Augustine, Holt, president of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association. The dairymen's group and Top-of-the-Nation board will meet later to discuss possibilities of a joint venture.

Roland Larson, executive secretary of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, told the board of the high regard in which the sale is held by Chamber of Commerce members. He noted that 1962 will be a year for a intensified agricultural program by the chamber and that the dairy sale fits nicely as a part of the chamber's fall agricultural program.

Next meeting of the board was scheduled for Northwest Dairy Day in June when a board session will be held at 11 a. m. in the meeting room of the Thief River Falls city auditorium.

Attorney Robert Wurst Is Authorized to Set up Non-profit Agency

Attorney Robert Wurst was instructed to proceed with formation of a non-profit organization for operation of the Pennington county fair when the public-appointed reorganizational committee met Wednesday afternoon at the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls.

Committee chairman Ray Oen was authorized to appoint an appraisal committee to make a private investigation of the value of fair grounds land and buildings to provide the committee with an estimated cost of purchasing the property from the present stock group. The committee will meet again when the appraisal has been completed.

No determination as to the cost of shares in the non-profit organization has been made since it has not been determined what amount of money will be needed to complete the purchase.

SPIRIT of Christmas was typified by the above Cub Scouts in Den 2 Friday when they shared their Christmas with needy youngsters. As a project of the den, rather than exchanging gifts, the cubs brought presents to the Women's club Christmas tree located at Elaine's in this city. The tree has been erected by the club to provide a place where toys or items of clothing may be left for needy children in the area. Cub scouts pictured in the above photo are Dennis Nabben, Michael Hamerlinck, Robert Hanson, Gary Himmerich, John Peterson, Tom Nepper and Danny Reich. Other den members who were unable to make the trip to the store were Mark Thrane, David Zutz and Brad Adolphson.

Linda Bartz-Joseph Klein Are United in Marriage

Altar vases and floor baskets of assorted colored mums provided the setting for the November 25 ceremony which united in marriage Miss Linda D. Bartz and Joseph G. Klein of this city. Father G. Robert Pryor officiated at the double ring ceremony in St. Bernard's Catholic church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Bartz of Bagley, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Theresa Klein of St. Paul.

The bride was gowned in a ballerina length white nylon lace over taffeta and net dress with a net insert in the front of the bouffant skirt. Long sleeves fell from the fitted bodice. Her silk illusion veil fell from a crown of lace and pearls and red roses and ivy in a cascade style made up her bridal bouquet. Pearl necklace and earrings, her gift from the groom, completed her attire.

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. Leo Klein of Webster, South Dakota, sister-in-law of the groom. She wore a magenta colored street length dress with full skirt, and three quarter length sleeves and carried a cascade style bouquet of pink roses and carnations. Her pearl earrings and necklace were a gift of the bride.

Leo Klein of Webster was his brothers best man. Both groom and attendant wore dark suits. The groom's gift from the bride was a set of cuff links and a tie bar identical to the groom's gift to the best man. Serving as usher was James Fisher of this city who wore a dark suit and white carnation boutonniere.

A noon dinner was held for the bridal party in the Terrace room of the Rex cafe in this city. A reception followed given by the bride's parents at 2:30 p. m. Art Stenberg Herd Leads County DHIA

His Cows Average 45 lb. Butterfat in November

Orville Peters, supervisor of the Pennington county Dairy Herd Improvement Association, lists the following herds as the top ten in the association for the month of November:

	Avg. Milk	Avg. B.F.
Art Stenberg	1222	45.0
Don Bruggeman	1130	40.5
Myron Carlson	1058	40.2
Martin Hanson	933	36.9
Wallace Reierson	937	36.4
Paul Morkassel	801	35.2
Lavern Johnson	807	34.0
John Burtness	868	32.9
Lloyd Nelson	805	32.8
Darrow Lundeen	918	32.6

The herd averages are affected by the number of dry cows in the herd. The amount of milk or butter fat produced is averaged out over all the cows, thus giving the farmer a record of the earning power of the herd for the month.

If too many dry cows are included in the herd, then the average for that month may be low even though the cows which are milking produce a lot of milk.

Local Producers Are Told That Stock Is Available

Availability of breeding stock through the Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing cooperatives was discussed by Joe Raine, Minnesota division manager, at a meeting of producers held Friday evening at the vocational agriculture rooms at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls.

In an attempt to up-grade the feeder hogs marketed through the cooperative, it is making high grade breeding stock available to producers. Interested persons may receive details by writing to Joe Raine, Minnesota division manager Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing Cooperative, Little Falls, Minn.

Raine noted at the meeting Friday that the cooperative marketed more pigs from Minnesota producers in 1961 than the entire association handled in 1960. An area meeting is planned for February when more statistical data on the operation of the cooperative will be provided.

25 Below Zero Is Recorded Friday

More Chilly Weather Is Forecast for This Week

Today's relatively mild temperatures offer some relief from cold which has been experienced the past week but it will be short-lived if predictions of weather to come hold true. Forecasts call for a cold wave to move into the area with readings 15 to 20 degrees below normal throughout this week.

Normal highs during the coming week are 15 to 20 degrees with normal lows of 5 to —5 degrees. Precipitation is expected to be light, occurring in the form of light snow. Light snow today will diminish tonight as skies clear and colder weather sets in for the area. Tonight's forecast calls for temperatures of -10 to -20 degrees.

After the mercury dived to the season's low of -25 degrees Friday, temperatures have been on an upward trend the past couple days. Readings for the past several days include 8 and -19 on Thursday, 13 and -25 Friday, 19 and 6 Saturday and 12 and 4 Sunday.

Grand Forks Rallies, Tips Prowler Sextet

Coach Sergio Gambucci's all-veteran Grand Forks high school Redskins hockey squad, the defending North Dakota state champions, were forced to rally for three goals in the third period to defeat coach Gene Sack's Prowlers, 3-1, in a game played on the Winter Sports Building ice sheet in Grand Forks on Friday night.

On Saturday night, Dec. 23, the East Grand Forks Little Green Wave team will meet the Prowlers in a Region Eight conference on the Arena rink here, with face-off time at 8:00 p. m.

On Tuesday evening, Dec. 19, coach Mike Hajostek's Red Lake Falls Eagles will play coach George Schleff's Prowler 'B' squad at the Arena, with the face-off slated for 7:30 p. m.

In Friday night's game at Grand Forks, which was the season-opener for the locals, the powerful Redskins with three veteran forward lines to skate against the Prowlers' two lines, broke through the strong goal-tending of Tom Teal for three goals in the third period to record a well-earned win.

Larry Poole, who turned in a fine all-round game, gave the Prowlers a 1 to 0 lead by scoring an unassisted tally at the 4:07 mark of the second period, and the locals held that advantage until the opening minute of the third period when Ken Walters scored for the Skins. Steve Ebert moved the Grand Forks club into the lead at the 7:21 mark; and sturdy Ken Mellem provided an insurance goal by scoring at the 11:14 mark.

Prowler 'B' Quint Takes Crookston and Newfolden

Trims Pirate 'B's Friday 63 to 47, and Newfolden Bows Saturday 46 to 37

The Prowler 'B' squad cagers, scoring a pair of victories this past week, boosted their season's record to four wins and no losses. Playing at Crookston on Friday night, coach Joe Mrkonich's club, after trailing by a 12-9 score at the end of the first period, erupted for 22 points in the second period, with Kenny Larson looping in four field goals, to take a 31-22 half-time lead. The Prowler B's added another 22-point effort in the fourth period to subdue the Pirate B's, 63-47.

On Saturday night, in a game played here, the Newfolden Nordics 'B' squad pushed the Prowler 'B' team until the final minutes of the game before losing, 46-37. Entering the fourth period, the locals held a 28-27 lead, as the Nordics, led by twins Terry and Jerry Strandquist, played the Prowler B's on near-even terms. In the fourth period, Larson, with three field goals and a free throw, and Mark Anderson, with two field goals and three free throws, and with Rick Jensen notching a field goal and free throw, pulled away to a nine-point win, 46-37.

Prowlers Drop Games to Pirates, Virginia

The Prowler varsity cagers, making desperate efforts to move into the win column, made a gallant try here Saturday night before dosing to a rangy Virginia team 49-44. On Friday night, playing the Crookston Pirates at Crookston in a district conference tilt, coach Jack Junker's club dropped a 56-44 decision to Al Droen's Pirates.

This week, on Friday night, the Prowlers will travel to Park Rapids for an inter-district game against coach Lowell Anderson's Park Rapids squad.

In Friday night's district game at Crookston, the Prowlers kept within range of the Pirates until the third period when coach Droen's club outpointed the locals, 18-6, to take a 45 to 29 lead. The Prowlers, after trailing by a 14-7 score at the end of the first period, pared the Pirates lead to five points, 27-22, at the intermission.

On Saturday night, on the local court, the Prowlers gave the rangy Virginia Blue Devils a tussle to the game-ending buzzer before coach Noel Olson's Iron Range team pulled out the win.

The Prowlers, trailing by 11 points, 40-29, entering the fourth period, put on a rally that carried the hustling locals to within three points of the visitors with 2:20 to go. Gary Kelly, scoring all of his 13 points in the second half, scored on a rebound with 2:20 to play, and the scoreboard showed that the Blue Devils held a 45-42 lead. Roger Alto, fouled by Kelly, converted on a one to pick up two points for Virginia with 1:57 to play.

Paul Klungness, moving into the lane, looped a jump shot into the east basket, and the margin was again three points. John Nelson, on a Wayne Bjerken foul, scored two points on a one-and-one bonus try. The Blue Devils with their captain and center Jim Urick playing a strong game around the offensive board, and winning high-point honors with 22 points, controlled the ball throughout the final minute of play to hold off the challenge of the Prowlers. Ulrick, a southpaw, proved very adept at maneuvering under the basket and driving for lay-ups.

Prowler Wrestlers Defeat Warren 27-19

Coach Al Shaff's Prowler wrestlers moved back into the win column on Wednesday night when, in a match held at Warren, the locals scored a 27-19 win over coach Dean Erickson's Warren Ponies.

The Prowlers will conclude their pre-holiday schedule this afternoon, Dec. 18, when they travel to Mahnomen for a dual match against the Indians. In a pair of matches against Mahnomen last year, the Indians defeated the Prowlers, 25-24 and 34-14.

Scoring pins for coach Shaff's squad in Wednesday matches were Donovan Berggren in the 103-lb. class; Joe Taylor in the 145-lb. class; and Leland Pietron in the 165-lb. class.

The victory proved costly to the Prowlers for, in the 175-lb. class, Roger Miller suffered a chest injury that will sideline the blond grappler for several weeks.

In a preliminary match, coach Dale Folger's Prowler 'B' squad defeated the Ponies' 'B' squad.

The summaries:

95-lb.—Roy DeLorme (TRF) decisioned Allen Schoenacker (W), 7-1.

103-lb.—Don Berggren (TRF) pinned Mark Olson (W), 0:15.

To the Nationals

Jackie Poole, an all-state tournament selection at center-ice on the Prowler champions of 1956, and later a member of the Green Bay Bob Cats, is with the U. S. Nationals hockey squad.

Jackie, who is in the army and had been stationed at Fort Bragg, was called to West Point last week to join the U. S. National when the squad began their practice sessions. This week the squad, continuing to hold tryout drills, will move to Boston to continue the conditioning drills.

We hope that Jack makes the team, and the chances that the play-making center will be selected to the squad are quite bright. Former Prowler hockey stars who have played with the U. S. Nationals teams in past years are Bob Baker, an all-state tournament choice in 1945, who played with the Nationals in 1948; Marv Jorde; an all-state tournament selection in 1954, who played with the Nationals in last season's world amateur tournament.

Any Takers?

The Art Langseth-Bob Craik duo have a valid claim to the Elks Club whist-playing championship. In a challenge match held last week, the pair turned back the threat of Bud Schuster and Cotton Langevin, winning two games to zero.

It was the manner in which the Langseth-Craik combination turned in their victories that proved the pair's championship caliber. In the first game, playing a "show no mercy" style, the Langseth-Craik pair scored a 13-to-0 win. And in the second game, with the score deadlocked at 12-all, Art and Bob handed a "set" to the "granding" Langevin to win the game and the match. Any more challengers?

A Plucky Youngster

Few of the basketball fans who were in the high school gymnasium here Saturday night, and who watched the interesting Prowler 'B' vs. Newfolden 'B' squad contest were aware of the trials and tribulations that had faced Newfolden's Jerry Strandquist.

Jerry, who was the handsome well-built younster wearing Nordics' number 43, has overcome physical ailments and has revealed remarkable courage. Several years ago, Jerry had a kidney removed. And last year, following a physical check-up that revealed an extremely low blood count, Jerry was forced to undergo major surgery for a bowel obstruction. And a biopsy indicated that there was a malignancy present. He was sent to the Mayo Clinic and subjected to a series of cobalt shots, and the checkups that he has received since indicate that the malignant condition has been arrested.

His play against the Prowler 'B's on Saturday night, and he played the entire game, was of top-flight caliber, for he scored 13 points, and was sturdy rebounder.

Jerry is a twin, and his brother Terry also played in Saturday night's game. The boys are the sons of the Erv Strandquist's, and in their grade school days they were residents of this city. The Nordics have gained a couple of talented athletes, and with two more years of varsity competition for Jerry and Terry (the boys play football, basketball, and track) the Nordic fortunes should be on the up-grade.

Toasts 'n Tidings BY Your Minnesota Hostess

When 66 nationally-selected young homemakers met this Autumn at the Fifth National Congress on Better Living, guess which beverage they recommended for family entertaining? Beer! These ladies, representatives from 50 states, aired their views on spirits at a roundtable discussion on food—and most of them gave their vote to beer.

Santa and Beer

More gifts decorate many Christmas trees because of the brewing industry, which last year bought over half a billion dollars' worth of power, machinery, equipment and supplies, and nearly four million acres of grain . . . paid over $470 million in wages, and over a billion dollars in state and federal taxes.

Christmas Coffee-Bread

This beer-and-spice treat might be your gift to a neighbor:
¼ lb. soft butter
1 cup light brown sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted flour
½ tsp. baking soda
¾ tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. ea: allspice, cinnamon and powdered cloves
¾ cup each: chopped dates and walnuts
1 cup beer

Cream together butter and sugar. Add egg; beat 'til fluffy. Place dates and nuts in separate bowl. Combine dry ingredients and sift over them. Add beer, alternately with egg mixture. Blend well. Pack into buttered 8 x 4 x 3 loaf pan. Bake 30 minutes (or 'til it tests "done") in 375-degree oven. Frost if you wish; trim for the season . . . Consumers Becoming More Sophisticated

Today's consumers are becoming more and more sophisticated.

But it's also true they need a greater store of knowledge about judging products and must be smarter shoppers than ever before to get their money's worth, according to Mrs. Edna Jordahl, extension home management specialist at the University of Minnesota.

"Because incomes are rising, consumers have money to spend for both services and quality products. They are using more services in the areas of medical care, personal care and recreation, Mrs. Jordahl says. In foods, they are demanding more of the built-in services which make food pan-ready.

Self-service supermarkets are making a wide range of knowledge about quality in food, clothing and other products increasingly important for the consumer, Mrs. Jordahl points out. In clothing and textiles, shoppers must know, for example, about characteristics of blends to get satisfaction from what they select. They must have some knowledge also about imported materials from various countries.

Although modern consumers are in a position to demand higher quality because of ability to pay, they are at the same time becoming more price conscious. They read labels more carefully, to be sure they are getting good buys. They are concerned about deceptive packaging or deceptive pricing between regular-sized and are catching on to the fact that a new package around the same old product is not necessarily an improvement.

Consumers are also becoming more aware that a so-called instant or convenience label on a product does not necessarily mean that at all. They are convinced that some of the convenience items are actually inconvenient because of the long periods required for thawing frozen foods and in some instances for cooking.

Rural Art Show Is Slated in St. Paul

Over 200 State Artists Will Exhibit Their Work

Oil paintings, water colors and sculpture by more than 200 men and women from Minnesota farms and small towns will be on exhibit when the University of Minnesota's eleventh Rural Art Show opens in the St. Paul Campus Student Center Jan. 8.

During the last 10 years, 622 individual artists have exhibited more than 2,000 paintings and pieces of sculpture, according to A. Russell Barton, Rural Art Show chairman.

The show will continue for two weeks—through Friday, Jan. 19. A highlight of the event will be a special program of gallery tours, lectures and painting criticism planned as a feature of the University's Farm and Home Week, Jan. 16-19.

The Rural Art Gallery in the Sudent Center will be open to the public without charge from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m., Jan. 8-19, except Sunday, Jan. 14, when the hours will be 2-10 p. m.

First of the gallery tours, scheduled for 2 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 16, will be conducted by Theron Hegg, University instructor in art education. Richard Abell, University instructor in related art, will be in charge of the final gallery tour and painting cristicism session Friday, Jan. 19, at 10 a. m.

Communiy Fund at Crookston Is Well Below Quota

The Crookston Community Fund will apparently fall about $7,000 short of the 1962 goal, it was disclosed at a meeting of the board of directors held Thursday evening. Dr. Robert Siman, president of the fund, said $19,050 in collections and pledges was received when the formal drive ended. He said there is still a chance the total will increase with some returns not yet received.

E. LaCoursiere Is New Brooks Mayor

Name Is Drawn after Tie Vote with A. Parenteau

Emory LaCoursiere became the new mayor of Brooks by the flip of a coin, reports the Oklee Herald.

The unusual procedure became necessary because of a tie between two-term incumbents Aurel Parenteau and LaCoursiere, each of whom polled 36 votes in the village election Dec. 5. Decision by lot is legal procedure in the event of a tie.

The Brooks canvassing board got together Thursday for a recount. The tie remained. Parenteau called heads for the coin flip, tails came up and LaCoursiere was declared elected.

It was a brisk election in which 74 voted. There are 75 potential voters in the village. The one person who failed to vote might have broken the tie, unless he might have written in the name of a third party.

Although it was ostensibly a "non-partisan" election, Mayor Parenteau said that the fact that he is chairman of the Republican party in the ninth district "might have influenced some Democrats".

Plan to Observe National Library Week Next April

"Libraries Need You" has been selected as the basic theme for Minnesota's observance of National Library Week, April 8-14 according to Otto W. Quale, Owatonna, state chairman.

"We hope to establish a three point program within the framework of this slogan and carry out a plan for action throughout 1962," Quale said. "Our triple goal will be to encourage young people to become professional librarians, acquaint business firms and individuals with the opportunities offered through contributions to libraries in the form of grants and endowments, and publicize the library services available to people thruout the state."

'U' Economists Advise Record of Cow Output

Two extension economists at the University of Minnesota today offered six words of advice to the farmer who wants to increase his income by enlarging his dairy herd: "Think twice before you do it."

James App and Duane Erickson and Extension Dairyman Ralph Wayne say it makes more sense to increase production per cow and milk fewer of them.

The economists bolster their argument with these figures: A cow producing 200 pounds of butterfat per year just about covers her expenses and replacement leaving her owner nothing for his labor.

A 400-pound producer will return $200 for labor, twice as much as her 300-pound herdmate.

App, Erickson and Wayne say that a diaryman needs production records on his herd to provide a sound basis for annlyzing his present income situation.

From his records he can decide whether to expand his herd or increase production per cow within his available resources of land, labor, capital, buildings, equipment and feed supplies.

Average production of all dairy herd improvement association cows in Minnesota during 1960 was 405 pounds; average for all cows in the state was 281 pounds of fat.

President Kennedy is being urged to take the offensive against the right wing extremists. Well, we have no objection to that, but why take out after the "right wing" extremists exclusively? How about including some of the "left wing" extremists who certainly are at least equally dangerous?

The extreme right wingers don't scare us nearly as much as do the extreme left wingers. Their general objective is to restore and preserve the American way of life. We are moving in the direction of a welfare state, and under our republican form of government those who do not like this trend have a right to speak against it.

Among our extreme left wingers there are those who openly advocate a different form of government. They of course are recognized by nearly all of us as bad citizens, and government agencies are seeking to keep them under control. The extreme left wingers we are concerned about are, in general, well intentioned, and are dangerous mainly because they do not understand that what they advocate is dangerous. Most of them classify as do-gooders who devote most of their time to thinking up new ways of spending borrowed dollars.

As a group they have no understanding of the importance of keeping our country solvent, and those who jeopardize our national economy by their financial irresponsibility are more dangerous than some of the extreme right wingers who at worst would be merely impediments to progress.

Is Bigness Necessarily Bad?

There is much opposition to proposals for railroad mergers, and that is understandable. Unfortunately, not enough consideration is given to the alternative of consolidation. Bigness may be the answer to survival as a private operation, and the alternative to private operation is public ownership.

Canada has two large transportation systems, one of them privately owned, and the other owned by the federal government. The Canadian National is a costly operation from the standpoint of the taxpayers, but this may be due in part to the fact that this railroad serves many remote areas in the vast, sparsely settled and underdeveloped regions. The Canadian Pacific is owned by a giant corporation that operates in all fields of trasportation.

The CPR has curtailed some services and consolidated others, but it is going forward, reorganizing its system to meet the needs of changing conditions. A recent issue of the Trainman News tells of a "Merchandise Service" that the company is rapidly extending from west to east, and that will coordinate its various services with emphasis on fast delivery. The Trainman News reports:

> "New merchandise terminals were recently opened at Calgary and Edmonton marking eastward extension of Canadian Pacific's "Merchandise Services."
> "Canadian Pacific goals in the MS program are:
> "To bring about complete integration of rail LCL, express and truck operations in the handlnig of less-carload and package freight.
> "To provdie the best possible service at maximum efficiency and minimidm cost" through coordination under a single administration of all available tools of transportation—rail, road, air and water.
> "Merchandise Services was initiated on a limited scale on Vancouver Island in Aughst, 1958; extended to Vancouver city the following October, and into the interior of British Columbia between then and May, 1960.
> "The new facilities at Calgary and Edmonton bring the service into Alberta under a program which eventually will take it across the entire CPR system, as far east as Nova Scotia."

Maybe we could learn a few things about transportation from our Canadian neighbors. They recognize the need for transportation in all of its forms. They permit a transportation giant to coordinate all forms of these services into an efficient system. Our railroads are limited in their operations by regulations that were imposed upon them a half-a century ago, when they monopolized the overland transportation field.

Maybe the greatest need of our railroads is freedom to do the things that should be done, to provide our nation with a strong, efficient, versatile transportation service.

The Road to Health

The American merchant marine is said to be in peril. William B. Rand, president of the United States lines, thinks it is "shameful" that 70 per cent of American commerce is shipped in foreign-flag vessels.

We agree that it is shameful—shameful that we have permitted our economy to get so far out of balance that we no longer are able to compete for our own trade. Fifteen American shipping companies receive federal subsidies to offset the difference between high shipbuilding and operating costs in this country, and the lower costs prevailing abroad. If it were not for this subsidy there probably would be no freighters flying the Amercian flag.

Mr. Rand thinks the answer to this problem is more subsidies. We do not agree with him. Our economy is sick now mainly because of subsidies.

The plight of our merchant marine is interesting at this time because it serves as an illustration of some of the adjustments we must make, and some of the problems we must solve, as we take our place in a common market. Becoming competitive again is going to be a little painful here and here, but that way is the road to health.

Fewer Farm Tenants

It is encouraging to know that more farmers than ever before own their own farms, and this is a trend that deserves more publicity than it has received. We do not hear as much now as we did a few years ago about corporation farming — a few large land owners putting the family farm out of business. The family farm is still the important unit in our agricultural economy. The family farm is much larger than it was a few decades ago, but with mechanization that is inevitable.

According to Federal Reserve Bank figures the number of farmers has been decreasing, and this decrease has been mostly among the renters. A big share of the farms that are being sold are being bought by neighbors who are increasing their holdings rather than to speculators or investors. What's wrong with this?

Interesting Opinions

BY MARY LINDON

THERE ALWAYS HAS BEEN AND ALWAYS WILL BE the individuals who are completely satisfied with the status quo—the persons with the live-and-let-live policy which indicates that what's done is done and the future will take care of itself as it comes. This might be the average attitude of most persons in this day and age on an individual family basis.

While it is probably true that this procedure has been followed with some success, there is much to be said for the value of a little advance planning. More advance planning, that is, than knowing three months in advance when fishing season opens or beginning in July to make arrangements for a deer hunting trip.

And when we go so far as to think of business places or organizations such as religious bodies, planning for the future is a very necessary part of the operation. It is fairly safe to say that most businesses and church groups in this city have given at least some study to their present operations and situations with an eye to future betterment and expansion or adjustment.

Although our city itself is faced with major projects nearly every year, the only concrete thoughts for the future are the imminent plans taken into consideration when the budget for the coming year is adopted. Beyond the 12-month period nobody seems to know where we are going next.

Jobs, Inc., an outgrowth of the Chamber of Commerce, has adopted a resolution recently calling for the appointment of a city planning commission by the city council. The request will be officially presented to the council by the group when the new council takes office after January 1. The group making the request recognizes the need for advance planning so that statistical material is available when industrial and civic projects appear.

It would seem from here that a planning commission is a good idea. It could be a clearing house for community information and a heavy factor in the procuring of federal aid on projects which could qualify. One of the federal stipulations in making funds available is that a planning commission is operating in the community. It should be the wish of all persons interested in a more vitalized community that the incoming council will give immediate consideration to organizing such a group.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING ARMOR

I do not fear the Christmas crowd
While shopping with my kids.
They are protectively endowed.
In fact, it never did
Occur to me they might get lost
Or trampled in a store
By shoppers matching need and cost
While pushing to the fore.

My kids are able well to fare
Without parental aid
Where crowds press in without care
And youngsters are afraid.
My children need no custody;
There is no cause for fright.
The reason simply is, you see,
The little rascals bite.

NOVEMBER AUTO SALES SET RECORD

Good News from Dodge!
Prices on all DODGE DART models are lower than last year

More new cars were sold this November than in any other November in automotive history. Industry sales are booming at a record rate.

Before you buy any new car, check your dependable Dodge Dealer. Check the new size Dodge Dart, actually priced up to $71 less than last year's comparable model.

COMPARE DART'S NEW LOW PRICE

Comparisons, below, are based on manufacturers' suggested retail price of six cylinder 2-door sedans. Only white-wall tires, wheel covers, other optional equipment, state and local taxes (if any) and destination charges extra.

FORD FAIRLANE	$2079
MERCURY METEOR	$2203
THE NEW SIZE DODGE DART	$2241
CHEVY BISCAYNE	$2324 Price includes heater
FORD GALAXIE	$2378

The 1962 Dart is a totally new kind of Dodge automobile. Two feet shorter than America's largest car. Two feet longer than the smallest. Dart is sized right in the middle of the big and little.

You get maneuverability without sacrifice of comfort or room. You get both gasoline economy and outstanding performance.

The Dart standard six cylinder engine is the most powerful in the business. Its standard V8 develops more horsepower and torque than anything near its price.

Dart is comfortable. (Chair-high seats.) It is extremely easy to handle and park. (New low-friction steering gear.) And like every Dodge before it, completely dependable. The body is rustproofed. The brakes adjust themselves. You can go 32,000 miles between grease jobs.

The 1962 Dodge Dart is now, without question, the best buy on the market. See it. Drive it today.

Christmas Mishaps

As many of you have or will be putting up your Christmas trees here are a few points to remember in prevention of an accident. Be sure to place the tree in water and replenish each day. Use tree lights that are good in condition and are securely fastened. If small children are around, use tree ornaments that are unbreakable so if the child does get ahold of them they don't cut the child. A NEVER is don't use matches or lighted candles near the tree. When leaving the house and going to bed unplug the lights.

Holiday Baking

Many mothers are busy doing the holiday baking. When the children return home from school they smell the aroma of the Christmas cookies. At the homemakers Christmas lesson many homemakers brought food and from this a book of all the recipes were combined into a recipe book. Anyone who did not receive the book can stop by the office and pick up one for there are a few left.

One of the recipes you will find in there is:

Meringue Drops

4 egg whites
1 cup sugar
¾ cup chopped dates
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup flakes coconut
1 tsp vanilla
½ tsp salt
1 cup graham cracker crumbs.

Beat egg whites stiff. Add sugar gradually. Fold in the rest of the ingredients and drop by teaspoon on oiled sheet. Bake 350 degrees until light brown.

Steamed puddings are traditional holiday fare in many homes. Many of these puddings are made from treasured recipes handed down through several generations.

If you have never made a steamed pudding, why not surprise your family with one? Your pudding can be steamed in almost any type of greased container. But no matter what type of container you use, allow room for expansion of the pudding during the steaming process, by filling the containers only partially.

Also remember to cover the pudding mold. If you don't have covers to fit your molds, heavy-duty aluminum foil will do. Cut the foil big enough so you can press it closed around the side of the container.

If you make your puddings in advance and freeze them, be sure to reheat them at serving time for that warm, fragrant, spicy flavor.

To add zest to the pudding you'll want to serve a sauce on it. Make the traditional hard sauce or try Sterling Sauce. Make the latter by creaming one-third cup butter and adding 2 tablespoons cream. Add 1 cup brown sugar gradually, creaming it well. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla.

from

Governor
Elmer L. Andersen

A State Christmas tree

Early this year the new Governor decided there should be a Christmas tree—a tall beautiful tree—a community tree for the whole state—out in front of the Capitol.

Ever since, conservation department people have been on the watchout for the right tree. Mr. and Mrs. Seldon Banks, a young farm couple up in Aitkin County, heard about it and offered a big spruce from their wood lot, as a gift to the people of the state.

It proved to be just the tree—71 feet tall, beautifully proportioned, and with a trunk rising straight to the sky.

With a great deal of effort it was removed from the woods, hauled to St. Paul, erected in front of the Capitol and trimmed with 2100 white lights.

Friday afternoon, December 8, we had the tree lighting program. The chorus of the highway department sang, I spoke briefly, the lights went on, and then we all sang Christmas carols.

Everyone enjoys the tree. It is truly beautiful sight. We hope a new tradition, a Capitol Christmas Tree, has been established.

It is lighted from 5 to 10 o'clock every evening, we do hope you will bring your family to see it.

Tax Policy in the Constitution

James H. Manahan is a young lawyer who writes a weekly column for his hometown paper, the Madella Times-Messenger. He devoted a recent column to "The Taconite Problem". In commenting on the DFL opposition he had this to say:

The D. F. L. has gone on record as opposing the amendment. They don't claim any desire to tax taconite producers more, but they simply say they don't like to write tax policy into the state constitution.

"But that argument is fallacious. First, it would not be 'tax policy,' but an already existing constitutional requirement. And even if this were not so, the constitution is already filled with tax policy anyway. Art. 9, Sec. 1A, which requires that iron miners be taxed, is tax policy, and was added to our state constitution by the amendment of November 7, 1922. Tax policy was written into the constitution when the section was slightly changed by the amendment of November 6, 1956. We have continually changed the basic tax policy section (Art. 9, Sec. 1) by constitutional amendments in 1860, 1869, 1881, 1894, 1896, 1906, and 1934. The Minnesota Constitutional Commission of 1947-48, which made a thorough and unbiased study of the constitution, recommended that it be amended so as to require a two-thirds vote for any legislation changing rates or methods of taconite ore taxation.

"It is apparent that the people of Minnesota have often used the constitution as their means of stating what the tax law should be. It is appropriate to do so again in regard to the taconite problem."

Once again, I would add, at least the people should have a chance to vote on this important matter that polls indicate two-thirds of the people support.

CHAMBER L.I.F.E.

Living-Industry-Farming-Education

By Rolly Larson
Manager Chamber of Commerce

L. I. F. E., signifying Living, Industry, Farming and Education, has once again been adopted as the theme for our Chamber program of work for 1962. It is quite appropriate, for the board of directors realizes that these are the four general areas of need for promotion and preservation here in our community.

Another thing that was adopted this year was a motto for our Chamber of Commerce, that being: "To Build and To Serve the Thief River Falls Area." It pretty well sums up our job, I think. In fact, it pretty well sums up the job of every citizen here in Northwestern Minnesota. Certainly if we are to benefit as individuals from our economy and environment, then we, as individuals, must do what we can to improve our situation as much as we can. In other words, each of us should maintain a community spirit, we should meet what is a day-to-day challenge, for community development is a never-ending process. Thief River Falls needs to cultivate itself through its citizenry constantly if it intends to realize some of the things it is dreaming of.

The very word "industry," for instance, to many local people means "business which employs much labor and capital." This is most certainly an honest definition of the word, however if you check your dictionary you will find that "industry" also means 'steady attention or diligence in any employment.' It means being 'on the ball,' so to speak, and sticking to your guns in a down-to-earth sensible manner.

The Chamber of Commerce gets raked over constantly by many of our local, so-called 'do-gooders.' We are acused of many, many things and usually these criticisms are uttered with a tone of malice. Most of these bolsterous 'cannoneers,' however, have never joined the Chamber of Commerce, financially or in any other manner, and therefore, I dare say that they know very little of which they speak.

So I say, if we really want to make this town grow, then let's get on the ball, let's get industrious let's try not to be naive or stupid. When each one of us has an opportunity to be a good citizen of this Thief River area, let's do it. I think we'll get better results. "To Build and To Serve the TRF Area" is a challenge so let's meet it.

Finishing your Christmas shopping before the dealine is a challenge too. It won't seem too bad though if you Shop and Trade Where Bargains Are Made. In the Heart of Northwest Minnesota, Thief River Falls.

Home Agent Gives Advice on Dieting

Miss Laura Duerst Offers Tips on Low-calorie Foods

It's not necessary to sacrifice wholesome meals for the entire family just because one member of the family is trying to lose weight, according to Laura Duerst, Pennington county home agent.

In fact, many foods on the menu may remain the same for dieting as well as non-dieting family members.

Meals for a person requiring 3,000 calories and for someone else needing only 1,200 calories may differ only in amount of fat, in the size of portions and in such extra foods as dessert. Moreover, since practical and proper dieting does not include skipping any meal, the family may enjoy all their meals together.

Practical dieting, according to Miss Duerst, involves choosing lower calorie foods, avoiding added fats, fried foods, sweets, pastries and cakes. Select foods that furnish desirable nutrients — vitamins, minerals and protein — and not calories alone.

Weight-watchers should choose foods from the milk, meat, fruit-vegetable and bread-cereal food groups. Within these four groups, make choices to suit your personal tastes, to correspond with foods in season, to fit the family budget. And of course count calories in selecting foods.

Plan meals around foods that give you and your family satisfaction. If you try to lose weight on unusual foods and food combinations, dieting may become discouraging and lead you right back to the old food habits that resulted in the original weight gain.

For calorie charts and further suggestions on weight control, get a copy of Food and Your Weight, a U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletin, from the county extension office.

Nurses Reminded to Renew License

Currently licensed Minnesota registered nurses and licensed practical nurses who intent to practice in Minnesota next year are reminded to renew their licenses prior to January 1, 1962, if they have not already done so. The 1962 renewal fee of $2.00 and renewal application are to be sent to the Minnesota Board of Nursing, 700 Minnesota Building, St. Paul 1, Minnesota. A late penalty fee of $1.00 in addition to the renewal fee will be charged for such renewals postmarked after December 31, 1961.

Requests for placement in the non-practicing status may be made instead of renewal of license by those currently licensed nurses who do not intend to practice in Minnesota at any time in 1962.

1961 Heart Fund Gifts Hit $526,000

State Campaign Chairman Offers Detailed Reports

The annual report of the Minnesota Heart association shows contributions totaling $526,000, it was announced today by Harry G. Cummings, 1961 state campaign chairman, in conjunction with the issuance of the report.

Cummings said that although there had been an increase in contributions from the general public to the 1961 drive, the amount raised from all sources was slightly below last year's total. He attributed this to a decrease in sums received from United Appeal firms and unfavorable economic conditions which prevailed early this year, affecting many other health and community appeals as well as the heart drive.

The Annual Report highlights the service, research, education and campaign activities of the Association, as well as emphasizing several other of its programs. More concise than previous reports, it invites "write-ins" from all parties interested in more detailed information on any phase of association organization. Also available upon request are copies of the annual audit, prepared by the independent CPA firm of Broeker & Hendrickson, which attests to the sound business procedures and financial responsibility adhered to by the association.

Council Acts on End-of-year Items Tuesday

Puts Off Action on Some Matters until 1962 Council Meets

Members of the city council wrapped up official business for 1961 at the regular meeting in the municipal courtroom Tuesday evening and tabled several matters for action by the incoming council. An adjourned meeting was set for January 2 at 8 p. m. and the new aldermen will take their oaths of office at a short organizational session at the conclusion of the adjourned meeting.

Among items tabled for action by the new council were a proposal for workmen's compensation insurance from Employers Mutual of Wausau, report and recommendations from the Fire Underwriters Inspection Bureau, invitation to city officers from the University of Minnesota Center for Continuation Study, and 1962 salary requests from city employees.

Considerable discussion was held on city liability for maintenance and repair of water main service following a break in a service connection on Duluth av. N. last week. The ordinance dealing with this matter was reviewed and it was noted that property owners are responsible for repair of their own service connections. For pipe laid after January 1, 1955, the ordinance applies to pipe extending from the property owner's water meter to the curb line. For pipe laid prior to that date, the property holder's liability extends from the meter to the city main itself.

Authorized for payment by resolution were bills from D. H. Stewart in the amount of $587.08 for the final engineering on watermain replacement and J. W. Craig company for first estimate on seal coating of residential streets in the amount of $11,618.95. A bill in the amount of $141.59 for a soil survey for street improvements by the state of Minnesota was held over to the adjourned meeting for clarification by the city engineer.

Approval was also given by the council for payment of half the cost of the skating rink erected at the Northrop school playground. Half of the rink cost is to be paid

'Lucky Four' Name of TRF 4-H Club

30 Attend Meeting of New City Group Monday Night

Lucky Four was the name selected for the newly organized 4-H club in Thief River Falls at a special meeting held Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the municipal auditorium. About 30 members, leaders and parents attended the meeting.

Victoria Kotaska, member of the new club, presented the first demonstration with a talk and illustration of proper methods to sew on a button. She is enrolled in the beginner's clothing project. It was the first 4-H demonstration which many of the club members have seen as well as the first demonstration given by a club member.

Bill Svendsgaard, International Farm Youth Exchange student to Switzerland, spoke and showed slides on his recent trip to that country. Christmas carols were sung by the group as part of the evening's program.

Some work was accomplished on planning the schedule of activities for the coming year and a special committee meeting was set for December 27 to complete planning of the yearbook. Next regular meeting of the club will be held January 8 with Wayne Jarshaw and Robert Wold in charge of making arrangements for the program.

Redistricting Accomplished in Fast Order

Special Session Is Adjourned Tuesday with 3 Bills Enacted

Heeding the injunction of Governor Elmer L. Andersen to make it short, Minnesota legislators, after opening their special session Monday morning, adjourned late Tuesday afternoon when the House passed the congressional redistricting bill by a vote of 112 to 11 after it had been approved by the Senate Monday.

Redistricting was the primary purpose for calling the legislature into its second special session of 1961, and its approval was necessary to avoid requiring Minnesota congressmen to run at large for the eight posts to be filled in the 1962 elections.

The bill, as enacted, reduces the number of congressmen from nine to eight. Under the new arrangement, the Ninth district, of which Pennington county is a part, will become the seventh district, and will be enlarged by the addition of Hubbard, Cass, Crow Wing, Wadena, Todd, Douglas, Grant and Pope counties.

Twenty minutes after passage of the redistricting bill the house passed, 121 to 1, a measure clarifying and liberalizing the language of the 1961 state income tax witholding law.

Earlier Tuesday the senate passed a nearly identical tax bill.

As soon as the slightly revived house version had been approved, the senate wasted no time accepting it and closing up shop.

Gov. Andersen addressed each chamber a few minutes before the lawmakers went home for Christmas.

"I want to thank you for the expeditious way you have handled three matters of very great importance to the people of our state," Andersen told the senate. "I'd say this was a considerable accomplishment for two days of deliberation. I have never been prouder of the state senate of Minnesota."

Tuesday morning the house unanimously approved a bill changing Minnesota law to conform with federal law so the state won't lose $568,000 in federal aid to the blind next year.

The senate acted on the same bill Monday. Because the measure wasn't amended by the house, it, too, was ready for the governor's signature.

Soo Line Now Offers 'Piggyback' Service in Thief River Falls

Piggyback service is now available in the Thief River Falls area, Vern Erickson, Soo Line general agent, told the Times this week. A ramp for the loading and unloading of truck trailers has been built south of Eighth St. and north of the freight house, he stated, this being the third installation of this kind built by the Soo Line in Minnesota.

Other Soo Line points now having Piggyback service are the Twin Cities and Duluth in Minnesota; Devils Lake, Minot and Bismarck in North Dakota; Neenah, Steven Point, Marshfield, Chippewa Falls, Superior, Barron and Oshkosh, Wisconsin, and Chicago, Illinois. The service is not limited to on-the-line station and Thief River Falls will become a part of a growing system which already reached into all parts of the country.

This service will permit the railroad to compete with truckers at their rate level, Mr. Erickson stated, eliminating two handling operations in moving freight from off-the-line shippers to off-the-line destinations. The Soo Line has contracted with the O'Hara Fuel & Transfer CO., of this city to move the trailers from the flat cars and complete the delivery of the shipment, and will reload the trailers for outbound shipments. Soo Line employees will do the hooking and unhooking of the trailers. Heated and refrigerated trailers are available.

Piggyback provides great flexibility for railroad transportation both in the moving of freight and in the delivery arrangements at both ends. Mr. Erickson has received a copy of a recent traffic department brochure explaining the five general plans under which the company can make the service available.

Patrol Officer Nabs Fake General in D.L.

The alertness of an off-duty Minnesota highway patrol officer resulted in the apprehension of a Chicago man wanted by the F. B. I. for interstate transportation of a stolen car and for impersonating an army officer.

Officer Tracy Granger, stationed at Detroit Lakes, recently attended a military banquet in that city where he was introduced to a man who was in the uniform of a brigadier general. Granger, a member of the Combat Support Company, 136th Infantry, Minnesota National Guard, became suspicious of the "general" because of improper insignia and the lack of decorations usually worn on the dress uniform.

Taking the license number of the "general's" car, he checked thru the highway patrol to learn that the 1961 Cadillac bearing Illinois plates had been listed as stolen by the Chicago police department. In company with a local police officer he met the man as he was leaving his hotel. When the impersonator was unable to produce evidence of ownership of the car, he was held on suspicion of auto theft until full information was secured.

He had left Chicago in October in the Cadillac which he had rented from the Hertz Company. From there he blazed a trail thru 12 states cashing checks on a Chicago bank where he had no funds and by using credit cards. He purchased the army uniform in Texas and passed himself off as a reservist called back to duty at Cape Canaveral. He had served time in a federal institution for impersonating an officer and at present was on probation to a federal officer in Chicago.

Frank Purness, 40, of Chicago, is back in the custody of the F. B. I., charged with violations of the Dyer act for repeated acts of transporting a stolen car interstate, with impersonating an officer, and with an unknown number of check charges pending. All through the thoroughness of a Minnesota highway patrol officer whose duties normally are confined to traffic.

Crookston Judge Loses in Recount

John Kelly Defeated by Joseph Noah by 67 Votes

Incumbent Municipal Judge John R. Kelly of Crookston was unseated by write-in candidate Joseph T. Noah by 67 votes as a result of a recount of votes cast in the Nov. 7 general election in the city's eight wards.

Final tabulation of the results of the recount conducted by three inspectors Monday, indicated ten votes were taken from Kelly and an additional 57 given to Noah.

Election returns as approved by the city council, acting as official canvassing board, had given the election to Kelly by a 29-vote margin.

Both Kelly and Noah agreed to stand by results of the recount and agreed the accuracy of the count was the only issue to be raised in a stipulation filed in District Court before the recount.

The recount was instigated by Robert F. Floodeen, manager of Noah's write-in candidacy. Floodeen asked for the recount alleging that a number of ballots had been erroneously rejected.

Noah defeated Kelly by 1,089 to 1,051, according to the inspectors report.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Today homes across the world are filled with the Christmas spirit. The little children are trying out the new toys Santa Claus, St. Nicholas or whatever this jolly old man is called in their country, left for them. May it be a toy horse, pair of shinny skates or just a warm meal they are thoroughly enjoying whatever it is.

What would Christmas be without a Santa Claus? That genial character who is Christmas to so many children all over the world has come into being through several centuries of tradition.

St. Nicholas, of which Santa Claus is an American name seems to have been started in Holland as the patron Saint of Christmas.

The legend that Santa comes down the chimney comes from the Norsemen. A goddess, Hertha, who appeared in their fireplaces, brought to them good fortune. This also brought forth the Yule log burning. This log was burnt in honor of the god Thor. This custom was well established in England where a great ceremony accompanied the Yule Log as it is brought in.

The giving of gifts is reminiscent of the Wise Men who took gifts to the Christ Child. Because of the birth of Christ we have a Christmas so as we sit down to eat the Christmas dinner, let's take a minute from all the things Santa left for us last night and think of why there is a Christmas.

Merry Christmas to you ALL!!

Holiday Singles Tournament Set Friday, Saturday

TRF Bowling Association Members Are Eligible to Compete at Family Bowl

Members of the Thief River Falls Bowling association are eligible to compete in a holiday singles tournament to be held Friday and Saturday at Family Bowl, according to Carl Onkka, owner of the local bowling facility. Tournament shifts will run on the hour at seven, eight, nine and 10 p. m. both nights.

Entry fee for the tournament will be $3 per person with competition for both men and women. The entry fee includes the bowling cost for three lines which will be rolled across six alleys—one line of bowling on each pair of alleys.

A unique handicap system will be used in the tournament. Under the frame handicap system, the handicap will be figured after bowling is completed. According to average of the three lines bowled, bowlers will be given a certain number of pins for each empty frame.

For instance, a person who averages between 101 and 110 for the three games will be given nine pins for each empty frame (including splits) in the series. The "spot" is graduated one pin lower for each 10-pin difference in average. A bowler averaging between 151 and 160 would be given four pins for each empty frame and a bowler averaging between 181 and 190 would receive one pin for each empty frame.

Cash prizes will be offered in the tournament with an optional high game contest which may be entered. Placing in the high game division will be done on an actual pin basis.

Nordics Defeated Badger Quint 29-27

Newfolden Breaks Into Win Column First Time

The Newfolden Nordics broke into the win column for the first time in four games as they downed Badger, 29 to 27 on Friday, December 15, on the home floor. High point man for the evening was Glenn Stachnee of Badger with 10 points. The Nordics showed even scoring balance as Inman, Jerry and Terry Strandquist, and Verne Hagenbeck scored six points apiece.

An all sophomore team played the first half of the game as Kenny Carlson, Verne Hagenbeck, John Dill, Jerry and Terry Strandquist started. The first quarter was pretty much of a tossup as the Nordics came out with a 12 to 10 lead but in the second quarter they scored 8 points while holding Badger to 2 points to go to the dressing room with a 20 to 12 lead.

Badger fought back in the third quarter to go ahead as the Nordics could only pick up on field goal by Inman and a free throw by Carlson and the Rockets held a 24 to 23 third period lead. In the final quarter, Inman chipped in two field goals while Ron Shern and Hagenbeck each added a gift toss to bring the Nordics their 29 points while the defense held the Rockets to only three points.

Next action for the Nordics will be in the Christmas holiday tournament at Strandquist on January 4, when they will again meet the Lake Bronson Braves at 7:00 p. m. Both the victor and loser will play again on January 5th. The other two teams in the tournament are Karlstad and Strandquist.

Wolf and Lynx Are Bagged South of Old Mill Tuesday

Hunting south of the Old Mill State Park, about nine miles west of Newfolden, a group of Newfolden area hunters met with considerable success Tuesday afternoon. The take included a fair-sized brush wolf and a large Canada lynx.

Larson shot the wolf and Howard Peterson shot the lynx while hunting with a party which also included Glenn, Gene, Donald and Orlin Magner, Art Skadsem and Norman Peterson.

Practices to Help Wildlife Will Get Cost-sharing Aid

5 Practices Accepted for Pennington County, Robert Kloubec States

Pennington county farmers will be able to receive cost-sharing assistance to carry out specific wildlife practices in 1962, according to an announcement made by Robert Kloubec, work unit conservationist for the Pennington County Soil Conservation district.

Five practices have been accepted by the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service for administration under the ACP program in 1962. They include planting around stock water pits, cover plantings, food plantings, hedge row plantings and wetland development for wildlife.

The wetland development includes such items as shallow dugouts for waterfowl, water control structures, level ditching and aquatic weed control. Cost-share on this program is 50 per cent.

For specific information interested farmers may contact the work unit office of the soil conservation service in the Pennington county courthouse. The district will provide technical assistance in design and layout of practices.

The match concluded the pre-holiday schedule for the Prowler squad, and gave the local grapplers a season's mark of three wins, two losses, and a draw in six matches.

Following the Christmas holidays coach Shaff's squad will return to action on January 10, meeting the Crookston Aggies here.

James Lee Named Sportsmens's Club Head on Tuesday

Succeds Loren Borsheim; Arrangements Made for Annual Bean Feed Jan. 31

James Lee was elected president of the Pennington County Sportsmen's club to succeed Loren Borsheim at the annual meeting of the club held Tuesday evening in the basement meeting room of the municipal Auditorium.

Other officers elected include Vernon Scholin, vice president; Gay Warnecke, secretary; Douglas Remick, treasurer; and Orville Hanson, director for one year. Retiring officers in addition to Borsheim are Vern Lappegard and Hanson who served respectively as vice president and treasurer during 1961.

January 31 was set as the date of the annual membership bean feed which will be held in the auditorium basement with serving from 6:30 to 7 p. m. A full program is being arranged with recognition of charger members and past presidents of the organization planned for the event. Arrangements are also being made for musical selections and showing of movies and slides taken by local residents on hunting and fishing in Alaska, Canada, Montana and Wyoming.

Membership cards for 1962 will be available at the door and the bean feed will be provided free of charge to members with 1962 cards. Wives of club members and additional guests will be welcome at a cost of 50 cents per person for the meal and evening's entertainment.

Gay Warnecke, recently elected president of the Northwest Minnesota Federation of Conservation clubs, announced the appointment of James Lee as secretary of the organization at the Tuesday night meeting.

The Home Opener

Prowler hockey fans will get their first look at coach Gene Sack's 1961-62 club on the home ice on Saturday night when the locals meet coach Ed Thomlinson's Little Green Wave from East Grand Forks.

The game, which will face-off at 8:00 p. m., is a Region Eight conference tilt.

The Prowlers lifted the lid off their 1961-62 schedule last Friday night when they played the Grand Forks Redskins at Grand Forks and, after turning in a creditable opening-game performance, dropped a 3 to 1 decision to the defending North Dakota state champions.

And speaking of state champions, the Grand Forks Redskins played the Roseau Rams, the defending Minnesota state champions, at Roseau last Saturday night. The game, which could have carried the billing as being for the unofficial high school championship of the upper Midwest, was won by coach Oscar Almquist's Roseau team, 2-0.

But to get back to Saturday night's home opener here. The local fans will see a pretty fair Prowler team in action, and it's a team that will improve as the season progresses.

In center Larry Poole the Prowlers have perhaps the finest all-round player in Region Eight hockey. Larry, whose work on offense is readily apparent, probably is more valuable to the club for his fore-checking ability. He is a good one.

And coach Sack will show the fans his all-sophomore line with Don Mathieu centering for right-wing Wayne Loeffler and left-wing Elroy Frolland. Mathieu, you will recall, was sidelined last season because of a knee ailment. Old-time hockey fans should note the resemblance of Don's style of play and skating with that of one of Crookston's all-time greats, Jimmy Medved.

Bowling Tournament

Carl Onkka is promoting a single bowling tournament at the Family Bowl lanes here tonight (Thursday) and Friday. The tournament, which is a re-entry affair, is open to all men and women who are members of the local bowling association.

The tournament is to be on a handicap basis, with the handicap being arranged on a "frame" basis. Entry fee, which includes the bowling, will be $3 for each bowler. The bowlers will roll three games on six alleys, and the tournament shifts will be at 7:00, 8:00, 9:00 and 10:00 p. m., on Thursday and Friday.

The scouting reports received here indicate that Stan Cockrell, who is working hard to perfect his finger-tip delivery, will finish "in the money".

The Old Timers vs. the Thieves

There should be plenty of entertainment at the Arena on Sunday afternoon when, at 2:00 p. m., the "Old Timers" (and there will be some youngsters in that lineup) meet the Thieves in an exhibition game.

Paul Bedard intends to suit up for the game and take a turn on defense for the "Old Timers", and you can be sure that Paul will pair up with Archie Schneider, the Prowlers all-state defenseman of a couple of seasons ago. Archie is now a star defenseman for the Rochester Mustangs of the United States league.

And effort is being made to persuade Mouse Efteland to play with the Old Timers, but Mouse is being plenty coy and hard to persuade. The popular Mouse may agree to referee, though.

Coach Dick Brooks' Northrop squad, getting a four-goal performance from Jerry Casavan, defeated the St. Bernard's Broncos, 6-0. And coach Gayle Halvorson's Washington team, with a fast and smooth-skating line in Tom Stromberg, Dick Holmes, and Arlan Overbye, rolled up an 8-0 win over the Knox Tigers.

Saturday's schedule will have St. Bernard's meeting Washington in the first game, and Northrop playing Knox in the second game.

Grade school practice sessions are being held on the Northrop and Knox rinks on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays. RLF Sextet Defeated by Prowler 'B's 3-0

Coach George Schlieff's Prowler hockey 'B' squad opened its 1961-62 schedule on Tuesday night by scoring a 3-0 win over coach Mike Hajostek's Red Lake Falls Eagles varsity in a game played on the Arena rink here.

The next outing for coach Schlieff's club will be against the Crookston Pirates' 'B' squad at 6:30 p. m. on Tuesday, Dec. 26.

In Tuesday night's opener, the locals gained a 1-0 lead early in the first period when John Weigelt, after intercepting a Red Lake Falls pass, skated in on goalie Jim Perrault to drive the puck into the north goal.

After a scoreless second period, the Prowlers tallied a pair in the third stanza for their 3-0 win. Young Bobby Stordahl, picking up a clearing pass, beat Perrault at the 1:22 mark; and at the 6:22 mark, Weigelt, on an assist from Paul Peterson, scored from close in. Weigelt just missed on his "hat trick" or three-goal try when, late in the game, he broke in for a goal-mouth shot, but Perrault made a brilliant save on the shot.

Protect Children in Christmas Holidays Season, Patrol Urges

"Minnesotans must take stern measures to keep year-end holidays safe for children. The loss of such priceless possessions turn joyous festivities into nightmares."

So warned the safety division of the Minnesota highway department as it urged parents to make a special effort to see that children survive the holiday family excursions on our highways.

"Traffic mishaps killed more than 4,600 youngsters, 14 years of age and under, in the nation last year. Seventy-eight such children died in Minnesota traffic alone during 1960, and it is believed that one out of two children born today in our state will be killed or injured in a traffic accident during their lifetime.

"These needless accidents do not happen only because a forgetful child wanders into the path of a thoughtless motorist. A great many occur because a parent has neglected to teach a child the correct and safe manner of being a passenger in an automobile."

"A child prancing around uncontrolled in a moving car can crack his head against a seat back or dashboard, harrass and distract drivers, and possibly go sailing out headfirst into a ditch with the sudden opening of a car door. Seventy-nine persons fell from moving cars in this state last year, and 13 of that number suffered fatal injuries.

"Parents who want to keep the family together throughout the holidays must discipline the children, who fill the backseat. Teach them to ride quietly, without playing with door handles, or any toys that are meant for noisy or vigorous play. Small children belong in the lap of an adult, and a safety belt belongs around the waist of older children who should be kept in the rear seats.

"And, remember always that you, the driver, are the captain of the 'ship' and any 'mutiny' could be fatal for the entire family. Have control of your car and you'll have children around throughout the holidays."

Social Security Payees Must File Income Estimate

If you are under the age of 72, receiving social security payments and still working, the estimate of your yearly earnings which you gave to your social security office at the beginning of 1961 or when you filed your benefit application will be used as a guide by the Social Security Administration in determining how much will be withheld, it was announced today by the Grand Forks social security office.

If your estimate was too low, an overpayment of social security benefits will result and you will be faced with a refund request at the end of the year unless you promptly file a revised estimate with your social security office.

Bond Purchases Rise in November

Pennington Co. Attains 115 Pct. of 1961 Quota

"November purchases of savings bonds in Minnesota were $649,000 or 11.2 per cent higher than last year," J. M. Roche, volunteer savings bonds chairman for Pennington county reported today. This brings the 1961 total to $70,479,000, which is $1,497,000 above the same 11 months of 1960 and is the highest total in 5 years.

"We are gratified over this quick response to our recent request for increased purchases of Series E and H Savings Bonds as in the enormous task of building up our national defensive strength" Roche said. "We are in hopes that widespread use of savings bonds as Christmas presents will bring the December purchases to a record high."

Purchases of Savings Bonds in Pennington county totaled $27,233, bringing the year to date purchases to $289,320, or 115.1 per cent of the county goal for 1961.

The five counties leading in the state in quota attainment are: Roseau, 151.7 per cent; Hubbard, 125.1; Beltrami, 120.6; Kanabec, 115.3; and Pennington, 115.1.

Fred Sorenson and James Muzzy Attended Recent Parley at 'U' Institute

Fred Sorensen, agricultural coordinator for the Thief River Falls area vocational school, and James Muzzy, rural Thief River Falls diaryman, attended the Governor's conference on agriculture and country life held recently at the student center of the Institute of Agriculture in St. Paul.

Gov. Elmer L. Andersen was present to outline the purpose of the program at the opening session. Other speakers during the morning were Frederick Deming, chairman of the research committee of the Upper Midwest Economic Study Council, "Minnesota's Industrial and Agricultural Resources"; George Donohue, associate professor and extension sociologist, "Minnesota's Human Resources"; and T. H. Fenske, associate dean of the Institute of Agriculture, "Agriculture's Problems and Potentials."

Afternoon conference work was devoted to workshops which discussed the changing rural family, development of industry in rural areas, changing problems of services to rural areas, field crops, production and marketing, specialty crops, meat animals, dairy products, poultry products, education, youth and career opportunities and financing agriculture. Sorenson served as a member of the panel which discussed financing of agriculture.

Five minute oral reports by workshop leaders were given on problems discussed and actions proposed when conferees reassembled in the North Star ballroom late in the afternoon. Approximately 200 interested persons from throughout the state attended the conference.

422 Marshall Co. Farms Are Signed in Wheat Program

$58,516 Has Been Paid to Participating Farmers up to the Present Time

As of December 1, 1961, 422 farms in Marshall county had been signed up to take part in the 1962 wheat stabilization program, Edward A. Johnson chairman, county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, announced today.

The signed applications call for the diversion of 6811.4 acres—about 28 per cent of the 23,958.4 program acres on the farms signed to date. (Program acres are the total of either the 1962 wheat acreage allotment before the mandatory 10-percent diversion or the highest acreage not in excess of 10 acres planted on the farm during the period 1959-61, depending on which option the producer elected to exercise.)

For the farms signed up, possible advance payments under provisions permitting about half of the payments to be made this fall during signup period come to about $87,112.25. Of this amount $58,516.83 in cashable sight drafts had been issued to participating farmers.

The 1962 Wheat stabilization program, which was approved in a referendum by producers in August, requires a mandatory reduction of 10 per cent from acreage allotments established on the acres. Provision is also made for voluntary reduction with special basis of the former minimum national allotment of 55 million up to an additional 30-percent provisions for small farms, permitting up to 10 acres reduction in line with the farm's wheat acreage history. Payments are made to producers who divert acreage under the program to an approved conserving use.

Producers who take part in the program will be able to market their production without marketing quota penalties. Price support at a national-average level of $2 per bushel will also be available to such producers.

Fargo Area Products Show Seeks Entries

Anyone with a small industry who wants to display their manufactured products is invited to participate in the fourth annual Area Products Show to be held again this year in the Civic Auditorium in Fargo. The dates for the show are February 8, 9, 10, 1962.

The Products Show will be sponsored by AID, Inc., and the Fargo Chamber of Commerce. Aid, Inc. was organized by the Northern States Power company, Otter Tail Power company and Minnkota Power cooperative to promote and encourage the development and settlement of new industry in the Red River Valley, according to Russell H. Slotten, chairman of the show.

Slotten said that over 300 area manufacturers have been invited to display their merchandise at this event and that if all of the invitations are accepted it will be one of the largest shows of its kind ever held in this area.

As in the past, display booths will be provided free of charge, and the event is open to the public. Slotten pointed out the booths will average eight by ten feet in size, and that a free company sign will be provided also. In the event more space is required, this may be had upon request if space is available.

Many smaller towns have excellent facilities for an industry, and these towns are invited to have a booth showing what the town has to offer these prospective industries.

All exhibitors will be treated on a "first come" basis, Slotten said. So, exhibitors who are interested in displaying their products are requested to get in touch with AREA PRODUCTS SHOW, Box 311, Fargo, N. D. or call Adams 5-4421, Fargo, N. D.

Christmas

"Numerous indeed are the hearts to which Christmas brings a brief season of happiness and enjoyment. How many families whose members have been dispersed and scattered far and wide—are then reunited, and meet once again in that happy state of companionship and good will, which is the source of such pure and unalloyed delight—.

"We write these words now, many miles distant from the spot at which, year after year, we met on that day, a merry and joyous circle. Many of the hearts that throbbed so gaily then, have ceased to beat; many of the looks that shone so brightly then, have ceased to glow; the hands we grasped, have grown cold; the eyes we sought, have hid their luster in the grave; and yet the old house, the room, the merry voices and smiling faces, the jest, the laugh, the most minute and trivial circumstance connected with those happy meetings, crowd upon our mind at each recurrence of the season, as if the last assemblage had been but yesterday.

"Happy, happy Christmas, that can win us back to the delusions of our childish days, recall to the old man the pleasures of his youth, and transport the traveler back to his own fireside and quiet home."

—Charles Dickens

The Future Brightens

The Farmers Union traditionally has advocated government controls and price supports for farm products. But at the recent convention of the organization's Grain Terminal Association one of the top officials urged a new look at the long range problems of agriculture, stating that farmers should put less reliance on control of production and more on selling what is produced.

"It is time to rethink our farm program with a long range view," he said.

"We must not be deluded that we can continue to be paid for cutting production—except as a temporary measure—in a world utterly devasted by hunger."

"We have to reconsider our policies in the light of our huge production potential," he added. "We can follow one of two courses: large farm production at prices that will sell or small production and withdrawal from the market."

The speaker, Dwayne Andreas, executive vice president of GTA, who returned recently from a six-week survey of market possibilities in 12 European and Near East countries, predicted that the economic union of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg into the Common Market eventually will become a political federation which will be the most powerful nation on earth economically.

Referring to trade with Red China, he said:

"By prohibiting Americans to sell to China, we do not deprive China of anything. (They get commodities from West Germany, Switzerland, Great Britian, Canada, France and The Netherlands). We only deprive ourselves of a potential customer for several hundred millions of dollars worth of agricultural commodities each year.

"A case can be made for no business being done with China by any of the western nations, but no case can be made for everyone doing business except us. We must be competitive."

"I am sorry to say that these and a host of other self-defeating trade restrictions are making our great nation a laughing stock before the world of merchants."

That was the most sensible talk on the problems of agriculture, by one who speaks for agriculture, that has been made in many moons. It indicated strong support for President Kennedy's Common Market proposals, which the AFL-CIO have rejected.

Somehow the future now seems a little brighter.

Aid to Ghana

Approval of a $133 million loan to left-leaning Ghana, for a Volta river dam and an aluminum smelter, leaves us a little unenthusiastic. The state department had urged this action, arguing that this dam had become a symbol of United States interest in Africa. Apparently the President thinks the only way we can prove our interest in the development of other nations is to say it with dollars.

Senator Albert Gore of Tennesee, chairman of the Senate foreign relations subcommittee on African Affairs, had made a report to the President in which he opposed the grant. In this report he pointed out that the government of Ghana is "not only suppressing individual freedom but is oriented toward Communist Russia and Red China and the Communist way of doing business."

This grant in itself is not going to break us, but such handouts here at home and abroad, cannot continue indefinitely and leave our government solvent.

From the United Nations headquarters at New York comes more discouraging news. The organization is confronted with a $107 million deficit which is increasing at the rate of $17 million a month. A bond issue has been proposed and a delegate from Tunisia, who introduced the plan, said the present UN financial crisis calls for "courageous action" such as this.

No doubt Tunisia and many other countries will be glad to contribute courage but we suspect that it will be old Uncle Easy who will be stuck with the tab.

They Fight Protectionists

*(Financial Post, Toronto)

The only redeeming feature of the rising protectionist sentiment in the U. S. is the fact that thoughtful U. S. newspapers are taking a strong stand against it.

What currently has some leading U. S. papers stirred up is this. Despite White House opposition, the Ways and Mean Committee of the House of Representatives unanimously approved of a bill to raise tariffs on lead and zinc by very substantial amounts.

This is obviously going to hurt Canada, Australia, Peru and Mexico—all friends, allies and neighbors of the U. S.

Newspapers don't vote in Congress, but it is encouraging to see such voices as that of the New York Times raised against the move before it gets to the floor if the House.

Its comment:

"Passage of the bill would presumably further damage these friendly countries' economies, and it could hardly help make them wonder how much reality there is behind our protestations of friendship and freer trade. Could we blame these nations if they retaliated?

"What is particularly dismaying about the vote on this issue is that it took place in this current period when one would have thought Congressmen would be particularly sensitive to the need for strengthening our alliance abroad.

"Instead the dominating factor was clearly that people in the U. S. who have been—or even just merely think they have been—hurt by foreign competition have votes in our elections, while citizens of friendly foreign nations do not.

"That is short-sighted and dangerous basis for policymaking for a United States trying to survive in this increasingly perilous world."

This is public responsibility of a high order. It is to be hoped that the politicians measure up to their press.

Even the Birds Help

(Grand Rapids Herald)

Chimpanzees aren't the only non-humans flying in the service of health and mankind in general.

Specially-trained and equipped pigeons are performing an important medical courier duty in several areas in the East. Called Operation Coo, here's the way it works:

A physician needs a quick diagnosis of a body fluid sample taken from a patient on a house call at Alexandria, Va. He reaches into a black bag, pulls out a pigeon with a special one-ounce specimen holster on its back, loads the vial and releases the bird. It wings its way, high above traffic, to the roof of a medical center.

A diagnosis is swiftly made, and the information is telephoned to the doctor. Perhaps he wishes further confirmation and advice. The vial is transferred to another pigeon trained to fly 14 miles to another roost atop the George Washington university hospital in downtown Washington, D. C.

Birds cover the distance in less time than an auto, according to university officials. And the birds present comparatively few problems. Their needs are simple, they fly willingly and they have been dependable. The medical corps pigeons won't receive the emblems of the Astronauts, but they may mean the difference between life and death to many patients. It just proves again that man can find help almost anywhere he looks.

"Freeman says Government Must Cut Dairy Production," reads a headline in the Minneapolis Tribune. Well that sounds like our Orville. The government must do it. We have advocated production and marketing controls for the dairy industry, but we have been hopeful that these controls would be managed by the industry itself, somewhat along the lines advocated by John Brandt. If Freeman had his way, and all of the controls of the innumerable agricultural commodities of the country were centered in Washington, our agriculture would be in a mell of a hess.

Interesting Opinions

"One cannot spent five minutes in Europe without encountering the tremendous philosophical difference between Americans and Europeans on the subject of war. In our country, the enemy, the only enemy worth thinking about is communism. In Europe the great enemy is war itself."

—John Crosby in the New York Herald Tribune.

"Personally, I don't care if the United States gets the first man on the moon, if, while this is happening on a crash basis, we dawdle along here on our corner of the earth, nursing our prejudices, flouting our magnificent Constitution, ignoring, the central moral problem of our times, and appearing hypocrites to all the world."

—Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, President of the University of Notre Dame, on civil rights.

Last Sunday Marked 58th Anniversary of Wright Bros. Flight

By V. M. Draper

Most folks were too engrossed with the approaching holidays to pay any attention to the anniversary of a major breakthrough in science which passed last Sunday.

I refer, of course, to the 58th anniversary of the first powered flight of the Wright brother's airplane at Kitty Hawk Dec. 17, 1903. Their first flight was shorter than the wings on some of our super jet bombers but it was, nevertheless, man's first victory in the effort to conquer space.

By comparison with today's sleek aircraft the Wright Flyer was frail beyond imagination and probably wouldn't meet the rigid standards set by our ever more protective federal bureaucracy, in order to qualify for a license. But, fly it did, crude as it was. The Flyer was what is known as a canard-type — that is, the tail was in front and the two chain-driven propellers were in the back, as were the rudders.

It didn't have ailerons for banking in turns—the Wrights didn't anticipate this need so when they first attempted turns the use of rudders alone resulted in dangerous skids. Later they developed a system of wing-warping which worked to their satisfaction. Glenn Curtiss developed the first true ailerons on the trailing edges of his airplanes' wings, thus precipitating a lawsuit by the Wrights for patent infringement.

There is an old saying that "A prophet is without honor in his own country," and it certainly proved true in the Wright's case. While scant attention was given their world-shaking achievement in the U. S. (they were actually given shabby treatment by news media of the day) France and other European countries welcomed them with open arms. In the following years American aviators set many records—but not in their own country, heretofore considered brave, progressive and imaginative but seemingly afflicted with a monumental mental block around the turn of the century.

And so it was, on the eve of the first world war, that the U. S. A., home of the newly-invented airplane, was the farthest behind in development of aviation. France, Great Britain, Germany and Italy forged ahead. There wasn't an aircraft factory in the U. S. worthy of the name prior to 1915 or even years later. Thus, American pilots in that war fought in British, French or Italian machines — not one American-designed aircraft ever saw action in that war.

Why? More pertinent yet is the question why the public, in general, is still in the horse and buggy stage in a great many respects. Before the automobile was invented a young man's fondest dream was to have a fancy rig with a high-stepping, prancing horse ahead of it—and that was the end of it. After marriage came kids and the need of support for same so he went to work for someone else, and kept his nose to the old grindstone until he burned himself out. The fancy rig he used for marriage bait had to give way to shoe leather.

And, what are young men doing nowadays? The same thing—only the vehicles and the faces are different. A young man nowadays goes in hock for a shiny new car with which to impress people, notably some pretty young thing (and nowadays, I do mean young!).

To cut short a long discourse, they get married, have a bunch of kids, have the usual battle keeping their heads above water financially—and for transportation they patronize the used car lots. The grindstone is still turning, too, as the faceless millions burn themselves out on it, as always.

What's the difference from 1890 to 1960? None. People in 1890, 1903, 1961, all feel some strange inner compulsion to conform to the rigid mold set by society. Those who dare be different face actual persecution, as did the Wright family after the bishop's boys convinced people they really could fly. (Few people are aware this actually happened! Yes — according to a magazine article some months ago, public attitude toward the Wrights eventually led to the bishop's losing his church office and the whole family was looked upon with some distain.)

So, were Wilbur and Orville alive today, they probably would be considered just as much the crackpots now as they were in 1903. If you don't believe it, just try to do something that isn't accepted by the crowd and see what happens. You're supposed to conform, man—you MUST conform!

Alligators are credited with killing more humans than any other animal, other humans excepted, of course.

4-H Leadership to Be Session Topic

To Be Discussed at Farm & Home Week in St. Paul

Building confidence for leadership will be highlighted in a talk by Dorothy Emerson, National 4-H Foundation consultant and featured speaker at the 4-H club leadership program to be presented Tuesday, January 16, on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul Campus.

The leaders' program is a regular part of the University's annual Farm and Home Week. All 4-H club adult and junior leaders are invited to attend this and other sessions of Farm and Home Week which continues through Friday, January 19, reports County Home Agent Laura Duerst.

Tuesday's program for leaders begins at 9:30 a. m. in Green Hall Auditorium and continues through the afternoon. An evening session, also in Green Hall, will begin at 7:30.

Following a coffee hour and welcome by Leonard Harkness, state 4-H club leader, Osgood Magnuson and Stanley Meinen, assistant state 4-H club leaders, will review the land grant college system and explain how it serves the 4-H program.

Leaders working with youth will especially be interested in the noon convocation on Tuesday. Lee G. Burchinal, associate professor of family sociology at Iowa State University will speak on the impact of agricultural adjustment on rural youth. He will discuss among other things the lack of opportunity for boys who wish to remain on farms.

Leading off the afternoon program at 2 p. m. will be Bernard Beadle, assistant state 4-H club leader. He will discuss cultivating our best crop — boys and girls.

Miss Emerson will speak at 2:30 p. m. She will repeat her talk at the evening session so that leaders who are unable to attend during the day may have the chance to hear her.

Many Long Distance Yule Phone Calls Due

More people pick up the telephone to send cheery greetings to friends or family on Christmas than any other day in the whole year.

This Christmas more people than ever before will be doing it. The telephone company's mathematicians forecast that the volume of Christmas long distance calls will be 12 per cent greater than last year—and on these matters, the engineers and their slide rules are usually right.

"Christmas has always been a day full of special meaning for telephone people. "It gives everyone a lot of personal satisfaction to play a part in something that brings a measure of happiness to people," according to James Koller, manager of the Northwestern Bell Telephone office in Thief River Falls.

Although many long distance calls are now automatically handled by dial switching equipment, there will still be more operators at work than in other years, placing calls, switching calls and providing assistance of one kind or another to those calling their loved ones and friends.

"This year we have a calendar advantage from the telephone user's point of view," Koller said. "The Christmas holiday really begins Saturday. Therefore, calls can be made at holiday rates anytime between 6 p. m. Saturday and 4 a. m. Tuesday morning, December 26. That's a 50-hour period."

Koller said he hoped that many people will see fit to make their Christmas calls on Saturday night or Sunday. He said this would spread out the heavy calling load and would mean the best service with a minimum in delays.

One thing people might do to help get their calls through more quickly, whether they call on Christmas Day or earlier on the weekend—or anytime, for that matter—is to obtain the telephone number well ahead of time.

Langen Urges Early Action on Sugar Bill

Congressman Odin Langen Tuesday wrote Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and House Agriculture Chairman Harold Cooley, urging them to give early consideration to permanent sugar legislation when Congress reconvenes January 10th.

"I have said on many occasions that sugar legislation should have been considered during the last session," wrote Lange. "Now, with the June 30th deadline for the Sugar Act coming critically closer, it is imperative that an extended renewal of the Act be given early consideration." The Congressman said he asked that the renewal recognize the necessity of substantial expansion of the domestic beet quota.

Langen called on the secretary of agriculture to make an early recommendation and for the Agriculture committee Chairman to give it prompt consideration "so that action can proceed before the Congress finds itself caught up in the consideration of other problems such as reciprocal trade."

The Congressman from Minnesota's agriculutral Red River Valley said that producers would not only "lose valuable planning time, but also inestimable permanent benefits that could be overlooked if the Congress is pressed into last-minute consideration prior to the June 30th deadline."

Langen reminded Freeman and Cooley that he has a bill before Congress now that would benefit domestic growers. Langen said this bill could be passed quickly with the cooperation of the secretary and the committee.

Congressman Langen said that the opening days of the new session provide a great opportunity for real service to American Agriculture. "But," warned Langen, "that opportunity will diminish in direct proportion to the length of any further delays in the recommendation and enactment of permanent sugar legislation."
